German army headquarters today gave out this report: "German sapping attacks in the Chateau area have been made with great progress, while a French attack in the Argonne, north of Le Four de Paris, resulted in failure. The Germans are using and the French yesterday witnessed isolated but spirited artillery exchanges. French attacks near Flirey broke down." Near Chateau-Châtel, the Germans entered the main position of the enemy to the west of Avrecourt and stormed and re-occupied the village of Dom.

In the Vosges a French attack on Schlechter Heights resulted in failure, while the German advance on Hartmannswillerkopf gained about 100 yards. On the eastern front the situation remains unchanged.

Petrograd, April 20.—(Via London.) The Russian war office today gave out the following: "A vigorous attack by the Germans on our positions east of Telepoch and Polon was repulsed by rifle fire and hand grenades. In the direction of Stary a hostile attack on the height near Oravozil was successful at the start, but toward evening our troops drove the Germans back to their occupied positions. Fighting continued. The captured prisoners, the number of whom is now being ascertained.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS READY FOR ITALY

Dual Monarchy Rushes Large Forces to Italian Frontier—Nevertheless, Peace Rumors Are Current in Rome.

Rome, April 20.—(Via Paris.)—Reports received here today from Austria say the dual monarchy is hurriedly gathering troops on the Italian frontier to face a possible invasion by the British, sent ashore from Egypt.

The British, sent ashore from Egypt, are reported to have lost 700 men in skirmishes with the Germans.

General Panzani says the announcement of lost 700 men, among them four companies captured by the British, is not true, but that the British have lost 13 men killed, fourteen wounded and twenty-two men wounded.

NO CHANGE.

SAYS VIENNA.

Vienna, April 20.—(Via London.) The official statement issued today by the Austrian war department said:

"There has been no change in the general situation. Along the entire front isolated artillery engagements have taken place."

FOR AUSTRIAN ACTION.

Paris, April 20.—Italy some time ago fixed April 20 (today) as the latest date for the conclusion of any armistice. Austria might wish to make, according to a report current in Rome, a dispatch from Figaro's correspondent, Baron de Macchio, the Austrian ambassador, already has given notice to embassy servants who now are paid daily, it is said, and the same is true of the payment of trade-men bills for goods supplied the embassy.

The Figaro's dispatch declares it is stated in Vatican circles that the visit to the pope a few days ago by Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, was to bid farewell to the pontiff, as the diplomat believes his departure from Rome is imminent.

RUMORS OF PEACE CURRENT IN ROME.

Rome, April 20.—Within the past 24 hours persistent reports have arisen in Rome that a general peace in Europe may be concluded at a not distant date.

These reports cannot at present be ascribed to a definite source, but they are repeated in high quarters and are generally believed by expert observers of international politics.

It is pointed out that Rome is an excellent field for the conduct of peace negotiations, as Prince von Buelow, one of the ablest of German diplomats, is in Rome as ambassador to Italy, while official relations between Italy and Germany, as well as between Italy and the Triple Entente are cordial.

In certain quarters here the idea prevails that the advent of spring has not seen such resumption of aggressive hostilities as had been promised, and that is regarded as significant.

Some is being regarded with much interest. Efforts are being made by representatives of the Belgian government to conclude a peace with Germany, the importance of which is recognized fully in Rome. Should Bulgaria side with the Teutonic allies it would be difficult for Humaita to make war on Austria-Hungary, for she would then be subject to attack by Bulgaria as well as by Turkish troops coming through Bulgarian territory.

In this connection, a prominent diplomat today said:

"Once more is the fate of the Balkans in the hands of Bulgaria. Indeed, this time her decision may have great weight on the general development of the whole war."

VENIZELOS GREETED AT ALEXANDRIA.

London, April 20.—An Alexandria dispatch to Reuters says King Constantine of Greece arrived there this morning, and was greeted at the quay by a wildly enthusiastic crowd. He was welcomed amidst cheering by King Fouad, the Sultan of Turkey, together with British and French officials.

No preliminary arrangement was made for the reception of the Greek

Commander Eric Robinson, who has been promoted to a commander by the admiral and a series of other officers and men with a view to their recognition."

EMORY UNIVERSITY GIVEN BIG BOOST

Methodist Stewards Join
Founders' Club and Elect
Officers for 1915—Bishop
Candler Optimistic.

It was announced at the annual meeting of the Atlanta Methodist Stewards' Association last evening that an Emory University Founders' club had been organized with 113 members for the purpose of assisting the chamber of commerce in raising the $500,000 pledged for the institution.

The 300 stewards present at the Wesley Seminary meeting were asked to give the club a hand and to get as many others to join as possible. The club will meet within the next two weeks for permanent organization and monthly thereafter it will meet at a luncheon to report progress.

When this announcement was made, Bishop Warren A. Candler said:

"Don't let me tell you how much we look too large. Already five new houses look subscribed $80,000 of that amount."

All the stewards present joined the club.

An address was made by Bishop Candler, who had left a sick bed rather than miss an opportunity to speak a word for Emory university.

After the meeting Dr. J. D. Candler, the dean of the Candler Theological seminary, made a talk.

The following officers for the season were elected for the ensuing year:

James L. Mayson, president; F. Wheeler Mangum, vice president; W. H. Bowers, secretary; and W. D. Bowers, treasurer, all of which was the only officer re-elected.

The meeting was presided over by President Robert Lee Avery.

Before the meeting was called to order, tea was served by a committee of ladies, for which they were given a vote of thanks.

Emory University, Bishop Candler said:

"Bishop Candler on the University.

"A great university should be established in the south, and is a second best to the north. The south is a world wide recognition. The south is a most fertile soil for an institution of learning, and it is only fitting that Methodism should be the nucleus that our church should have a great university in Georgia in the whole country." When this was said, Bishop Candler said he hasn't now a great university. Such an institution must be liberally endowed. One university in New York has a great endowment, and another in the south combined. The only hope for such an institution to which the south is entitled must come from the Methodist church.

Unless we establish such a university as we hope and believe Emory will be, we will continue to lose our great advantage in the south. We want better men of learning, we will get a lot of men who are not worth ten cents a million."

The Bishop's Talk Has Been Made.

"We have given as a start for Emory $1,000,000, to which has been added a pledge of $500,000 by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and $500,000 by the Atlanta Hospital Association. We must have $5,000,000, and in ten years we can get $5,000,000, if we have been asked what progress we have made, what needs we have had an architect to lay off the grounds and very soon we will have the buildings under way. But we must pay attention to the structures, but what we want is to get great men to teach our boys."

"All these are great religious taught in a spirit of all rationalism and rationalism keeping ever in sight the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. The largest and richest universities in the east are in the hands of men who do not know the Christ. When we reach men who come to us from foreign countries we must make them first of all Christians."

The Bishop's Talk Has Been Made.

"We have given as a start for Emory $1,000,000, to which has been added a pledge of $500,000 by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and $500,000 by the Atlanta Hospital Association. But we must pay attention to the structures, but what we want is to get great men to teach our boys."

Crowd Cheered Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt, after leaving the courthouse some time before his opponent, the crowd cheered him and he waved a reply with his hat.

Mr. Barnes, the new president, explained to the jury the law governing libel.

We must consider the occasion out of which the trial has arisen," he said. "The occasion was antecedent to the primary election in this state last fall. Who were the trials? The trials were conducted by a member of the assembly in the early eighties established a reputation as an author. He at that time had begun to make himself a factor in public life. There's a Reason—in fact, a number of reasons.

Grape-Nuts is a concentrated food, hence a small portion goes a long way.

It is made of wheat and barley, and contains all the nutriment of these grains, including those invaluable mineral salts so often lacking in ordinary food, but which are indispensable for normal growth and maintenance of body and brain. One great aim in originating Grape-Nuts was to supply this lack of mineral elements, and it fulfills its purpose admirably.

Grape-Nuts is a delicious food, and digests quickly, generally in about one hour. Compare this with the 2½ to 3 hours required by bread.

Colonel Describes First Battle.

The witness then described his first engagement with the Spanish, and again Mr. Barnes objected. The court did not rule and Colonel Roosevelt continued to move forward toward Santizo.

"I object to that," said Mr. Irving, "what does it make when he moved to? I want to shorten this as much as possible."

Justice Andrews said the witness had better come to the庭室 and ask the colonel about Spanish war matters."

Later, the colonel sketched his service as governor of New York and vice president and president, and told of his trip to Africa and South America. Since then, he said, he had been continually in control of the republican party, though, at times, "out with politics."

"I have been," he went on, "a citizen of New York all my life. I have been in the army, in the navy, and in Congress, where I first voted."

"I do not remember just when I first met Mr. Barnes, but I think it was during the campaign of 1912. The reason was that Mr. Barnes was introduced to him by the chairman of some committee in New York."

Mr. Barnes Was Then Asked.

"Later, I heard him many times. In 1912 I had a number of conferences with him. I had more with him than with any other of the leaders of the Progressive, Old Guard, and the Odellites."

"We had many political discussions. For the most part they were in regard to the relations between myself and the other members of the organization, particularly Senator Platt."

"Mr. Barnes and I had some conversations with Senator Platt."

"Did you discuss Platt with Mr. Barnes?" asked Mr. Bowers.

"Mr. Irving objected and was overruled.

The witness replied in the affirmative.

The witness added that he also discussed his relationship with Barnes.

"Did you talk to Barnes about canal matters at any time?"

Mr. Irving objected to the question on the ground that it was irrelevant and immaterial.

"Did you discuss Platt with Mr. Barnes?" asked Mr. Bowers.

Mrs. McCarthy Shows Improvement and Is Now Out of Danger

Bulletins issued at Grady hospital last night indicated that Mrs. William J. McCarthy, 49 North Boulevard who accidentally shot herself Monday night through her left side was out of danger. She was reported as rapidly improv- ing.

Mrs. McCarthy, who is one of Atlanta's most prominent women, has had numerous inquiries as to her condition. She is one of the best known social leaders in the city and her hundreds of friends will be glad to know that the wound is not fatal.

She accidentally shot herself when examining an automatic revolver which she had borrowed from a friend to protect herself at night from burglar attacks. She was walking in her house a few nights ago.

Her husband is one of Atlanta's best known insurance men.

GRANT PARK ROADS WILL ALL BE OILED

SERIES OF BURGLARIES KEEP POLICE ON JUMP

E. P. McBurney, Whose Home Has Been Frequently Entered, Asks Protection.

There was a large string of burglaries reported to the police Tuesday morning that kept them unusually busy throughout the day.

E. P. McBurney whose home at 1058 Peachtree road has been the scene of many recent attempted burglaries appealed to the police for better protection of his home.

Very recently a burglar was discovered in Mr. McBurney's residence by his wife who called for the police. On their arrival a cordon was thrown about the McBurney home and a police sergeant entered the house to search for the burglar. This sergeant routed the burglar who sought escape by fleeing upstairs—the sergeant in hot pursuit.

At the critical moment the sergeant's flashlight went out and the burglar quietly slipped downstairs by another stairway and quietly out of the handsome residence unnoticed.

Since that attempt to burglarize his home there have been several others and Mr. McBurney is now seeking better police protection.

L. J. Perkins, 238 Washington street reported that a burglar had rifled his pockets at Five Points getting his pocketbook which contained $10.

The plant of the I. K. On Shoe factory was burglarized Monday night and a large quantity of raw leather stolen. The police later arrested a negro woman in connection with this robbery and recovered a part of the stolen goods.

A burglar tramp boarded a steamboat engine as it came into the city early Tuesday morning and rifled the private locker of engineer J. B. Garrison stealing his diamond stick pin and clothing.

C. M. Oliver of 11 Wind street reported a burglar had robbed him of a panel hand-painted screen.

A burglar attempted to break into a residence at 180 East Georgia street according to police records. I. D. Savage of 181 East Georgia avenue told the police he saw a prowler as he entered the yard of the house and frightened him away as he tried to break in a back window.

A burglar stole a box of shoes from the Hobbs of 400 West Main street.

T. U. COX GIVES SELF UP Under an Indictment Charging Murder of Robert Booth.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 1.—Spec. T. U. Cox, who shot and killed Robert Booth in the western part of the city yesterday, has given himself up to the authorities to stand trial at 10 a.m. today. Cox was dismissed at a coroner's inquest hearing held a few days after the killing, but the grand jury, which is now in session last week returned an indictment against him, charging him with murder.

Mitchell superior court is in session and it is understood that he will be tried at this term.

Thiry-Two Courts Furnished by the City To Tennis Players

There are thirty-two tennis courts in the city parks located as follows: Piedmont park 18; Grant park 6; Mims park—Oakland city park 3; and one each in the following parks: Ponce de Leon, Howell and Springdale. Thirty more courts are in course of construction in Addie park.

John Koch, general manager of parks, says that to insure complete enjoyment was the main object of the arrangement.

He adds: "The idea of the park commission is to have the people playing tennis on larger grounds, according to secretaries of the various clubs." He says the city will have the first part of May for its tennis season. San Francisco for the purpose of bringing Atlanta to the attention of the committees of the place where the many conventions meeting there this summer will be held to give a general picture of the data and information which will be sent to Atlanta.

He adds: "We will have a complaint for our citizens."

GETTING AT IT OFFICIALLY

With reports coming from council's committee appointed to make personal investigation on conditions in Atlanta's public schools we are beginning to get at the deplorable facts officially and it is noted that time bear out the remarkable degree the results of the investigations made by the Atlanta School Improvement Association and the Federation of Trades.

Council's committee found it already reported by these civic organizations that Atlanta needs new high school and grammar school buildings and needs them badly. It is no joke now making repairs they are too gone in some instances to admit
of it.

The committee is making no new discovery but is rendering important service
in putting of seal stamp upon report of conditions known to exist. Council will not have to be the word of any citizen or civic organization it will know for itself.

An interesting recommendation in connection with this official investigation as far as it has gone comes from Councilman Claude L. Ashby, one of the investigating committee who suggests the consolidation of our high schools into one efficient central plant to replace the scattered fragments of education or institutions now located in various sections of the city. So impressed is Councilman Ashby with the importance of the development of this plan
that he has written him regarding it.

I would write him, I shall, on the subject, but my money says he will build a new school building proximate others and not in an inconvenient place, and I have no objection to his suggestion.

It is indicated that this recommendation
may be made a prominent part of the committee's report. It is the plan adopted by Savannah which has perhaps the best high school plant in Georgia or the southeast and by several other cities whose school systems stand at the forefront.

Whatever plan is adopted for school improvement and the increasing of educational efficiency—and it ought to be the very best the council can devise—it is already apparent from the partial investigation or council's committee that there is a big work to be done, and done at once.
New schools must be built and others repaired. Sanitary conditions must be bettered in practically all of them and seats
must be provided for every child of school age in Atlanta with equal hours of instruction for each.

In another year approximately 6,000 more children will be added to the present enrollment whereas there is not room now
for all those seeking to attend.

Council has taken hold of the problem none too quickly. Atlanta is actually on the verge of a deplorable school crisis. To have let it go longer without remedy would no doubt have meant disaster. It is gratifying to feel that the unanimity with which council has so far acted indicates that the necessary remedy will be speedily applied.

GOOD ROADS REVIVAL

Incident to the recent Chattanooga
meeting to plan the Hoosierland to Dixie highway from Chicago to Miami there has come a remarkable revival in good roads sentiment and construction that carries
back to the period of several years ago
when the good roads movement was given
remarkable impetus by The Constitution.

automobile tours and similar enterprises which held attention to the importance of this particular form of progress.

It is not to be understood that there has been cessation of effort. On the other hand, constant progress has been made in Georgia and adjacent states, and road conditions generally are far superior throughout this section to what they were two or three years ago.

But it needed something like the Chattanooga meeting and its important object to center attention in good roads work and to put it into this life and enthusiasm which makes for bigger and better results. That is just what the Dixie highway movement has done. While the value of detached road improvement, affording better highway facilities to every village and every farm house, cannot be questioned, the particular thing the Chattanooga meeting has done is to direct attention to the importance of the trunk line roadway as a factor in community building.

Since that meeting newspaper dispatches
are filled with reports of good roads meetings being held in many sections of Georgia
as well as other states covering the route of the proposed highway, and instead of scattered sentiment organized public determination is getting back of the work. Many communities are not waiting for the selection of the Dixie route, they have gone to work to complete their part of the trunk line road mileage through their counties, regardless of the selection. Undoubtedly they will be in position to make the stronger argument before the Dixie highway directors when the question of route selection comes up.

Thus while the Chicago-Miami highway was primarily responsible for it there has been brought about a renewed activity in good roads construction even apart from it so that its influence will be more far-reaching in results than merely in the construction of that splendid highway alone.
Improved roads between distant points,
which will not become part of the main highway, are actually under construction
today and of lateral good roads building
in connection with the main highway there is no telling what the extent will be.

While making steady progress good roads building needed just such a stimulus
as this to put organized public enthusiasm into it. The work of the board of directors in choosing the route and securing county pledges and the construction of the Dixie highway itself will keep alive that extraordinary interest for many months to come. The completed road with all means for progress to the communities upon it will lend still greater impetus. It will result in the early building of other roads like it until travel upon smooth, hard surface to the remotest corners of the south is made possible.

The good roads revival in Georgia and
the southeast is permanent and there is no question that the Dixie highway movement
had much to do with the making of it.

ATLANTA'S TAG DAY

Atlanta has given Tag Day the only real tag day of the year to one of the noblest and most effective charities instituted in the city—the Sheltering Arms.

This year more than ever, the Sheltering Arms stands in need of the sympathetic and substantial assistance of the Atlanta public. It is the one dependence of women with children who must work for bread.
Here the children are kept and nursed and doctored and tended while the mothers are employed in their daily vocations to meet the inevitable demands of existence. Our circumstances this year have driven more women than ever before to the necessity of finding employment and the consequent demand upon the Sheltering Arms has been the greater. Its treasury has been exhausted and it faces up its work, a year of heavier expense than it has ever known before.

Thursday April 22 has been selected as Tag Day this year and every Atlantan should be ready for it. Generous hearted Atlanta women who give to the work both time and money will be upon the streets, in the stores, office buildings and hotels ready to exchange a tag for a contribution large or small in the hope that Atlanta's response to this need will make Thursday the city's record breaking Tag Day.

There is no nobler charity than that which finds practical expression in the Sheltering Arms helping struggling mothers to help themselves. Its appeal should prove irresistible, there should be no Atlanta
without his tag on Thursday.

If all the recent exponents of Mexico
should colonize in this country and imitate Huerta in explaining their explanations world wide would be a wilder dream than ever.

They say our long-time friend Huckleberry Finn has celebrated his 90th birthday. Mark Twain predicted long life for him.

With 6,000 of his soldiers out of business
Villa's specialty is now a lone home run.

So far Huerta hasn't asked for a brass band accompaniment. He talks to beat the best the bands can do.

Secretary Bryan has sprained his ankle
how fortunate that he doesn't talk with it!

Villa has been talking of prohibition for Mexico. Now we know what made Insurgent wild.

For all they say to the contrary Uncle
Sam's neutrality is all wool and world wide.

Still no one wants Huerta to salute this great country with a first page broadside
back to the period of several years ago
when the good roads movement was given

remarkable impetus by The Constitution.

Where the "Pain" Denlys Was

The Philadelphian record says that when the German Wilhelm entered Hampton Roads he strictly observed the customs of conduct laid down by the naval reporters
for seafarers in such respects as "shame"
etc. It properly behaved boats are supposed to do in entering port etc. His experience at sea is that she will be safe. She limped painfully in from the sea and with what sounded like a sign of relief dropped her anchor. The

Finally, good to goodness, it seems however it would seem that the sentiments of pain must have been especially in those British and French warships which had been hit about the entire time to the lands and with the Kiowas. Wilhelm still avoided. Their captain must have been intense. Uncle Sam alone is unaffected

VITAL STATISTICS STRONGLY URGED

Health Officers of State Name Committee to Back Law on Subject Before the Next Legislature.

Macon, Ga., April 20.—(Special)—The Georgia Association of State County and Municipal Health Officers, at their annual meeting here today, authorized the appointment of a committee to draft a memorial to the legislature asking that the law be passed requiring the keeping of vital statistics by every city and town in the state. This action followed an address by Dr. H. F. Harris, of Atlanta, secretary of the state board of health.

The committee named for this purpose is composed of Drs. Fort Moncrief and Thorpe.

On suggestion of A. V. Wood, of Brunswick, former president of the association, health officers from all over the state were urged to have a card index system instituted by their public schools to keep a tab on the health of the children. By this means it will be possible to find out how many do not practice methods of hygiene and make it possible to encourage them to do so.

Among the questions which it is proposed the school children of this state shall be asked are: Do you bathe regularly? Do you sleep with your window open? Do you keep your finger nail clean? Do you keep pencil and fingers away from your mouth?

In Brunswick where the plan was tested out recently, Mr. Wood reported to the convention that 95 per cent of the children he now visits bathe regularly, and 94 per cent did not bathe regularly. In a few days the former showed an improvement of 10 per cent and the latter 1 per cent.

The address of Dr. W. R. Colling, of Atlanta, the woman director of the state boards laboratories on "Immunity from Congenital Diseases," was an interesting one. She stated that physicians in Georgia are inclined to give excessive doses of unusually high concentration.

About forty health officers from different portions of the state attended the meeting today. Dr. L. J. Williams of Macon, was elected new president of Brunswick.

STATE S. S. CONVENTION HOLDS FIRST SESSION

Nearly a Thousand Delegates Are Enjoying the Hospitality of Americus.

By Rev. Thomas M. Elliott, Americus, Ga., April 20.—(Special)—With nearly a thousand delegates in attendance, the opening session of the delegates of the state, the opening session of the annual convention of the Georgia Sunday School association was held here today. This already large number of Sunday school workers now present will be increased by several hundred more, until at least 1,200 shall be registered.

Local people have opened their hearts and homes for the entertainment of the visitors, and declare they will make ample provision for all who may come. Visitors arriving here are met by reception committees or leading business men and quickly escorted to their homes. The visitor to the convention is cordially welcomed by the American people, and the convention is a part of the life of the Americas people. Two conventions are being entertained this week with still another to follow in a few days.

The sessions of the Sunday school convention are being held in the auditorium of the First Methodist church, and are presided over by Dr. Joseph C. Johnson of Atlanta, president of the state association.

Features of the first session this afternoon were addresses by Dr. E. K. Evans, pastor of the Second Independent Presbyterian Church; Professor M. M. Parks, president of the Georgia Normal and Industrial College; Dr. John C. Alexander, of Chicago, secondary division superintendent of the International Sunday School association. The convention was opened by Dr. E. L. Exley, of Chicago, and Professor Alvin W. Roper of Indiana Lake, Ind., was also an attractive phase of the first meeting.

Chief attention was given the address of Mr. Alexander, who is the chief speaker of the convention. Mr. Alexander, who has delivered many addresses to various organizations, will deliver a series of features at this convention on the general subject of "The Sunday School and the Open Air Boys' and Girls' Club." After his address this afternoon was with reference to "The Home and the Sunday School," while that of this evening hour was "Religion and the Home." In his second address he emphasized the close relation between the home and the Biblical school, a feature that no school could accomplish for the young, for whom it is the most important of all.

Other speakers of the afternoon and evening sessions were A. C. Caldwell, of Atlanta, who spoke on "The Modern Departmental Sunday School"; the Rev. R. S. Brank of Savannah, whose subject was "The Convention Theme—The Home and the Sunday School," while that of this evening hour was "Religion and the Home." In his second address he emphasized the close relation between the home and the Biblical school, a feature that no school could accomplish for the young, for whom it is the most important of all.

The second day of the convention will be introduced with a surprise prayer meeting in which W. S. Mathews, of Atlanta, will deliver a talk upon some Bible passages.

Lowndes-Montgomery Wedding Was Beautiful Social Event

A beautiful event last night centering the social interest was the marriage of Miss Jeannette Lowndes and Mr. Alphonse Montgomery which took place in the First Baptist Church.

A large congregation witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Dr. John F. White and afterwards a brief reception was held at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. George S. Lowndes in Ansley Park.

Yellow lilies and yellow marguerites were the flowers prevailing in the decorative plan of the wedding and these with the flesh colored gown of the bride, its accents made in delicate and beautiful color scheme.

At the church the chancel was banked with palms effectively outlined against the prevailing white of the church interior and busts of Easter lilies rose out of the bowls of green appropriate organ music was played during the marriage service.

The Bride's Costume

The bride entered the church with her father and she was beautiful in a white gown of white satin charmeuse. Made in modified empire style and with court train it was embroidered in pearls and veiled with chiffon cloth. The tulle veil was adjusted with orange bows and worn away from the face and the bridal bouquet was of violet roses.

Montpelier, Vt.—"We have great faith in your remedies. I was very ill and regular and was tortured and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would bloat. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you like. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me"—Mrs. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

An Honest Dependable Medicine

It must be admitted by every fair-minded intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Workers Announce Chairmen And Stations for "Tag Day"

There is a great deal of work connected with "Tag Day," which is to be promoted in Atlanta on Thursday, April 22, by the Sheltering Arms Society; but there is pleasure a part of it too.

The pleasure is in the easy way it presents to the people who buy "tags" to do good; also in the opportunity it gives a number of well known women to study the "passing throng," as it appears on the streets each day. There are more committees to be at work tomorrow than ever before have volunteered and they will be stationed in highways and byways as well as on the main street corners and in all public buildings and department stores.

Mrs. William H. Kiser is president of the Sheltering Arms Society, which headquarters are now located in the old Crankshaw store in the Century building, near the Whitehall street viaduct.

The Sheltering Arms society fosters the movement of day nurseries and kindergartens in the congested districts, those patronized by 400 children whose mothers must work out of their homes to support them. The institution stands for the highest form of philanthropy, that of helping working people to help themselves.

Chairmen for "Tag Day" follow:

Mrs. G. C. Lewis, Georgia Terrell; Mrs. Roy Collier, Aragon; Mrs. Charles S. Piedmont; Mrs. H. F. Courtney, English-American; Mrs. W. T. Murray, Acme; Mrs. A. A. James, Mrs. John Moody, Nunnally and Edgewood avenue; Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Schaub & May's.

I dreaded to see the sun rise and I dreaded to set it for I suffered such agony. No one except myself will ever know how badly I suffered. The doctor said I was suffering as a result of the menopause."

As nothing gave me any relief, I asked the doctor if I hadn't better try Cardui. He said, "We might help you and told my husband to get me a bottle. At this time I was so weak I could not lift my head and my voice was so weak people had to lean towards the bed to hear what I said. I looked so bad and had such a dark color that I looked like a dead woman and my relatives thought I would never get up again."

I took one bottle of Cardui and it relieved the pain and suffering so much that my husband got another bottle, and that improved me still more. I began to strengthen and gradually got well. I have now had better health for six years than I ever had in all my life. I have taken no medicine since and my health is perfect."

Cardui is the finest medicine a woman could wear. Try it, you'll argue.

Committee Will Work To Get Big Methodist Meeting for Atlanta

The committee appointed by the Atlanta Ministerial Alliance to appear before the committee on time and place of the general conference of the Methodist church, south, in Nashville, Thursday, for the purpose of bringing this great gathering to Atlanta in 1918 will have this evening.

The committee is composed of the Rev. A. M. Hughelett, the Rev. C. O. Jones, A. A. G. Gardner and Fred Houseman. There are several southern cities working actively to land this conference. Dr. Hughelett states that the committee is sanguine of success.

It is observed that the new binary and trinary calendar, recently adopted by the universal recently passed without the pale of the Methodist church, would receive a general stimulus from the conference. The committee will be given the Atlanta committee and it is expected that several weeks may elapse before the decision is reached.

At the close of yesterday's statement was handed press representatives.

Bucks County has watched with interest most of the various routes proposed for the Dixie highway.

SWYNT IN WILL HEARING

Testifies Washington Was of Unsound Mind.

Macon Ga., April 20.—(Special)—D. Roger C. Swynt of the state hospital for the insane testified in the Bibb Superior Court this morning that in his opinion the late Hugh V. Washington, a long descendant of George Washington, the first president of the United States, was of unsound mind when he drew his will in 1909, disposing of it as it was valued at $1,000. Dr. Swynt had been summoned by the court to make an examination in Macon, Ga., as to why the testator did not have the will set aside because they do not share in the estate.

Attorney Dr. W. G. Guerry represented the defense asked Dr. Swynt a pointed question 3,000 words in length. Testimony of testimony of several witnesses was given.

Washington was sane but the witness said he intended to base his judgment on the will if it declared that the trustee or attorney of the will did not harmonize with the hypothesis of his sanity.

The contention of the heirs trying to break the will is that Mr. Washington was not of sound mind when he executed the will and that it did not represent his own will and determination.

The entire estate, as left to Macon, Georgia, of Mr. Washington to his wife, Mrs. Washington, for her life, and at her death the balance after several bequests are paid to go to the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The case will be tried in the court of probate in Macon, Georgia, on May 1.

Two sons, James and Kirk, two grandsons, Mrs. H. H. Bell and Mrs. W. H. Horne, the trustees in the county, have been placed in trust to several hundred citizens of Georgia, who draw no reward except the loss of their money.

Throughout this entire country, it is believed that the noon at the will must stand.

RECEIVERS ARE NAMED FOR THE ROCK ISLAND

Admitted That Company Is Insolvent—Mudge and Dickinson Named Receivers.

Chicago April 20.—The Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railway company was placed in the hands of receivers in federal district court here today. The company formally acknowledged its inability to meet more than $6,000,000 of its obligations due before May 1 in two of its cities weeks. It is survived by his wife, who was Miss Ruby Chesewood, of Atlanta, before her marriage by one other, Mr. George Dickinson, of Atlanta, and one sister, Miss Melville Darden, of Atlanta, Ga. The remains were brought to Sharon, Ga., Tuesday for funeral and interment. Mr. Darden, who was the son of a receiver, died two years ago and up to the time of going to Augusta three months ago made Atlanta his home.

Application for the receivership was made by the American Steel Foundries company which has a claim of about $16,000 against the defendant. W. F. Dickinson, the road's general attorney answering the petition said a receivership was the best means of protecting creditors' bondholders and stockholders.

Company Has Vanished.

The railway company is the basic part of the empire of the Rock Island company which is said probably to have disappeared from the financial map of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company. The railroad company which owned the road, the railroads the road has been in the hands of a receiver appointed in New York for a considerable period.

He is under the legal department of the road as to the present status of the Rock Island company which in turn owned all of the stock of the railroads company which this year seems to have disappeared. Its only asset was the railroad company the stock of which dropped to a dollar on so and with such assets it is not surprising.

Stockholders of the railway company then turned meeting here April 1 elected these new directors:

John E. Mudge, Atlanta, and W.

James E. Mudge, Atlanta, and W.
