

HIS PLEA DENIED, FRANK MAY MOVE FOR A REHEARING

Solicitor General Dorsey and Attorney General Grice Hold Long Conference Over Noted Case.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING, ASSERTS THE PRISONER

If Case Goes to Governor It Is Probable That Judge Harris Will Act Instead of Slaton.

For more than two hours Monday Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey and Attorney General W. C. Grice conferred in the former's office in the court house to determine the prosecution's move to combat a prospective effort of the Leo M. Frank counsel to apply for a new hearing before the supreme court in Washington following the court's refusal to interfere.

Although attorneys for the condemned man would not commit themselves upon the possibilities of a new stand in Frank's behalf it was rumored Monday afternoon that they would plead for a rehearing in the same tribunal which Monday morning turned down their plea for his freedom.

When questioned at the close of their conference neither Mr. Dorsey nor Mr. Grice would talk. They merely stated that they could take no action until thirty days hence at which time official notification would be due from the Washington court. In event a plea for rehearing is made the notification will be withheld and it will be weeks before the Fulton court is notified of the United States court action.

Plans for Pardon Plea In event Frank's counsel do not wish a rehearing the entire effort will be concentrated upon the prison commission and governor for either Frank's pardon or a commutation of his sentence. In this case no time will be lost in presenting the petition for commutation to the prison board. Work will be begun on this petition the moment Frank's attorneys decide upon their best step.

Frank revealed news of his latest defeat with characteristic stoicism. He refused however to make any comment, saying merely: "I am disappointed and that I will continue fighting. He was visited throughout the day by friends and relatives.

Solicitor Dorsey said when informed of the decision: "It was nothing more than could be expected. The same sentiment was expressed by Attorney General Grice.

Both Grice and Dorsey will fight vigorously the effort before the prison commission. In case this step is made in aid of a new fight before the prison commission the fate of Frank's case will in all probability reach the hands of the governor in June. As Governor Slaton when asked regarding the Frank case said: "I have had no official notice under it. The Frank case I still will not recognize until I am officially informed of it."

Frank still confident I am confident I will never hang. Truth and justice will eventually prevail so conscious of the right of my cause and proud as I am I have never faltered in spirit. I still have faith and hope for the future and event all I will be a free and exonerated man.

Frank loves another step Washington, April 19.—Leo M. Frank under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan in Atlanta factory suit lost another step in his fight for life in the supreme court of the United States today.

Accidentally Shot, Mrs. McCarthy Now Patient at Hospital

Well-Known Woman Injured at Her Residence Last Night While Examining Automatic Derringer

Mrs. Williams McCarthy, one of Atlanta's foremost women, president of the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, accidentally shot herself last night with an automatic derringer the bullet piercing her left side.

She was removed to a private ward in the Grady hospital where her husband, William McCarthy, cashier of the local agency of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, accompanied by Dr. Willis Westmoreland, immediately joined her. Dr. Westmoreland rendered the necessary surgical attention.

Mr. McCarthy, when seen at the hospital by a reporter for The Constitution said: "A night or two ago my wife heard a noise in a vacant house next door and she followed a pistol from a friend for protection. She was inspecting the pistol as it was an automatic and she slipped in her hands and it accidentally was discharged. She shot herself, her two young daughters were in the house. Mr. McCarthy was at his office downtown but arrived at the hospital before a private ambulance brought his wife there."

Mr. McCarthy's home is at 28 North Boulevard and many other neighbors rushed to the McCarthy home to aid in whatever way they might.

Although her condition is serious the attending physicians do not believe that the wound is a fatal one. Mrs. McCarthy's many friends will regret to hear of the accident. She has hundreds of friends in Atlanta and throughout the state. She has inaugurated competitive historical events in the public grammar and high schools. She has done much work at the Old Soldiers home. The program of the chapter meetings of the U. D. C. has been enhanced by bringing to Atlanta many prominent speakers from all parts of the country.

Mrs. McCarthy is an active member of the Eastern Star and is a past grand secretary of that order.

GERMANS ESCAPE UNITED STATES

Members of Crew of Interned Eitel Break Parole and Use False Passports to Get to Germany With Secret Reports.

London, April 20.—(11 a. m.)—Several members of the crew of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich have arrived here on board the steamer Hellig Olaf from New York. The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent says they were provided with false passports describing them as Swedish subjects. They are bearing secret reports to Germany from the Prinz Eitel's commander.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich is now in port at the Norfolk navy yard. The ship was taken from Newport, N. H., April 15. Under the internment order the captain of the cruiser gave his parole that neither he nor his officers nor crew would leave Norfolk.

STORY IS DENIED BY ADMIRAL BEATTY

Norfolk, Va., April 20.—Rear Admiral J. P. Beatty, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, today denied the report that officers of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich had reached Copenhagen with all aboard. He said no officer or crew member of the ship had left the ship here. He declared that the report that officers of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich had reached Copenhagen was a fabrication. He said he had received news from the Prinz Eitel Friedrich before he was taken to Copenhagen and he had wanted to see his shipmates. He said he had heard nothing more from him.

THE EYE IS A LAZY ANIMAL. It usually only sees the things that are thrust before it—seldom goes prowling about looking. That is one of the secrets of Constitution advertising. You get your story in the "eye range" of the people you want to reach.

ROOSEVELT DENIES PERSONAL MALICE AGAINST BARNES

For That Reason the Colonel's Attorneys Ask for Dismissal of Suit, But the Motion Is Refused

MIXED JURY SECURED TO TRY $50,000 SUIT

Seven Republicans, 3 Progressives and 2 Democrats. Testimony Begins Today. Roosevelt and Barnes Ignore Each Other

Street, N. Y., April 19.—The suit which will try William Barnes' $50,000 suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt was completed in supreme court here today. It comprises seven republicans, three progressives and two democrats. Twenty-two titles were examined before both sides announced they were satisfied with the twelve men in the box. The jury met here.

Henry Hoag, chief republican (former) lawyer, J. Mills, woodworker republican, Walter J. Zull, manager republican, Franklin S. Rhoades, farm progressive, Leonard K. Hunger, farm progressive, F. W. Pierce, carpenter republican, Warren H. Somers, grocer republican, Ray Tanner, farm hand democrat, John W. Brown, farmer republican, George Boscher, manufacturer progressive, Edward Burns, motorman republican, Peter Bencke, coal dealer democrat.

Justice Andrews warned the jury against reading even headlines in newspapers during the remainder of the trial and against discussing the case with friends.

When the jury was excused for the day, John D. Bowers, chief of Colonel Roosevelt's staff of attorneys, addressed Justice Andrews on a motion to dismiss the complaint. He explained the statement on which the suit is based and asserted that Colonel Roosevelt was prompted to make it by a desire to induce New York state voters to express at the polls their disapproval of the conduct of the trial and corruption which he believed existed.

Colonel Roosevelt merely had attacked the trial and the corruption which he believed existed. He said that no one would have questioned him, said Mr. Bowers. The statement on which the suit is based, he said, was based on knowledge which came to him when he was in New York. He said that he had the people of New York to know just what the situation was.

Testimony to Be Taken Today Actual taking of testimony will begin tomorrow. The first witnesses will be newspaper men to whom Colonel Roosevelt has written letters. Other reporters who have interviewed Colonel Roosevelt in the last five years also will be called and photographs of alleged libels against Colonel Roosevelt will be presented in evidence. It will be offered in an effort to prove publication of statements issued by Roosevelt.

Counsel for Mr. Barnes said tonight that they would make an effort to show that Colonel Roosevelt began to write during the Syracuse convention of 1910. Barnes' attorneys said further that some of the reporters would be called on to testify regarding verbal statements Colonel Roosevelt made to them in amplification of written statements he had prepared. After Mr. Barnes' attorneys have presented this evidence the defense will begin its case. As only two of the many witnesses summoned for the defense were in Syracuse tonight it was expected that Colonel Roosevelt's first witness would not be called before Wednesday.

Tag Day Will Help These Children

Group of the children of the Sheltering Arms kindergarten for whom Tag Day which will be held Thursday has been inaugurated.

The man who is seen without a tag on his coat (top) Thursday April 19, will not only have a heart of admiration but will be impervious to the advances of pretty girls for he will be accepted on every corner. The Sheltering Arms society will have the city covered from Buckhead to West End by these young ladies who will be holding tags for the one who will be holding the society over the afternoon of one Tag Day. We charge the children to get their step places at this time.

Each committee should have from four to six young ladies on duty all the time from early morning before eight o'clock until eight o'clock.

Love for Children Cause of Reunion Of Their Parents

Even Problem of Eternal Triangle Is Unable to Keep Apart Mother and Father of Two Little Ones

Because of the two little children the husband forgave the wife who had deserted him the old mother took back her crying daughter. The reunion was happy and complete. It all happened in the police court Monday afternoon and Recorder Johnson was the peace maker.

When the story had been told the eternal triangle which Judge Johnson said ought to be called the eternal triangle that existed at the time—trouble for several years that the only power to bring husband and wife together were two little children.

These two the two Mrs. Baker disappeared from Chicago's streets on her husband and two young children Saturday night she was found by her mother at 4 Ghall street where she claimed she was employed. Baldwin was there with her.

WOODWARD LOSES TWO HARD FIGHTS IN CITY COUNCIL

By Vote of 15 to 5 Mayor's Veto of South Pryor Street Paving Resolution Overridden on Monday.

PURCHASING AGENT ORDINANCE AMENDED

Charge Places Council Instead of Mayor in Control of Department—Johnson Charges Politics

The general council Monday night amended its heaviest guns on Mayor James G. Woodward. Councilman A. W. Parham, one of the mayor's staunchest supporters put up a strong defense, but could not stop the opposition.

After overriding the mayor's veto of the South Pryor street paving resolution by a vote of 15 to 5 council attacked the purchasing department one of the mayor's hobbies by passing an amendment to the ordinance creating the department which the mayor's friends say will virtually mean the death of the department.

Three Votes Are Lost This action was not unexpected after the persistent report Monday morning which city hall officials accept as true that there had been a trade between certain members of council and the second ward delegation. The mayor's supporters were confident of eight votes to sustain the veto but last night forsook them.

GERMANS DRIVEN WITH HEAVY LOSS BY BRITISH TROOPS

After Sanguinary Engagement the English Forces Capture and Consolidate a Dominating Hill in Belgium.

FRENCH STILL GAINING IN THE VOSGES DISTRICT

Petrograd Reports Minor Successes in the Carpathians, But All Accounts Agree That the Spring Thaw Is Seriously Interfering With Operations.

London, April 19.—Battles at isolated points in the west London and Paris report have brought defeat at several points for the Germans and have cost the German terrain. The allies also report having repulsed vicious German attacks and counter attacks.

South of Lillebeke in Belgium an important hill has been captured and consolidated by the British after a sanguinary engagement. Repeated German counter attacks failed and when the fighting ended hundreds of dead were left.

According to Paris a further advance in the Vosges by the French has been made on both banks of the Moselle river the Germans evacuating Eschbruck and abandoning large stores of war materials. A German counter attack at Les Eparges was repulsed an infantry engagement with no advantage to either side was fought in the Montargis woods and the French had the advantage of an artillery engagement in the region of Pagnelloville.

Petrograd continues to report minor successes in the Carpathians showing that the fighting has not been entirely suspended near the passes but the Russian Austrian and German official reports agree that the spring thaw virtually has put an end to all activity along the remainder of the eastern front.

HILL CAPTURED BY THE BRITISH

London, April 19.—The following of official statement was issued tonight at the war office: A successful action commencing on the evening of the 17th culminated last night in the capture and consolidation of an important point known as Hill 80 which lies about two miles south of Lillebeke to the east of Ypres. This hill dominates the country to the north and northwest.

Under the hill explosion of a mine killed and many Germans were killed by this and fifteen prisoners were captured including an officer.

At daybreak on the 18th the enemy delivered a heavy counter attack against this hill but were repulsed with a heavy loss. They advanced close formation and our machine gun battery got well into them.

Desperate efforts were made all day yesterday by the Germans to recover the hill but they were everywhere repulsed with great loss. In front of the captured position upon which we are now consolidated in strength hundreds of dead are lying.

of the finance committee and city comptroller. The amendment takes the action of the purchasing agent out of the hands of the mayor and comptroller and puts it before the general council.

The measure was signed by eleven members of council and six members of the aldermanic board insuring its passage by both bodies. The aldermanic board will pass the measure Thursday and will then go to the mayor for his signature.

Councilman Farlinger, a member of the purchasing department by reason of the fact that he is chairman of the finance committee, defended the department and declared it was an attack on the most important and efficient branch of the city government.

There is going to be a great awakening some day and the people will find out that they are not being represented and that they are not being treated as citizens.

and it is expected to be unanimously passed by the aldermanic board Thursday. Councilman J. M. Woods' amendment to the ordinance creating the streets and gas department was adopted and provided that the name will be changed to the board of public works.

Councilman Farlinger introduced a resolution providing for a complete change in the city's fire limits which provides an extension to take in the territory in every direction.

While in the aggregate a considerable area will be affected, there will be no extension more than a block or two in any single district.

Replying to the various criticisms of Atlanta business men who have lambasted Chief Beavers through the press the chief last night in an interview with a Constitution reporter said that such criticisms would be unheeded by him unless made to him by the complainants. If any one has a complaint to make against me for failing to do something or for something I have done, said Chief Beavers, he should make it to me and not to newspaper reporters. If advertising is all that is being sought by these men I will protect them in this respect by giving their complaints to newspaper men who visit my office. The chief further stated that these statements on his part referred to complaints made against anybody connected with the police department. This statement coming as it does on the eve of the first meeting of the police board probe committee which holds a public session tomorrow night when citizens are invited to enter whatever complaints they might have against the police shows that Chief Beavers is welcoming all just complaints.

MASON IS INDORSED IN ORDINARY'S RACE BY CITY COUNCILMEN

Every member of the general council Monday signed a petition giving his unqualified indorsement of Councilman Claude C. Mason of the tenth ward for the position of assistant ordinary of Fulton County on the ticket of Thomas H. Jeffries and called on the voters to support that ticket. In signing the paper members of the council stated that in endorsing Mr. Mason they also indorsed Mr. Jeffries and give their support to his ticket. In the event of the election of the lot, for which there will be a vacancy in council and a successor to Mr. Mason will be named for the tenth ward Tuesday morning tenth warders are already being boomed by friends of the ticket. They are George P. Dixon, formerly a member of the public board, and Professor A. T. Pearce, of Georgia Tech.

Colquitt Ga. April 19—(Special)—O. A. Wilkinson a farmer in the La Cella community, 15 miles northwest of this place, shot and killed W. C. Howell in a dispute over a cow. The shooting is said to have been caused by a dispute over a cow. Wilkinson is in jail.

FIVE MORE POLICEMEN APPLY FOR PENSIONS

Five more policemen will apply for pensions as well as already on the pension list. The five men who will present petitions to council for pensions are: W. H. Whiteley, Jeff Whitley, A. J. Zippert, R. A. Baker and W. A. D. B. Mason. The city police pension law requires that a policeman must have served twenty consecutive years on the force and he must be further retired before he can be pensioned. He can also be pensioned if he becomes disabled while in active service. The salary of a patrolman is $90 a month. If he has served four years a pension of half of that salary, which is $45 a month, is granted. If the five men now applying for pensions are eligible, the total of pensioned policemen will be 17. The cost to the city of police pensions will then have reached $9,150 a year.

A HAPPY BALD MAN

Well Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has New Growth of Hair Tells How He Did It

A western politician well known on account of his business and ready wit surprised his friends by appearing with a new growth of hair. Many of his old friends did not know him and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it he gave the following account. I attribute the remarkable growth of my hair to the use of the following simple recipe which an lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbos Compound and 1/2 oz. of chloric acid. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair but removes any dandruff, itching humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It dikes the scalp and feeds the hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store for very little cost and used at home.

M'DEVITT IS MISSING; FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

Police Are Now Investigating Disappearance of Railroad Man.

Since April 16 the disappearance of James A. McDevitt aged 35 a Southern railway employe of Asheville Tenn. has remained an mysterious as ever to the police of a score of cities and his family who have not been able to get the police and railroad men all over the country. Mrs. McDevitt who with her seven children lives on a Livingston street in Asheville believes that her husband has been drugged and robbed of his money as he was known to carry with him a large sum of money on the day of his disappearance. Mrs. McDevitt musters mechanics of the Southern railway, Louisville, Ky. in search for her brother-in-law, J. Dodd, who she says is now living at 27 Dodd Avenue, Atlanta, arrived here Monday. A sister, Mrs. L. M. Liddell of 100 Lovejoy street Atlanta, will leave tonight for Asheville to search for her brother-in-law. Mrs. McDevitt, a well known railroad man who are friends of the McDevitts, have visited the McDevitt home in Asheville and offered to aid in the search. The police have questioned all rail road conductors on trains leaving Asheville and although the missing man was well known to all of them, they have not been able to locate him. This investigation has strengthened the belief that McDevitt has met with foul play.

Disappointed in Love, Young Jesup Man Tries To Take His Own Life

Jesup Ga., April 19—(Special)—A young man named Tom Peek attempted to commit suicide this morning at Nesbitt, a little station five miles from Jesup, by shooting himself in the chest. When a statement was requested he would not give his reason but stated that he had made a mistake in not placing the pistol at his left side in order to hit his heart. Disappointment in love is said to have led to his rash act. Peek will be carried to Savannah this afternoon to the hospital. There is very little hope for his recovery.

ANGRY AT ARREST, NEGRESS BEATS UP FELLOW PRISONERS

Enraged because she had been locked up at the police station, Ida McDowell a negro woman proceeded Saturday night to vent her spleen on her fellow female prisoners by beating them over the head with the heel of her shoe. The woman was arraigned in the police court Monday afternoon on an original charge of disorderly conduct and fined $10. She was then taken to the workhouse where she was on and fined another $15. One of the victims of the infuriated woman was Nora Harris, who was so seriously injured on the back of the head that she had to be taken to the Grady hospital.

Another L. B. innovation—steel unit record desk.

Anticipating the demand for a unit record desk in steel—here it is!

Exactly like the Library Bureau unit record desk in wood. Same advantages, a combination of card file and desk, for use in keeping accounts, handling customers' lists, sales records, etc.

Same size, because experience proves this size to be most practical. Even the wood trays will fit in the new steel desk.

It's "strong as steel"—and has bronze trimmings and battleship linoleum top.

Most important, it is designed to give a clerk or the "bookkeeper", maximum efficiency. Every card within arm's reach—below the eye, right beneath the hand.

Come see it at the L. B. salesroom—find out how a unit record desk works.

TRADE LAW ANALYZED

Keen analysis and clear exposition of the recent act of congress under which the federal trade commission has just been appointed has brought merited commendation to Hollins Randolph a well known Atlanta attorney whose review of the law and definition of the commission's duties were recently published in The Constitution not only from leading business men in many sections of the country but from the commission itself

In a letter from Will H. Parry acting chairman of the commission addressed to Mr. Randolph Mr. Parry states that the review in question presents a discussion of this commission from a point of view in which it is especially interested, and further says The commission in particular desires to confirm the statements you make regarding the purpose of the commission to exercise its powers in a manner which shall promote and conserve the true business interests of the country by approaching the problems presented to it in a clean dispassionate spirit

Following its enactment Mr. Randolph made a careful and detailed study of the law not only as to its own terms but considering other laws as well as constitutional questions in connection with its application and the result was a digest which set forth clearly and precisely the duties of the commission and the point beyond which it was not authorized to go

With these duties defined Mr. Randolph showed that the benefits to be derived from the commission's activities would depend largely upon the attitude it bears toward the problems with which it has to deal, as well as toward the industries themselves Following Mr. Randolph's suggestion the commission itself through its acting chairman gives assurance of its determination to approach these problems in the calm dispassionate and constructive spirit which is essential to the attainment of the best and most far reaching results Mr. Randolph has rendered the commission constructive assistance at the outset, and its work will be watched here with the keenest interest as it builds for the greater industrial progress of the nation

The Constitution took occasion in its editorial of March 29 to say that the personnel of the commission and the circumstances surrounding its creation all point to Mr. Randolph's reassuring deductions, and it is gratifying to have this view of the matter now officially confirmed

FOR CIVIC BETTERMENT

In two projects of which the Ad Men's Club of Atlanta has taken hold this week, it has given splendid evidence of its determined activity for civic improvement. In inviting Mrs. R. M. Walker president of the Atlanta School Improvement Association, to speak at the annual conference (Sunday), the Ad Men have put themselves squarely behind the movement for public school betterment in a way that will prove most effective. Advocates always of a thorough school system, and confident of the necessity for substantial reforms, they seek to acquire first hand information as to school conditions from those who have made direct personal investigation. It was with this end in view that they invited Mrs. Walker to bring them this accurate information.

Quick to translate sentiment into action, there is no doubt that the efforts of the entire membership will be enlisted in the work of getting better and more efficient schools.

The support and influence of all of Atlanta's leading civic organizations are imperatively needed in this work, and it is certain that of the Atlanta Ad Men will prove most salutary and beneficial. Likewise in direct line with civic progress, the Ad Men are sponsoring for the Atlanta Anti Tuberculosis Association a free public stereopticon and moving picture lecture, dealing with the prevention of tuberculosis, to be given at the Grand opera house next Sunday evening. Arranged through the Ad Men this lecture is in direct line with the association's educational work in seeking to eliminate tuberculosis by teaching the people how to avoid it. As long as there is one person with tuberculosis, there is every danger of its spreading to others and only in complete and thorough instruction as to preventive measures and their adoption is there hope of its ultimate elimination.

In aligning themselves with such movements as these, the Atlanta Ad Men are doing important as well as effective work for civic betterment. They have not only been found ready at all times to pitch enthusiastically into every plan that spells progress, but they initiate and in taking the initiative they do it always constructively. In the Ad Men Atlanta possesses a strong organization that combines the ability and determination with a generous willingness to do whatever is asked of it for the city's advancement and uplift.

A writer whose touch was as true as the genius that informed his work of late in sight and breadth of view of truly high achievement in the newspaper ranks while he gave loyal service from earliest manhood—almost from youth winning yet shrinking from praise the death of Samuel Wagner Dibble, of the editorial staff of the Constitution is a loss to journalism. To his friends and associates on The Constitution who knew him only to love him his death comes as a deep personal grief for it is as if here too, family ties have been broken, there is a darkened desk a vacant chair but light shines from the shadow of the grief—the light of a loved personality and dear to the hearts of his friends are all remembrances of him. On the very threshold of broadening life when hope whispered sweet words and flame as he thought of it at all did not seem the phantom of a far journey in the midst of the joy of his work with all the future beckoning he went away. But he went brave even as he had lived his brow was to the light when the shadow fell and it was light the darkness could not dim. Great were his gifts and now the gift of Rest is his earlier than the thought to win it but perfect—supreme. Faithfully he lived faithful to the last he rests by the wayside where the toilers less fortunate than he with work so well and early done press on and leave him with the dreams.

SAMUEL W. DIBBLE

Some of the great men have a monopoly when it comes to admiration of their own workmanship. Songs of rest that win as from the way but the real rest is when the work's well done and we've won every step of the road. After a long rest at the big life circus we sometimes come to wonder why it held so long, and why the star performers liked to come up to expectations.

DREAMER AND BUILDER

What all men thought of the late Hopkinson Smith is finely voiced by The New York Sun. For Hopkinson Smith the art in words in his case is the builder of lighthouses of words and ideas. He is a true gentleman who was never content with a judgment of his few men and men, and he is a true gentleman who was never content with a judgment of his few men and men, and he is a true gentleman who was never content with a judgment of his few men and men.

The Russians are after the railroads, but there are no free passes in the Carpathians. It will require very little time for the few political optimists to complete a survey of what is left of the republican party.

The opinion of Dr. Elliot is that this is no time to pray for peace. It's still worth fighting for. It must make Villa and Carranza face to head of all those film men following Huerta about.

The consolation of the interwar is that there never was a better year in which to see America first. The spring clean up campaign under the supervision of the courts will be pretty thorough in Torre Haute. Though Irvin Cobb may be equal to the task of writing 10,000 words about a peanut, why should he do so when he isn't in politics?

In Kentucky a man was arrested for kicking a mule. Chance for a commission in lunacy. Cheer up. Even a dark spot has a place in the sun. There are men who really know how to run the country, but never never get a chance. Huerta might salute the flag, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

The Dream of Rest. (In Memory of a Friend Samuel W. Dibble)
A little of life and light
A little of dark and deep,
Then twilight bells with Life's facewells—
Silence and sleep
Who knows what may be best—
Sweet is life's dream of Rest

The spirit of the staff
Stilled in the later Peace—
No more of death in life—
Storm volca sleep
The flowers of Sleep are fair—
There is no thorn crown there

Of the sun, of tints
High thrilled of wounded breast
Still shines through all God's years—
The dream of Rest
Not small that life dream die
While God's love lights the sky

Deep eillets unto Deep
Hills to Plains
The hills are sunk to sleep—
Not small that life dream die
O Life still crowned and blest
Ood leads thy dream of Rest

EFFECTS OF THE WEATHER

OF Joy and Sorrow.

Of joy is with us joy stays not long
But if the after silence comes to sweetest
Joy is a restless thing with pinions fleet
Fit in a Place of Silence, Sorrow time is sweet

The fountain dries, we turn to the sea
But in the silence of all stars comes
A new cup of tears

THE PASSING AWAY OF A DAUGHTER OF THE SOUTH.

By Irma Deely.
The passing in Atlanta Sunday of Mrs. Sallie Addison Cobb Jackson has brought sorrow not only in the homes, where her children and grandchildren live, and her loving friends but into every home in the south where there has once been the spirit of a veteran who wore the gray. She was the daughter of the great general, Thomas R. Cobb whose family has richly endowed the south's making and her mother was Marion McHenry Lumpkin, the McHenry and the Lumpkins adorning the nation's history for many generations.

She was born in Athens Ga. in 1846, in an old colonial home which stands still as a monument to generations of great spirits who first saw the light of day in it. In her childhood days she played in the south rooms of the men who had made the south the best it was then, and who carried its story of courage and chivalry through the trials of the confederacy and still left great men and women to carry on its destinies.

Her girlhood days were in the same atmosphere and the angelic sweetness of her smile and the warm cheer of her voice blended with a marked beauty centered her in the heart of Athens and that city's hospitable life. Roses showered over her when as the bride of the knightly Harry Jackson she left the vine covered columns and beauty of her ancestral home and came to Atlanta to live in 1867.

The graces of hospitality which had come to her through the generations of civil experience back of her was expressed soon in her Atlanta home and the drawing room of the Jacksons became the organized center of Atlanta's first brilliant social life. Assembles there brought together distinguished men and women from all centers and no hostess ever knew better the art of entertaining.

The sunshine of nature that had drawn to love her the men and women of her native Athens brought the same to her in her Atlanta home. The first meetings of Atlanta's branch of the Colonial Dames of America were at Mrs. Jackson's and the first organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution was talked of by the representative men and women who met in her table. She generously participated in all the patriotic organizations which grew out of the confederacy and brought the force of her loyalty to the south and her love of Georgia and Georgia's people into every movement where public spirit called her. While fulfilling these obligations ably as she did, it was in her own home and through the influence of her personality extended from there that her most beautiful qualities were expressed. She was as loving as she was the inspiration of love and her life even to the moment of the passing was strong in its influence around her and a very benediction to her community.

When she goes back to her beloved Athens today—the Athens that showered her with her burial robes—the hills that go with her from here proclaim the purity and sweetness of the life message she left in the home of her adoption.

England's Desire to Rule the Waves Cause of War, Asserts Dr. Gerhard

In a speech filled with confidence in the ultimate success of the German arms in the conflict abroad, Dr. Gerhard, privy counselor to the colonial ministry of Germany, declared at the Atlanta theater last night that the United States could not escape being more materially affected by the outcome of the struggle than by any other complication which had entered international relations in many years.

An important indication of this result, said Dr. Gerhard, is to be found in the effect of the war upon the life of this country, even though it is far removed from the scene and is doing everything in its power to remain neutral. In the end he believed that the interests of the United States and of Germany would be found to be more akin than any connection with Great Britain.

In covering upon Belgium's position among the nations he declared that Germany had not violated any terms of guaranteed neutrality by sending troops upon Belgium's soil for that nation had deprived herself of such a privileged position when she secretly entered into an alliance with England in 1905. The substance of this agreement which had been disclosed by documents found by the Germans in Brussels was that in case of war in Europe England would immediately transport to Belgium 100,000 soldiers. Such an agreement was prejudicial to the interests of Germany, he said, and was sufficient to nullify the neutrality guarantee so far as Germany was concerned.

The German nation did not bear the United States toward Russia and France that she harbored in regard to England. And this in an English attitude did not arise until English statesmen grew jealous of the summer and winter of the United States that form out kingdom some twenty five years ago. It has always been the policy of England to rule the waves and be the dominant power.

In matters of mercantile marine. For this principle she defeated the Spanish and Dutch. She would squelch Germany for the same cause, and may be expected to fight the United States in the future. An indication of this was shown when England objected so persistently to the purchase by the United States of German merchant ships. She desires the profits of trade and these are best secured during conditions of peace. It is futile for the other nations to taunt us with militarism. The figures showing the numbers of inhabitants of Germany, England, France and Russia and the relative sizes of their standing armies, suddenly deny this charge. It is also to be noted that the cause who has been the predominant power in Europe since the world's first wars is now the only one who should suddenly wish to plunge a nation into war.

I do not expect the present war to end before next fall. Germany will not cease to fight until it has secured that European commerce may be distributed on a free basis. She will not give up her position of the United States in the international scheme of things until she has a power in the final adjustments of peace. She will not give up her position of the United States in the international scheme of things until she has a power in the final adjustments of peace.

Dr. Gerhard spoke before an enthusiastic audience that largely filled the Atlanta theater. When he read from a speech of C. I. Barkley, the statement that the Kaiser would have made as president of the United States as any person holding that position since Washington, there was prolonged applause. The choral organization of the Turn Verein sang a German song which highly pleased.

Dr. Gerhard's speech was well received by the Atlanta audience. He declared that the United States could not escape being more materially affected by the outcome of the struggle than by any other complication which had entered international relations in many years.

Diamonds Sold on Partial Payments

In our business most of our sales are made for cash and for that reason our prices are made on a cash basis. You know exactly how much the time accommodations will cost—no per cent simple interest on the amount left after deducting the one fifth cash payment. It would not be fair to sell the cash customer at the same price you would make a customer who wanted ten months time. You would not live such deception and live prefer trading with a house that tells you honestly that it can not do the impossible. We are fair in our dealings with cash customers as well as with credit customers and believe you will pronounce our methods straightforward and liberal. PLEA DENIED, FRANK MAY MOVE FOR A REHEARING

Frank May, who was convicted of murder in the state court, has moved for a writ of habeas corpus in the federal court. Justice Pitney delivered the opinion in the case, declaring that in all the proceedings in the state court, the defendant had the right and opportunity to be heard as to the facts and the law. The court held that the state court's decision was not a final judgment, and that the defendant was entitled to a new trial.

The court's decision was based on the fact that the state court had not given the defendant a fair trial. The court held that the state court's decision was not a final judgment, and that the defendant was entitled to a new trial. The court also held that the state court's decision was not a final judgment, and that the defendant was entitled to a new trial.

Let's Shout!

"The way folks are talking we must be getting back to good times," said Jack. "Certainly are," replied Bob. "Wasn't any real reason for this country getting the dumps, anyway."

"We have the soil, climate, raw material and ample manufacturing facilities," responded Jack. "Yes, and confidence is being restored fast," said Bob. "Going to be a big year, this."
