

ATLANTA IS ANXIOUS TO KNOW CONTENTS OF MAYOR'S LETTER

Mysterious Communication Threatens to Rival in Interest Epistle Sent Governor Smith by "Little Joe" Brown.

PREACHERS OF ATLANTA INDORSE GREAT REVIVAL AND MEN AND RELIGION

Criticism of Chapman Meeting Suggests Bad Manners and Bad Morals, Says Dr. John E. White in Interview.

There is a letter—a mysterious letter—locked securely in the vault in the executive offices at city hall. It was written by Mayor James G. Woodward to Marion M. Jackson, executive committee chairman of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, in reply to a bulletin published under the caption "An Open Letter to the Mayor."

NO TIME TO WASTE

Now, Mr. Jackson has taken up the mayor's threat. He urged the mayor on Friday to give the letter to the newspapers, but the mayor declined. He told eager reporters that he did not have time to waste on "such men as Jackson."

And forthwith the letter was rammed into the vault, and there it will remain for some time unless the mayor changes his mind and turns it loose. Until then—Well, Atlanta and Georgia have had a taste of mysterious letters before.

MASSENGALE SILENT

Dean John R. Atkinson has had his share of the "little Joe" letter. Atkinson has spoken. Marion Jackson, Bishop W. A. Candler and his excellency, Mayor J. G. Woodward, have duly had theirs, but there will be no statement so far as St. Elmo Massengale is concerned.

White Flag Files

He was approached for a statement Friday afternoon by a reporter. The moment the reporter essayed the doorway to Mr. Massengale's (unbarred) office, a white flag went up.

ANONYMOUS LETTER LAID TO ATTACHE

Boy-Ed, of German Embassy, Denies Note to Mrs. Stegler and Her Husband's Spy Charges.

New York, February 26.—Charles H. Griffiths, attorney for Richard P. Stegler, the German naval reservist arrested here Wednesday on a charge of fraudulently obtaining an American passport, announced tonight that he would place in the hands of the federal authorities tomorrow an anonymous typewritten letter received by Mrs. Stegler, which would be compared with letters alleged to have been written to Stegler by Captain K. Boy-Ed, naval attaché of the German embassy at Washington.

Stegler, according to Mr. Griffiths, told the federal authorities that Captain Boy-Ed wanted him to go to England as a spy. The letter, which Captain Boy-Ed today denied knowing, anything about, read: "Reading today's New York American, after you to tell you that I was your fault that your husband has been arrested and will have to go to jail for many years and will be always a looked-upon man. I am writing you to keep your mouth shut and do not open it before you at first consult a lawyer. Besides, you put your country in a bad position because your case will only increase the ill feeling of the Germans against the Americans, and you know that a war with the Germans would be the greatest disaster for the Americans."

Redulous, Says Boy-Ed. Griffiths said that both Mrs. Stegler and Stegler himself had declared certain characteristics of the typewriting and other peculiarities resembled the letter written to Stegler. It is alleged to have been received from Captain Boy-Ed, now in possession of the United States district attorney.

This thing is too ridiculous to answer," Captain Boy-Ed said. "All the letters that have gone out of this office have been addressed by my stenographer, and I suppose there must be thousands of them. I have never seen one she uses. I have been accused of so many things that I would not be surprised if they tried to fix the Rosenthal murder on me or the responsibility for the K. A. B. movement on me."

Stegler repeated today, Griffiths said, his declaration that Captain Boy-Ed had wanted him to go to England as a spy. He told the attorney, Stegler, that the British admiralty was fitting out his merchantmen which were to be sent disguised as German boats, to the coast of the United States, to intercept and sink to blockade German ports.

To Watch British Shipping. "I was told to get all the information I could about this," Stegler was quoted by Griffiths as saying. He also was told to watch the movements in the Mersey. I was to try to locate the strength of the English fleet supposed to be in St. George's channel. I was to get the German passport office where I was to meet German officers and give them a secret password. I was to go to Berlin and deliver my information to the head of the German intelligence bureau."

George Sylvester Viereck, editor of a German newspaper, declared today that Stegler sought his assistance in obtaining an American passport. "I told Stegler," Viereck said, "that he was engaged in confidential work for German officials and had mentioned Captain Boy-Ed's name. 'I was an American citizen and would not lend myself to any such proposition as procuring a passport.'"

No Action at Washington

Washington, February 26.—Results of the investigation in New York of alleged passport frauds, with which the German naval attaché at Washington, who has been connected, have been the subject of informal conferences between the departments of state and justice. It was said today, however, that nothing had developed to make necessary any action by the state department.

Production and Selling

Production begins at the raw material and works down. Demand begins with the consumer and works up. The meeting place is the retailer's counter. Constitution advertising has only to do with the selling end. It must start with consumer—but when it is the kind of advertising that can not only start with the consumer, but bring that consumer to the dealer's counter and make the dealer hang out a welcome sign it is 100 per cent efficient.

Revival Signs Now Under Fire

"GET RIGHT WITH GOD," the phrase emblazoned in red letters on the billboard in front of the Chapman-Alexander revival tabernacle, which has been criticized strongly by Dean John R. Atkinson, was referred to by Dr. Chapman at his Friday afternoon sermon in these words:

"For the life of me, I cannot see anything the matter with the phrase, 'Get right with God.' It has a deep meaning, and is very expressive. You will never be in the place where God can use you until you are 'right with God.' You will never be in the place where you can win others to Christ until you are 'right with God.' Men and women, get right with God, for until you are right with Him, you will never be in the place where God can use you until you are 'right with God.'"

Should the supreme court affirm the decision of the Georgia federal court, nothing would stand in the way of Franks being sent to the penitentiary, except through appeal to the prison board and the governor. If the ruling is reversed, counsel for Franks said the state told the court the case must go back to the district court for the taking of evidence on which the allegations for the petition for the writ were based.

American Note Regarded With Favor by Germany; British Stand Doubtful

Reports From Both London and Berlin Regarding the Latest Proposals of United States. However, Regarded as Decidedly Encouraging.

GERMANY IS WILLING TO MAKE CONCESSIONS IN SUBMARINE WARFARE

England Still Considering Reprisals, and It Is Believed Will Declare All Foodstuffs Absolute Contraband.

Washington, February 26.—Encouraging reports from both Ambassador Page, at London, and Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, were received today concerning the attitude of Great Britain and Germany toward the latest American proposals for the safeguarding of neutral commerce and the unrestricted shipment of foodstuffs to the civilian population of belligerent countries. The United States does not expect complete replies for several days.

Germany's willingness to make concessions and negotiate for an understanding on the submarine, food and mine questions already has been made known informally, and the United States expects a formal acquiescence in a day or two. All eyes now are turned on London, where opinion is understood to be divided on the merits of the suggestions. Some leading British cabinet members are said to favor in principle the American proposals as a means of solving the problem with as little inconvenience to neutral countries as possible.

PROPOSALS MADE IN AMERICAN NOTES

The exact nature of the American proposals is still unknown because of the rigid reticence of officials here and abroad, but each day adds information on the subject. Briefly, this much of the contents of the American suggestions now has been confirmed: The United States has asked that the previous rule of international law with respect to the shipment by neutrals of conditional contraband destined to civilian population, and not the belligerent forces of an enemy, remain unaltered.

ALLIES IN ACCORD AS TO REPRISALS

London, February 25.—France, Russia, England, Serbia and Belgium are said by English officials to be in absolute accord as to reprisals to be made on Germany, Austria and Turkey in retaliation for the German submarine campaign. The agreement is understood to be in the form of a joint declaration with her allies concerning reprisals before the receipt of the last American note making informal representations looking to the discontinuance of submarine activities and to the admission of food to Germany for her civilian population.

AMERICA'S POLICY UPHELD BY BRYCE

Former Ambassador Also Declares It Error to Assume Americans of German Extraction Are Necessarily Pro-German.

London, February 26.—Viscount James Bryce, in an article which will appear in The Daily Chronicle tomorrow on "The Position of the United States in the War," says it is a complete error to assume that those who bear a German name, or who own to German blood belong to the pro-German party.

As to the neutrality of the American government, Mr. Bryce adds, both sides have blamed it and the government points to this as the best proof of its impartiality. One party, he says, moved by the tragic fate of Belgium, censured the government for having failed to protest against the violation of Belgium territory and the flagrant breaches of the rules of warfare prescribed by The Hague convention.

Arguing that the attack on Belgium was a clear breach not only of the convention of 1907, but of the fundamental principles of international law, Viscount Bryce says the breaches which followed, rested at first on statements which needed confirmation and that "any government might feel that before protesting against the treatment of non-combatants it should endeavor to keep themselves clear of European entanglements."

Must Present Grievances. Regarding questions of international law and usage which have arisen between the United States and belligerents, Viscount Bryce says: "When a neutral is urged by its citizens to remonstrate with belligerents on the exercise of any rights the belligerents claim, it cannot, unless convinced that there is no substance in the grievance, decline to present the case of its subjects."

Continuing, Viscount Bryce says: "If it is suggested, as I think it has been, somewhere, that in the matter of contraband and the right of search powerful pecuniary interests have tried to influence the administration, those who have watched recent developments in America will agree that nothing is more untrue than that what is called big business, and that any administration supposed to be yielding to its pressure would do so at its peril. So far as our own judgment there is no foundation for any such notion."

Germany Has Ordered Expulsion of Chinese. London, February 26.—An Evening News dispatch from Rotterdam says that owing to shortage of food, Germany has ordered expulsion of the Chinese. PRICE OF POTATOES RAISED IN GERMANY

Bundesrath Increases Cost to Prevent Waste—Maximum Price on Hogs.

Berlin, February 26.—(Via London.) The Bundesrath, having learned that German farmers were using potatoes too freely for fodder, has raised the price of potatoes. It is believed this will prevent consumption of potatoes by cattle. In future potato flakes will cost $8.75 per 220 pounds and potato starch $12 per 220 pounds.

Frankfurt-on-the-Main and Macklenburg have decided to follow the example of Berlin and introduce bread cards. The Bundesrath has adopted a measure under which the use of automobiles in Germany will be reduced for military purposes.

TWO BRITISH SOLDIERS HOLD TRENCH UNAIDED

London, February 26.—Another semi-weekly communication from the front, given out today, says: "The period since the last communication has been marked by a thick mist and rain which culminated on the 24th in a heavy snow storm. Operations were suspended for several days. In spite of bad weather, however, our aircraft carried out their duties. Cooperation has been very near. The artillery has been particularly close. Near Ypres intermittent fighting continued during the recent lull. Change in the relative positions of the opposing forces. Many gallant acts of arms have been performed during the recent lull. The British machine gunners have been particularly well on occasion, when they came into action in the open and inflicted a considerable loss on the enemy.

POLICE ARREST TEN FOLLOWING THEFTS

Bold Looting of Railroad Cars by Organized Gang Bred in Recorder's Court.

Organized with alleged car-breakers, draymen and fences, a gang of thieves, according to the evidence in the police court Friday afternoon, succeeded in stealing a large lot of goods and disposing of them at good prices.

When Rube Palmer, a negro, undertook to sell several sacks of rice to a grocer, he was held and the police notified. Palmer made a full confession, and on his evidence the following were held by the recorder:

For car breaking, Rube Palmer and John Pitts, negroes. For receiving stolen goods, Wash Goodwill, negro; Tom Weems, negro; Ed Goodwill, negro, and Zach Smith, negro, all draymen.

Charles Dipte, Italian, 158 Decatur street; P. W. Cook, white, 223 Greenleaf avenue; John Bailey, negro, and J. R. Reynolds, negro, all storekeepers.

The bonds were $1,000 for the car-breakers and the others were held in bonds of $200 and $300. The evidence showed that Pitts and Palmer broke open cars in the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad yards, piled the stolen goods in the yards on an embankment, hired the draymen to haul the stuff and sold it to the stores. One haul alone included eleven sacks of flour, four sacks of sugar, eleven sacks of rice, twelve cases of tobacco, a case of shoes and a barrel of gin.

The officers who worked up the case were Detectives Starnes, Moon, Jameson and Cochran.

Keep Watch on Wife In Order to Keep Her, Advises Mme. Davenport

If friend wife wants to keep her husband, discipline him.

These were the prescriptions of Madame Charlotte Davenport, the noted lecturer, whose address at the Hotel Davenport, was given by the national "Hygiene" was attended by a large audience of men and women.

She did not, however, outline any particular form of discipline for the man, but, in giving the national formula of disciplinary method, neither did she go into detail into the various forms of the vigilance eternal that must be kept up by the wife.

Other things advised by Madame Davenport were:

"Give nature a chance. It helps those who help themselves. Select your thoughts. Discard the bad ones and grasp the good. Good thoughts mean as much as proper eating. Never eat when tired or irritated. Be in a good mood at meal time. Do not let your husband go to bed without washing his hair, his teeth and his feet."

RATES IN CLASS "P" HAVE BEEN REVISED BY THE COMMISSION

The railroad commission has given out an elaborate report and opinion on the petition of the short line railroads in Georgia for increased carload rates on articles carried in its freight class P, such as lumber, brick, sand, gravel, cotton seed hulls, etc.

The commission held a public hearing on this petition during last October which extended through two days and has since conducted one of the most thorough investigations since a mass of statistics as to class P traffic, its volume, distances moved, cost of service, revenue from existing rates, the number of cars of each commodity handled by each railroad during the year.

JUST LOOK WHAT RECORDER JOHNSON DID TO THE TIGERS

Recorder Johnson struck the blind tigers in the city a terrific blow by a decision he handed down Thursday afternoon.

It was such a cruel stroke that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals included blind tigers in their managerie, they would certainly proceed against the recorder. You will have to explore the intricacies of the Darktown cross-suits before there can be an understanding of what the recorder did for the tigers.

Eugene Lowe had Joe Holden arrested for stealing his flask of liquor. Then he had a dozen blind tigers the recorder that they bought the whisky from Lowe, who was a walking blind and drank it up and then refused to pay for it.

BRASS BANDS TO LEAD
MEN'S BIBLE CLASSES
From Sunday Schools Men Will March to Tabernacle on Sunday Morning.

With brass bands in front, leading the way, the march by the hundreds Sunday morning to the revival tabernacle on Peachtree street, to attend the men's Bible classes, was specially directed to the men of Atlanta.

The tabernacle will be divided into sections, which will be reserved for the various classes, and while all men will be welcome to the meeting, it is behind his back he cannot see, for God is everywhere. His eye looks into all directions.

"Far Removed."
In the 103d Psalm, the twelfth verse, we read: "As far as the east is from the west so far removed are thy transgressions from us."
It seems to me that this is simply wonderful in its application to the distance from the various classes, and while all men will be welcome to the meeting, it is behind his back he cannot see, for God is everywhere.

"In the Depths of the Sea."
In Micah, the seventh chapter and nineteenth verse, we read: "He will turn again, He will have compassion upon us; He will subdue our iniquities; and thou shalt say: 'I will give thanks in the depths of the sea.'"
This is the most beautiful text that I have ever read, and it is the most beautiful text that I have ever read.
