New Era of Prosperity Dawning, Says Wilson; Business Is Now Free

"Rules of the Game" Are Laid Down for Business in Address Before American Electric Railway Associa

Washington, January 29.-Another confident prediction that the country soon will enter upon a new era of enterprise and prosperity was voiced to day by President Wilson in a speech before the convention of the American Electric Rallway association.

Speaking to business men and through them to the world of business generally, the president outlined what the democratic congress has tried to accomplish through its trust legislation, and declared that, while a test period would be required to determine whether the correct remedy had been applied, he believed the "maze of interrogation points" which had checked enterprise for twenty years had been be suspicious of any business just be-"rules of the game" which he thought ought to be followed, heading the list: with publicity-"not doing anything under cover.'

"I have always maintained that the all that I read in the news-I would not understand any-I have met many men whose horns' dropped away the moment I was permitted to examine their char-

I for one have never doubted that all America was of one principle. I have never doubted that principle. I have never doubted that and our libertles passed over as a all America believed in doing what was birthday gift or by will; our energies fair and honorable and of good report. But the method, the method of control distant cities; our masters too often by law against the small minority that men who never have seen us, who was recalcitrant against these principles, was a thing that it was difficult to determine upon. And it was a very great burden, let me say, to fall upon a particular administration of this government to have to undertake prac tically the whole business of final definition. That is what has been attempted by the congress now about to come to a close. It has attempted the definitions for which the country has been getting ready, or trying to get ready, for nearly half a generation.

"It will require a period of test to determine whether they have successfully defined them or not, but no one needs to have it proved to him that it was necessary to define them and remove the uncertainties, and that the uncertainties being removed, common understandings are possible and a universal co-operation. Era of Suspicion Passed.

"In the first place. I feel that the mists and miasmic airs of suspicion that have filled the business world have now been blown away. I believe that we have passed the era of suspicion and have come now into the era of confidence. Knowing the ele-ments we have to deal with, we can ments we have to deal with, we can deal with them; and with that confidence of knowledge we can have confidence of enterprise. And that enterprise is going to mean this. Nobody is henceforth going to be afraid of or suspicious of any business merely beeause it is big.

"If my judgment is correct, nobody has been suspicious of any business merely because it was big, but they have been suspicious whenever," they thought that the bigness was being used to take an unfair advantage. We all have to admit that it is easier for a big fellow to take advantage of you

Denies That He Ever Confessed to Murder of Mary Phagan - Father's Mind Unsound, Says Ragsdale's

With the testimony of Herbert Haus who handled the funds for the Leo M. Lehon, Arthur Thurman and Carlton Tedder before Judge Ben Hill, on charges of subornation of perjury.

Haas was preceded upon the stand y Jim Conley. The negro was on the stand less than five minutes. There was no cross-examination. When the solicitor had finished the questions whether or not Conley had confessed to Mary Phagan's murder, the negro quit the witness chair.

The festimony of Herbert Hass. as sociate counsel for the condemned man. related to sums of money paid the Burns detective agents at the time Ledder, Lehon and Thurman are acused of having bribed Rev. C. B. Rags dale, the recanting minister. He submitted a check for $500 which had been paid to Burns representatives for money for Tedder on April 16, during which time the Ragsdale affidavit was said to have been in process

Burns Agency Well Paid Haas had brought into the courtroom number of checks representing big sums of money, which he had produced get a majority of the votes in the first techm issued by the solicitor general. election. At the second election the Three checks representing $500 were two charters receiving the highest paid to Burns representatives and annumber of votes in the first election other for $1,000. In answer to the vere not frequent, he answered: "Yes, and rapid, too!" The huge crowd that packed the courtroom in the expectation of witnessing a surprise when Jim Conley took the stand was disappointed. Coney was called upon at the conclusion of the testimony of R. L. Barber, the alleged accomplice of Rev. Ragsdalc, who is likewise under indictment for Haas stated that he had never paid any money to Tedder, but to repre-sentatives of the Burns offices, prin-cipally C. E. Sears, who, at that time, was manager of the Atlanta branch. The dawyer described himself as the man who handled the funds for Frank's defense.

Jim Conley was calm, unruffled and quick with his answers. He declared that he had never been in the alley in which Ragsdale's false afidavit ac-cused him of having confessed Mary Phagan's murder, and, in answer to Mr. Dorsey's questions, stated that he had never talked about the murder of "a little girl," as was described in the preacher's story. Father's Mind Unsound.

A sensation of the morning session Friday was the testimony of W. A. Ragsdale, a son of the minister-witunsound mind. Mr. Dorsey had put him on the stand to show that Arthur Thurman had held transactions with the father ever the telephone on the day the affidavit was made. The youth proved a reluctant witness, saying that all he knew was hearsay. Judge Hill would not admit his tes-timony in this regard.

He stated that his father's mind and business both failed in 1907, and that since that time he had frequently been afflicted with "spells" of temporary insanity. He did not notice anything wrong with the minister, however, on the day the affidavit was made.

Dr. Ben Wildauer, of 69 Windsor street, a friend of Leo Frank and the man who induced William J. Burns to take a hand in the Frank case, was put up by Mr. Dorsey. He stated that he had urged Burns to employ Carlton Fedder, as he believed Tedder know the truth of the Frank case, connected, as he was, with William M. Smith, Coney's lawyer.

Money Paid to Tedder.

He also stated that he had seen Dan Lehon pay Tedder $500, in $250 payments, to be used for payment for services and for out-of-town expenses. Other witnesses examined during the morning and afternoon were Boots Rogers and R. L. Barber. Rogers, who s now a bailiff in municipal court, but is now a bailiff in municipal court, but was formerly a Burns detective, testified to having been sent to Ragsdale's office from the Burns office with instructions for Ragsdale to talk to no one except a Burns operative, and that he must be assured of the operative's identity before talking to him.

He declared; however, that this procedure was customary with all witnesses, and that he had been sent with the same instructions to Annie Maude Carter, the negress witness

William J. Harris, of Georgia. Davies and Mr. Hurley, it was said in official circles would be certain to go on the commission. Samuel Ros-hers, of North Carolina; Thomas S. FelCzar's Forces Battling Hard in Endeavor to Pierce Their Way Through to Konigsberg — Satisfactory Progress Claimed

PROGRESS CLAIMED

BY PETROGRAD:

Petrograd, January 29.—The general staff of the Russian army today issued a report on the progress of the fighting as follows:

"In the country to the north of Tileit, East Prussia, Russian detachments, January 25, took the offensive and drove back the Germans, destroying the railroad station at Pogegen, a few miles north of Tilsit.

"The fighting in the forested country to the north of Pilkaienz and Gumbinnen continues, and in certain places we are making progress. Along the rest of the front in East Prussia January 27 lassed quietly, except in the country to the northeast of Darkehmen. Here the Germans attacked our positions, but they were driven back to their trenches.

"On the right bank of the lower Visual encounters continue between our advance guards and those of the enemy. On the left bank of the Vistula in the vicinity of Borjimow Russian troops, aided by sappers, delivered an attack the night of January 27 on the trenches of the enemy, after having the aftermon of that day successfully countermined these trenches. In this same locality the Germans assumed offensive operations but without success.

"The artillery duel along the left bank of the Vistula continued January 27. Our efficient shell fire against, the position of the enemy silenced several of his batteries and inflicted heavy losses on the Germans in their trenches. This was particularly the case near the village of Jidomitze, where we saw German soldiers carrying numerous dead and wounded from their trenches. Galicia: Along the Carpathian front from Dukla Pass to the railroad running between Stry and Mounkatch we were engaged January 26 and 27, with successful results.

Our success to the southwest of Dukla Pass was particularly important. Here our troops, advancing with energy, compelled the enemy January 26 to retreat in great haste, leaving behind them ammunition and other war material. In the vicinity of Teskhanie and Dolkhany we captured on January 27 an earthwork of the enemy has made particular efforts

NOT MUCH FIGHTING

ON FRENCH BATTLE LINE. ON FRENCH BATTLE LINE.

Paris, January 29.—January 28 was a day of comparative quiet along the battle line in France, judging from the official announcement by the French war office this afternoon. There were artillery engagements, some of them fairly violent at different places and one or, two infantry encounters are mentioned. Apparently long sections of the line showed no activity whatever.

The French war office this afternoon gave out an official report on the progress of the war, which reads as follows. ress of the war, which reads as follows:

"The day of January 28 saw nothing "The day of January 28 saw nothing more than local engagements which resulted favorably to us. In Belgium, in the vicinity of Nieuport, our infantry sequred a footing on Grande Dune, a locality which was mentioned in the communication of January 17.

"A German aeroplane was brought town by our artillery fire.

"In the sections of Ypres, Lens and Arras there were yesterday artillery engagements which at times became fairly violent. Several infantry attacks were undertaken, but at once driven back by our fire. In the sectors of Soissons, Craonne and Rheims there is nothing to report. Between Rheims and the Argonne yesterday saw artillery engagements but not of great intensity.

"It has been confirmed that the Can-

CARRANZA ORDERS MEXICAN CHANGES

Issues an Order Declaring Municipalities Autonomous and Doing Away With Obnoxious Jefes Politicos.

Washington, January 29.—Although rapid changes in Mexican politics have brought the authority of General Car ranza back to Mexico City again, th evacuation of the capital and redistribution of forces has resulted in no injury to foreigners, according to official reports.

The state department has received only meager reports of conditions in southern Mexico, but it was established today that General Obregon occupied Mexico City yesterday with 10,000 men; that Roque Gonzales Ganza, temporary executive of the convention govern-ment, left the capital January 27, but returned Thursday and that no information since has been received as to his whereabouts.

Obregon Occupies City. Enrique C. Elorente, convention representative here, said he received message from General Ornales, post commander at Juarez, claiming to have been in telegraphic communication with Garza in Mexico City last night. Latest dispatches from Mexico City were thus summarized by the state department:

"A report from Mexico City states that General Obregon occupied the city with about 10,000 men on the afternoon of the 28th at 2 p. m. A few Zaputistas are reported to have been overtaken while evacuating, and it is sued by Carranza. It says:

No More Hends of Cantons. "On December 25 General Carranza Issued a decree declaring the munici palities autonomous and doing away with the jefes politicos, heads of the cantons, who are said to have been abnoxious because appointed without consulting the people and because they were invested with numerous powers especially judicial and executive. This was one reform mentioned in the pro-gram of social revolution which the local newspapers have been publishing for many weeks. About the same time there also was made generally public there also was made generally purple a labor decree on hours of work, wages, etc., which first had been is-sued by General Candido Agullar on October 18, 1914, and which also rep-October 19, 1914, and which also represented one of the reforms mentioned in the program.

"On December 25 also General Carranaa issued a decree permitting the importation of wheat free of duty for two months and decreasing the amount of duties on flour to 3 centavos for the legal kilogram. Other reforms in the tariff had been made on December 5, 1914, and prior to that date. Petroleum was exempted from duty January 6, 1915, such exemption to be in effect for a period of two months."

RUSSIAN GUNFIRE DROPS AIRSHIP OF GERMANS

Berlin, January 29.—(Via London.)— The Parseval airship which flew over Libau, the Russian port on the Baltic, January 25, did not return. The report that the German cruiser Killerg was sunk in the battle in the North sea last Sunday is untrue. All the German ships except the Bluecher have returned.

The above dispatch apparently confirms a statement by the naval general staff at Petrograd that a German airship which dropped bombs on Libau was brought down by gun fire. That statement, however, referred to the balloon as a Zeppelin.

Regarding the Kolberg, Vice Admiral Beatty, British commander in the North sea fight, reported that German prisoners said the Kolberg was sunk. The British admiralty, in its statement, referred to the Kolberg as "reported."

SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITS IN BERLIN SHOW GAIN

Berlin, January 29.—A report on the conditions of the savings banks of the empire during 1914, issued in Berlin today, shows that the deposits in the twelve months of that year increased by $250,000,000 over the total of the previous year.

FIFTY GREEK VILLAGES MADE RUINS BY TURKS

London, January 29.-A Reuter dis patch from Tiflis, Russian army head quarters in Trans-Caucasia, says:\
"Fifty Greek villages around Kar in southern Trans-Caucasia, have been laid in ruins by the Turks. The flight of the Greek inhabitants was precipitate, and the women and children are said to have suffered intensely from the cold weather. It is reported that many of the men among the Greeks were made prisoners and that some were killed."

During the early hours of the night republicans, led by Senatots Root, Smoot, Brandegee, Oliver and Gallinger interposed points of order quorum calls appeals from the ruling of the chair and bother parhamentary delays

Senator Kern, majority leader, finally proposed writs for absentees, and the word went through the city that the democrats intended to force the bill through tonight.

A motion by Senator Smoot to table the substitute was deteated 40 to 14, and in quick succession four amendments offered by Senator Gallinger were laid on the table. Mancuvering left the bill at midnight in such a position that a vote on the substitute might come at any moment if the opposition raitered, and Senators Lodge and Smith, of Michigan appeared at a late hour laden with many papers and apparently ready to relieve senator Smoot and continue the battle of words throughout the night if necessary

"As a servant of the American people I feel it my duty, declared senator Smoot to do everything in my power to defeat this bill it is undemocratic and unrepublican it is vicious in its provisions and will prove dangerous if enacted into law. The reason the bill is being forced now is because every democratic senator knows it could not pass the next congress."

Senator James interrupted to say that charges that stemm-roller tactics came with ill grace from a member of the party which had employed a steam roller at Chicago to defeat Theodore Roosevelt for the republican presidential nomination.

Late in the day republican teacher confronted with jumois that the democrats would ittempt to hold the senate in session all night began a program of parliamentary obstruction including demands for many roll calls. All efforts to conceal obstructive tactics were abandoned and as the evening wore on the session became another endurance test.

Senator Noiris suggested to the democratis that if they would amend the bill to insure permanency of government operation of ocean ships and to prohibit purchase of ships from billigerents without consent of all belligerents without consent of all belligerents progressive republican presented amendments to/make the proposed shipping board entirely civilian and to belligerents.

Senator Callinger revoluting it

Senator Gallinger recounting it length the activities of democratic fill-busters in previous congresses, said. To hear them exclaim now one would imagine that if they met a fill-buster in an alley they would call upon the police to rescue them from it.

He recurred then to further criticism of President Wilson reading a report that the president had declined to attend the unveiling of the Greene monument in North Carolina on ground that his attendance and remarks might be interpreted as unneutral. Senator Gallinger declared that if that was to be the attitude of the government, "we should haul down the riag from the capitol and white house on the Fourth of July.

He asked if any senator denied the accuracy of the report and Senator Overmin explained that the president in decliming the invitation had sant jokingly that if those extending it would guarantee that the war would be over by July 4 he might attend and say something unneutral.

DID JUDGE JOHNSON LOSE HIS CHICKENS? POLICE FIND SACK

Recorder George E. Johnson may have had his chicken coop robbed last night, and maybe not. Anyway, Of-wicer Kilpatrick while on his way to oficer Kilpatrick while on his way to police barracks to go on duty at 12 o'clock, midnight, espied a negro with a heavy load on his back coming out of an alley which passes behind Judge Johnson's back yard, corner of Orme and Mills street. The negro dropped his load and made a hasty exit.

The policeman examined the sack, discovering that it contained twenty dead chickens. The chicken thief had wring the neck of each chicken. The chickens were carried to police barracks for identification by the owner.

WANTS ENGLISH BANKERS TO EMULATE AMERICANS

London, January 29.—Sir Edward H. Holden, managing director of the London City and Midland bank, told the bank's directors today that the "Bank of England at present holds about $345,000,000, of which about $100,000,000 has been supplied by America in order to ease their exchanges,"

"If," he continued, "gold has to be exported, it is to be hoped that English bankers will be of as much assistance to their own country as American bankers have been to theirs, and place their gold at the disposal of the Bank of England."

WE SUNK BRITISH SHIP, BERLIN STILL CLAIMS

Berlin, January 29.—A telegram was received in Berlin today from Wilhelmshaven written by a sailor of the German apmored crulser Bluecher, sunk in the North sea battle on Sunday, in which he reports he was rescued by German vassels. That gives rise to hope in German naval quarters that more members of the Bluecher's crew may have been similarly picked up. Berlin newspapers publish English reports of the battle, but at the same time reassert their confidence that time will show the Eritish lost one or more shops in the engagement.

ASK BRANCH BANK FOR NEW ORLEANS

Federal Reserve Board Receives Request From Officials of Atlanta Regional Bank-No Action Taken.

Washington, January 29.—The fed-eral reserve board today took under eral reserve board today took under advisement a request from officials of the Atlanta regional bank that a branch be established at New Orleans, it was said such a step would involve many considerations and that no immediate action was probable.

The board has worked out no de-The board has worked out no detailed plans under which a branch federal bank might be established.

when they present the borrower's pa-per to reserve banks for rediscount.

The New Regulations.

The new regulation will not require statements of financial condition when member banks present depositor's pa per for rediscount in the following cases: Where bills bear the signatures of purchaser and seller of goods and present prima facie evidence that they were issued for goods actually pur-chased or sold; where the aggregate amount of obligations of depositor actually rediscounted and offered for re-discount do not exceed $5,000, 'or where bills are specifically secured by approved warehouse receipts covering readily marketable staples. Member banks shall certify to these conditions in manner to be designated by the federal reserve banks.

In issuing the new regulations the board announced it had not modified in detail concerning borrowers whos paper comes to reserve banks. The present step is taken, it was pointed out, to facilitate operations "particularly_during the initial period." Prudence Demunds Statement.

The board suggested that the regulations be applied to "purchased paper" bought through brokers or others with whom purchasing banks have no direct business relations. In such cases it said prudence seemed to demand financial statements. In cases of this sort where borrowers' statements in the required form are not available until after the close of the business year, statements for the previous year may be accepted until such condition is remedied. Member banks were urged to accustom borrowers to furnishing statements even in cases of limited borrowings.

The board issued a circular governing purchase of tax warrants by reserve banks. It made it clear that the interests of the banks and not of the municipalities should be considered in making such investments and pointed out that these investments should be relatively small in proportion of the banks' aggregate resources. In a regulation relating to agricultural paper the board announced that reserve banks might discount such paper with a maturity of more than three but less than six months in an amount equal to a percentage to be fixed by it from time to time for each reserve banks.

New regulations governing rediscount of commercial paper by federal reserve banks were issued today. They are designed to meet objections to those first issued on account of their stringent requirements for information of borrowers from member banks when they present the borrower's paper to reserve banks for rediscount.

GERMAN EMPEROR PLEASED AT UNITY OF ALL HIS PEOPLE

Berlin, January 29.—The Lokal An zeiger publishes additional accounts o the visit of Dr. Ludwig Ganghofer, the author, to Emperor William at German field headquarters. It fells of a trip by the emperor and Dr. Ganghofer to Donchery, near the Sedan battlefield. There the emperor, speaking of the unity of the German people, is queted as saying:

"It is my greatest pleasure that I could live to see it."
The emperor pointed out to the author where his father had stood at See dan, where Napoleon and Bismarck had met and other historic spots. The trip brought the party to head-quarters of the crown prince, where, after luncheon, the emperor turned smilingly to his son and said: "One gets better things to eat by you than by me. I shall consider whether I shall not requisition your cook."

whether I shall not requisition your cook."

The emperor there had an opportunity to see a thousand French prisoners march by. He was greatly pleased when some of them doned their caps to him and he returned their salute. During the review he turned to a photographer and said:

"Photograph the prisoners and not always me."

The party later climbed a steep ascent to get a view of the surrounding region. When descending Dr. Ganghofer slipped, but the emperor grasped him, saving him from a fall, and saying: ing:

"Soldiers and citizens must help each other all they can."

PRESENT POPULATION OF CANAL ZONE 31,000

Washington, January 29.-A census of the Canal Zone. Just completed shows a loss of 14.136 inhabitants durshows a loss of 14.136 inhabitants during the past year, the present population being 31,160.

The greatest population since the American occupation was 61,279, in 1912. Since then there has been a steady decrease, which is expected to continue until the population is reduced to actual employees of the Panama canal and the Panama railroad on the permanent basis, and persons in the military service of the United States, as the government has adopted Colonel Goethals' suggestion regarding the removal of the civil population from the zone as a military measure, except in the case of the terminal cities.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 154

"Come Unto Me" Caged Men

"They bound him with fetters of brass and he did grind in the prison house."—Judges 16:21.

Billy Sunday said to listening thousands:

" 'Thou shalt not kill.'

"Somebody says—'We are all right, there, Bill. We haven't murdered anybody." But, listen! There are other ways of killing besides sticking a dagger in somebody's heart, shooting his brains out, pounding his head to a pulp with a club or an axe. There are other ways of killing.

He might have said:

"For example, the blood of the man shot down before the door of a club in Atlanta, where he had been drinking and playing cards, is on the hands of the Councilmen who voted the permit to the club, is on the hands of the man who, by his vote, elected these Councilmen who caused this killing by licensing known violators of the law—Is on the hands of the citizens who tolerate these liquor-selling, lawdefying clubs!"

The Philadelphia North American, commenting upon Sunday's sermon, quotes Edward Alsworth Ross, of the University of Wisconsin, saying:

"'Modern sin takes its character from the mutualism of our time —

" "Interdependence puts us, as it were, at one another's mercy-

"The essence of the wrongs that infest our articulated society is betrayal rather than aggression—

"The sinister opportunities presented in this webbed social life have been seized unhesitatingly, because such treasons have not yet become infamous—

"The man who burglarizes with a "rake off" instead of a jimmy, or scuttles his town instead of a ship, does not feel on his brow the brand of a malefactor. The shedder of blood, the oppressor of the widow and the fatherless, long ago became odious, but latter day treacheries fly no skull-and-cross-bones flag at the masthead-

"If there is blood-letting, the long range, tentacular nature of modern homicide eliminates all personal collision—

"'Our iniquity is wireless, and we know not whose withers are wrung by it. The hurt passes into the vague mass, the public, and is there lost to view. Hence it does not take a Borgia to knead "chalk and alum and plaster" into the loaf, seeing one cannot know who will eat the loaf or what gripe it will give him—

"The owner of rotten tenement houses, whose "pull" enables him to ignore the orders of the health department, foredooms babies—

"'Undiscerning, the people chastise the old sins, but spare the new—They do not see that "boodling" is treason, that blackmail is piracy, that tax-dodging is larceny, that railroad discrimination is treachery, that factory labor of children is slavery—

"The child-beater is forever blasted in reputation, but the exploiter of child toil stands a pillar of society.'

But people are beginning to see. These things are fast becoming infamous in men's sight, because they are beginning to understand "the mutualism," "the interdependence," and their joint responsibility.

We are beginning to understand. Before he was bound with fetters of brass and put to grinding corn for the enemies of God, Samson had shackled himself with the chains of sin, he had betrayed himself, and in betraying himself, had betrayed Israel and his fellow men.

Our own individual failures appall. And we begin to see our share in all.

The recent effort in our city to filch, under the guise of charity, from men their day of rest illustrates. An ordinance, in direct violation of the law of Georgia, has already been proposed to open certain stores upon that day. We share the guilt, if we let others steal from us God's gift to us, our day of rest, Sunday.

Again, this shame, this stain is ours—Consider it—

Our representatives in Council, elected by us, license a violator of the law to run a saloon for negroes in Decatur street. This week a bartender shot a negro there.

And now our County Commissioners are proposing, for economy's sake, to cage our convicts, whom we breed with our lawlessness, law-breaking saloons and locker clubs—to cage them in cages on wheels.

Men, have you ever seen one of these unspeakable things?

In menageries, restless jungle beasts prowl back and forth, a hopeless walk. which now and then the giant cats vary by springing upon the shelves which line their cage, then down again to the floor, panting for the liberty of the wild—

This cage for beasts is palatial compared with these which already disgrace some of Georgia's Counties—cages where men made in the image of God, men in chains, look out not through straight bars such as confine the figer or lion, but through bars which cross, recross, and cross—

Think of the Cross of Christ!

God grant that our County Commissioners refuse to take this backward step in handling the prisoners of Fulton County—Refuse to make us parties to this cruelty!

Georgia has suffered long enough from lawlessness and disregard for human life and sorrow.

Add not this to our disgrace!

Convicts are men, who have sinned. God calls them with you to repent.

Christ's word, "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden—" He spoke to all—He speaks to all who feel the weariness, the burden, the drag of the shackling chain of sin.

Brother—You are not a convict?

No. But you are a sinner in chains.

Hear Christ. Turn you.

"Turn ye. Turn ye from your evil ways. Why will you die?"

"Repent you, therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out-' ''Come unto Me.''

Betray not yourself and your fellow man.

> Parents' Help Is Requested.

Real estate men and property owners have complained to the police of depredations and thefts of plumbing material in vacant houses in many sections of the city. They are urging a more careful lookout on the part of the police generally in an effort to put a stop to the losses sustained through thefts and willful destruction of property on the part of thieves and tramps, and through thoughtless vandals, of children who have been in the habit of making vacant houses their playmaking grounds.

Benjamin D. Watkins, a prominent real estate man, called attention on Friday to the repeated thefts of valuable plumbing material from vacant houses. He declared that hundreds of dollars' worth of material have been removed from houses in various sections recently by thieves who have dis-posed of it to pawnbrokers and others, and that in some instances tramps have been in the habit of slipping into the houses at night, often committing acts of vandalism and at times building fires in the open grates.
"In other instances," said Mr. Wat.

"In other instances," said Mr. Wat-kins, "children are known to have gone into vacant houses and tear down the blinds and use them as ladders. They kick holes in the newly plastered and newly papered walls and otherwise destroy valuable property. I have in mind a house at 58 Boulevard place, which some children virtually turned unside down in their desire to get materially advanced long before the meeting of the general assembly this year, according to S. B. Marks. Letters are being sent out to each member of the legislature appraising him of the bills to be presented and urging support.

In addition to the concentrated work of the labor legislative committee, a movement of aggressive co-operation will be launched when committees of labor organizations over the state call upon their respective representatives for aid for local needs.

The purpose of these local committees is to be educative. They will, it is said, submit facts which will be of

RULES FOR PRIMARIES FOR ROME COMMISSION

Rome, Ut., January 29.—(Special.)—The city executive committee has adopted rules to govern the primaries of February 23 for commissioners of of February 22 for commissioners of Rome under the new form of government, and has also announced the rules for the primary of February 26, provided no candidate receives a majority of all votes cast. In addition to these primaries, an election will also be held for two executive committeemen from each ward of the city. A new rule of the committee requires that the vote must be for as many candidates as there are places to be filled, and no "single-shotting" will be permitted.

Registration books for the primary and elections are now open, and there is great interest in the result. The position of first commissioner is sought by five candidates.—W. M. Gammon. Terhune, C. S. Pruden, R. H. McClain and J. R. Cantrell. The four deputy commissioners' places are desired by John P. Davis, F. M. Irwin, A. Randie, John C. Printup, L. F. McKoy, F. B. Holbrooks, A. B. A COURAGEOUS JUDGE.

of the Ocmulgee judicial circuit, for his recent unsparing denunciation of lynch law at Greensboro. His remarks are significant from the fact that Monticello, in Jasper county, where the recent indefensible exhibition of mob law was staged, is in his circuit.

Lynchings have been growing less frequent in Georgia and the south during the past few years. The phenomenon may be traced to two causes: A courageous judiciary, and an aroused public conscience, a fearless press working upon both.

. The press must sustain Judge Park and the better element in Jasper county, whom, we are certain, view with shame the blot upon their county. The lawiess telement must be taught a lesson. If several negroes can be lynched for a crime that was not even a capital offense, and go unwhipt of justice. what guarantee is there that the lives of white men and women under similar circumstances are safe?

The danger of mob law is its terrible temptation to contagion, of extra-legal justice with all that means.

A ROCK BOTTOM BASIS.

Leaders in congress are quoted as opposed to the extension of the war tax, which expires by limitation at the end of the current year.

The war tax has been unpopular and unnecessary from the start.

It is absurd to claim that a congress that appropriates more than $1,000,000,000 of the people's money cannot economize enough at various sources to make up the deficit now represented in the war tax.

The whole nation, big and little corporations, rich men and poor men, are now practically on a rock-bottom basis. . Congress at a time of stress like this-should put the government on a rock-bottom In the single item the war tax is small and picayunish. In the aggregate it is formidable, nag-'ging, just one' more burden on men already overburdened and impressed with a sense of its injustice.

"OF COURSE!"

The following extract from a recent report of a commercial agency ought to be printed in large type and framed above the mantel of every southern farmer:

Of course, merchants are banking on obtaining best results from the cereal-producing sections of the west, northwest and southwest, where farmers appear to be independent. "Of course!"

These sections are not committed to the one-crop folly. They grow vast crops of wheat and corn, and they raise live stock and poultry products. They have to go into debt occasionally to produce their crops, but you will not find in those territories the spectacle common in the south, where the farmer, putting all his eggs in the all-cotton basket, is almost in peonage to the fertilizer-man, the merchant and the banker. The south was just such a section before the war. It grew plenty of cotton, to be sure, but each plantation and most of the small farms were principalities to themselves. If needs be, they could survive in plenty from one year's end to the other without aid from the outside.

. The civil war and the aftermath of reconstruction revolutionized this condition. The country threw its developmental energy toward the west and southwest, which became the granaries for the nation, and fastened on the south the job of growing cotton, as the one cash crop that would provide a reasonably quick exit from the abyss. The necessity for this condition passed twenty years ago, but the condition lingers, though the European war bids fair to bring a benevolent revolution. There is no reason why the southern farmer should not hold a big lead over the western farmer in inde- instance.

pendence. He can raise all the food crops that have made the west independent, and over and above these, cotton, which the western farmer cannot raise. As it is, we go into debt to raise cotton, sending a large part of the proceeds of the annual mortgage to the west for meat and grains. If the civil war shocks us out of this suicidal folly, and there are infallible indications in that direction, it will prove a rich blessing in disguise.

VON HERRMANN'S FUMBLE!

The estimable Von Herrmann who dishes out weather forecasts for this vicinity and sustains the alternate blessings and anathemas of the populace, stands guilty, in baseball parlance, of "fumbling the ball." Here for six days he has been keeping us in a constant state of terror by prophecies of a blizzard, which as yet has not materialized.

Von Herrmann, however, has made amends. He has given us two glorious days of sunshine and air as crisp as a June night in the mountains. And when you remember that in daily target practice he hits the bull's-eye four times out of five, we have much to be thankful for that we have himand may his shadow never grow less!

LOOKING UP.

The "turning of the tide" in business is emphasized every day.

At Murphysboro, Ill., the Mobile and Ohio railroad has decided to reopen, on February 2, shops that will give employment to one thousand men.

At Connellsville, Pa., the H. C. Frick coke ovens will fire up, giving employment to one thousand or more men, who have been idle for a year.

As for Georgia, a special to The Constitution from Cuthbert states that times are good in that vicinity, and that a 6 per cent dividend had been declared by the Cuthbert Wholesale Merchandising company, which We pay tribute to Judge James B. Park, handles cotton. That means cotton is mov-

> From Jackson, in Butts county, comes the report that freight receipts are heavier than January of last year, and that no grain is being shipped into the county. What that means needs no elaboration:

> . Savannah reports that 250,000 bales of cotton are loading there for European ship?

Cotton everywhere is tumbling into market and being converted into cash, tempted by the higher prices.

The south, according to Henry G. Hester, of New Orleans, world-wide cotton expert, is $120,000,000 richer in one crop alone, cotton, than in November, and it is getting richer every day. 🕠

Both the south and the nation are holding obsequies over the croakers!

Things are looking up!

PATRONAGE.

Former President Taft spoke to the point at Charlottesville, Va., when he declared that the problem of patronage often robbed the whole people of a president's best energies.

A president must often neglect the public. business while he wrestles with factions, charges and counter-charges. In the long run, he is apt to offend by his appointment just as likely as he is apt to please. It is an old adage that where there are ten applicants for a given position the appointing power made one ingrate and nine enemies.

The civil service has lifted a measure of the burden off the president's shoulders, but it is still tremendous. The party or man who can devise a way out of a perennial menace to the efficiency of parties, public service and public servants, will do the country a service.

A NOVEL RECEIPT.

(From The Indianapolis News.) Take one ocean liner plying between San Francisco and the Philippines. Add a young man going to Hawaii on business, and an heiress and her aunt going nowhere in particular. Mix the two young folk gradually among the other passengers, with an oc-casional half-hour alone away from the watchful eyes of the aunt. Turn the ship into the center of one tropical storm. Mix gradually until they come to a froth, the sea and the howling of the winds.

Beat the vessel slowly against jagged rocks until it is well pounded up. Throw in looks of despair to suit the taste. Add one blinding flash of lightning "that rent the heavens" to a "convulsive heave of the stout old hull that had braved the southern seas for years."

Pour a wave, mountain high, on the ship, mixing the passengers briskly together; then turn the entire mass suddenly into the sea Put the young man's arm providentially against a floating spar, chicken coop door torn off a stateroom. Have another convenient wave sweep the maid in his direction. Put in a "strong young man." Add "then all grew black."

HAD ENOUGH OF EXPERTS.

From The Seattle Post-Intelligencer. S. McEachran, a hardwood lumberman he Philippine Islands, was standing in the llobby of his hotel when a stranger walked up and introduced himself as an expert blacksmith and carpenter who would like employment in the Philippine woods. "Not a chance" was the almost instantaneous reply of Mr. McEachran, who has holdings scattered over the island of Luzon Afterwards he explained to a group of acquaintances why he had been so cunt. "Many years ago, when I was just entering the Philippine Islands business, I took a bunch of experienced workers from the States. It cost me about $150 apiece for their fares, and most of them were under contract to receive $125 a month for a year The venture was a sad fallure.

"Before three months had gone by these men had taught the natives how to do the work, hired them at $10 a month and were themselves lazily basking in the sunshine went out into the cuttings one day and found an entire native crew running the donkey engines and other machinery, while my $125 a month experienced help were playing with the monkeys or sleeping. Every few hours they would take a look at the engines to see that everything was all right, and then go back to sleep. I couldn't make them work.

Mr. McEachran concluded with the statement that the Philippine Islands offered no opportuniteis for the man with small capital or the man who intends to work for a salary. "Too many of the natives can do that kind of work, and will do it for onehalf of what's white man wants and needs.

THE TITANIC MEMORIAL. (Winfield M. Thompson in Harper's Maga-

Glowing In pure aquamarine, like an enormous jewel, it points the way until the gray veil lifts and the softened profile of the lower city, its illuminated towers rising like fairy castles into the clouds, looms near at hand. The boat glides into its slip, and its passengers file ashore, unmindful of the marvelous for that purpose borrow mon, and mortgage beauty of the softened city of light and its their abodes. On a tall building dedicated to the needs of sailors stands this modern Pharos, erected to a tragic memory. Each night its bright glow guides the sallor within the port, whether he be freshly come from the perils of the deep or plies the familiar routes of harbor voyages. Above the cold white glitter of a thousand arcs the yellow gleam of millions of incandescent bulbs, the deep ruddy beam of the harbor lights, the winking of the channel buoys and the changing red and green shafts of shipping shines the deep, phosphorescent glow of the Titanic memorial-a symbol of TOO COLD FOR A SPHINK.

(From The Philadelphia Evening Ledger.) Several blankets, ear mults, pulse warmers and a large open fireplace are badly needed by the aged sphinx who sits in front of the University museum at Thirty-fourth and Spruce streets and defies the museum authorities to take him inside where it's warm. Officials have come to the conclusion that if he stays outside much longer the dold will break him in half, but the only way of getting him inside is to break hole in the wall, the door not being large

Professor Max Muller, noted Egyptologist, says that one year of this climate will do more to damage a sphinx than five thousand years of

Damages are what happens to a corporaon when it steps on a private citizen. Ordinarily the citizen has no chance. Each morning the heartless corporation feels him over and removes what stray dimes are concealed about his person. For years he struggles on supporting high priced racing meter stock, waiting all night in refrigerated depots for trains and paying dues in the evening sardine club which meets in the street car vestibule.

If he objects to all this he is entitled to go and cry into the rain barrel. But one he steps off of a street car backward and sits down on his neck on the hard pavement.

And lo! The heart of that man leaps with joy and he rises and sprints for a awyer.

Shortly afterwards the lawyer files suit or the man for $67,435.89 damages, include a broken leg. concussed spine. dislo-

And their hearts swell with envy at the good luck dismantled victim and they give him damages for the full amount with costs and doctor bills. Owing to the growing scarcity of gold ines, damages are about the only method the plug voter has of getting rich instantaneously these days. The invention of the automobile has been a (great boon in this irection. Owing to the poor financial rating of the ordinary owner of a horse and buggy there was no profit in getting run down prior to 1900, but today it is possible to walk absently into an automobile from be-hind and collect $12,000 for a pair of soiled trousers and a broken tail light.

In automobile cases the plaintiff collects the damages on both sides.

Those citizens desiring to go into the damage business should carefully retrain. however, from getting burt while at work.

If a toiler feeds himself into a blast furnace his widow cannot collect more than $5,000 It is far better to sprain an ankle by fall ing over a sult case in a train belonging to a good solvent company and to leave matter to the native honesty and justice of a carefully picked jury.

THE AUTO.

The auto is a lovely cart in which to rip and race; but if the owner's truly smart, he'll make it know its place. "You'll do all right for leisure hours," he says, in earnest tones, "but I won't let you, by the powers, use all my stock of bones. If you should interfere with trade or keep me from my biz, I'll put you where the junk is laid, so help me now, G. Whiz!" I know so many who for fun burn up the country roads, and io they seem to care it scho And then the sheriff, haughty gent, comes up and makes some spiels, and springs legal document with large and crimson seals. The thought of those who waste their days in cars should causeous gloom; a thousand thousand dippy jays are chugging to their doom. The auto is a servant fine whose fame will never slump; but when it's master, friend of mine, 'twill lead you to the dump.

The Holland Letter

The department of commerce at Wash ington in its recent report of the foreign trade of the United States gives figures which surpass the highest estimate made on January 1 of the money value of the excess exports over imports in Decomber. In this column it was reported at that time that the experts estimated that the excess of exports in money value for December would be about $115,000,000. One of the experts went so far as to say that the complete figures would show an excess of $125,000,000. Secreaary Redfield, however, reports that the excess of exports over imports in December was, using round numbers, $131,-863,000. Another item in the report made by the department of commerce states that in the calendar year 1914 the imports were. again using round numbers, of the money value of $1,789,000,000, which was within $13,000,000 less than the imports in the calendar year 1913. On the other hand, the exports were of the money value of $2,114. 000,000, which was about $370,000,000 money value less than the exports of last year. We have, however, secured an apparent or trade balance upon our foreign trade in the calcudar year of about $500,000,000, and this averages well with our trade balances of recent years.

With Careful Study.

There are several features of this report which are worth careful study, especially as they disclose some of the changed relations which were occasioned by the European war. First of all, the record made in December of sales to other countries almost matches the greatest record of exports and shows the remarkable change that was made after the first of September, as, for instance, in August the balance of rende was against us for the month by nearly $20,000,000. That was in part due to the outbreak of war, but it also represented somewhat stagnant industrial conditions in the United States., A condition of that kind could not have been maintained during the autumn without causing serious emparrassment to the United States. A condition of that kind could not have been maintained during the autumn without causing serious embarrasement to the United States. The change for the better was first noticed in September. There had been a gain of $35,000,000-that is to say, our exports in September were greater than our imports by $16,000,000—and, as in August, there was, an excess of imports of $19,-

000,000, the difference was $35,000,000. It was sometimes said in September that this change was likely to be only temporary, and represented urgent demands from foreign countries. That was an inaccurate conception, for in October the excess of exports was $56,000,000. round numbers, and in November $79,000,000, and in December $131 .-000,000. These progressive increases are of themselves sufficient to prove not only the magnitude of the demands other nations have made upon us, but also that these de-manda steadily increase. That this is true is demonstrated by the record made in the week ending Saturday, January 16. From the port of New York alone exports of the money value of $36,000. 000 were made in that week, and this was $23,000,000 greater than the exports of the similar week of last year. In no week of 1914 was there a record as large as this of exports from New York the second week of lanuary. Apparently the January record is sure to exceed the one which was made in December, and the estimate is now made that the money value of exports from the United States in January is likely to be somewhat in excess of $140,000,000. Another Ecuture.

There is one feature not yet reported in detail of these exports which is without any precedent even by the United States or in the foreign trade of any other nation. Great Britain's normal foreign trade, including imports as well as exports, has been approximately $5,000,000,000. Much the greater part of the exports from Great Britain have been for years manufactured commodities. Agri cultural products are not exported from Great Britain to any extent. Germany great export trade, which so suddenly collapsed when the war began, was in great manufactured -commodities largely steel products. The United States .. and Germany were running almost neck and neck in the money value of exports. On the other hand, Russia's exports have consisted chiefly of wheat and other agricultural products. Her imports have been of manufactured commodities. When there comes from the department of commerce a detailed statement of the foreign trade of the United States in the calendar year of 1914, it will be discovered that manufactured commodities and cultural products, including cotton, are substantially of equal money value. Once in h while there are furnished proofs of the magnitude of manufacturing operations which depresent foreign demand. One of these proofs came from Trenton, N. J., the other day and was revealed by the destruction by fire of one of the Roebling manufacturing plants. In this plant insulated wire was manufactured. It has been running night and day for the purpose of meeting an order which came from France for a peculia: find of insulated wire. Of course, the fact that the plant was operating night and day to its full capacity led to the inference that was attempting to meet an order from one of the foreign nations. The burning of this plant led to the publication of a report that the Roeblings had received an order for 10,000,000 feet of wire, as well as for other war material. The purchase a few days ago of the Pope Manufacturing plant, at Hartford, for which $300,000 spot cash was pald by the Niles-Bement-Pond company, whose subsidiary is the Pratt & Whitney company at Hartford, justified the inference that the European wan had compelled the corporation greatly to increase its manufacturing facilities.

Custom house records show how enormous the export of wheat and other food products has been and now is, and also show the recent vast movement of cotton across the sea. These records, however, do not show at least in detail, the exports of manufactured commodities. But there is no doubt that the excess of $131,000,000 in December exports represents in about equal parts the movement of grain and cotton on the one hand, products of the soil, and, on the other hand, the external movement of manufac-tured commodities. Herein is contained one of the reasons why the leading men of finance of Great-Britain are convinced that the United States will be able easily to meet the foreign demand for commodities no matter how great it is, and will for that reason be able to undertake some very important

From one point of view, of course, this great export is abnormal. The chances are that the record of 1914 of the United States foreign trade would have shown a debit balance and not a credit one. There are certain individual items which in the past have cut deeply into our foreign trade balance, but in the year 1914 will not have done, that, Travelers' credits for the last five months of the year) were very small, Ordinarily, these credits have been estimated to absorb about $159,000,000 a year from our visible credit balance. We must also have considerably reduced our obligations on account of interest and dividends, and there are those who prodict that if present/conditions last two or three years the United States will have absorbed all of the American securities, perhaps $3.000,000 in all, now held by investors across the sea. When that is done we shall be a creditor nation in fact as well as in name.

be entitled to the appointment of a receiver for the company if it should appear from the pleadings that compilance has been had with the insurance act of 1914.

It appears that the Georgia legislature, during its last, session, and after the case of Judge Brown vs. Empire Life Insurance company had been filed, passed a Taw requiring all claims against insurance companies to be first submitted to the insurance board, consisting of the governor, the attorney general and the insurance companies.

Hearing Hefore Board.

While contending that the law was unconstitutional because depriving equity course of the exclusive jurisdiction guaranteed under the constitutional rights to prosecute actions in all the courts in person or by attorney, and because in constitution against retroactive application of any laws, it appeared from an amendment field by counsel for Judge Brown on yesterday that the measures prescribed by the act of 1914 were, the streatfer.

The amendment recited that as a result of said hearing the insurance commissioner required the Empire Life Insurance company to pay all default and policy loans, to cases writing insurance or gaining stock and to reinsure also policies within a reasonable time.

Brown on yesterday that the measures prescribed by the act of 1914 were resorted to by Judge Brown on August 16, two days after the approval of the act, and that full hearing of his complaint was had before the insurance board, which did not terminate until two months thereafter.

The amendment recited that as a result of said hearing the insurance commissioner required the Empire Life Insurance company to pay all defaulted death claims, cash surrenders and policy loans, to cease writing insurance or selling stock and to reinsure at policies within a reasonable time, and that upon the failure of the Empire Life Insurance company to comply with such requirements, the insurance commissioner had filed proceedings in Richmond superior court, taking charge of the entire (assets and business of the company.

of the entire (assets and business of the company.

The amendment recited the petitlon of the insurance commissioner as filed in the Brown case in Fulton superior court, in which General Wright, through the attorney general, alleged that the action in the Etichmond court was inadvertently filed under the hisapprehension that the principal office of the company was located in Augusof the company was located in Augus-ta, whereas he has subsequently as-certained that its principal office was in Atlanta

The decision of Judge Ellis overruling defendant's dembrrers retained jurisiction of the Borwn case, ruling that if it should appear by an amendment to the plaintiff's petition that the act of 1914 had been complied with the right of the plaintiff to the appointment of a receiver under his allegations would be complete, and counsel for plaintiff stated that the amendment was tendered in accordance with the decision of Judge Ellis.

Upon objection from Mr. Rosser, of the firm of Rosser, Brandon, Slaton & Phillips, attorneys for the company, further consideration of the case was postponed until Monday, when the ap-plication for a receiver will be re-

Mr. Lawson referred to the Rockefeller foundations' appropriations of $1,000,000 for investigation into the causes of industrial unrest as "what this commission was appointed to do." "Who are the directors of this foundation?" Mr. Lawson asked.

Dr. Eliot said he was connected with the general education board and other philanthropic foundations established by Andrew Carnegie and Mr. Rockefeller. He thought the practice of interlocking the directorates of such foundations was a good one, the only objection being in the possible failure of the directors to be physically able to attend to the business of several organizations.

He thought that the general education board had given $200,000,000 to education.

There was only one condition attached to the board's endowments; that condition was that a part of the money should be spent in teaching theology. The board made that condition, Dr. Ellot said, because it did not care to be placed in the light of assisting or supporting any sect or religion. porting any sect or religion.

Dr. Eliot said he believed in organized labor, but did not believe in the closed shop. He favored placing labor representatives on boards of directors.

announcement, told Secretary Bryan today that the food ship would be selected within a few days and that plans for providing a cargo already had been worked out. Nathan Straus, of New York, has subscribed $50,000 to the fund.

The food will be distributed through American consular agents not only to Hebrews but to Mohammedans' and Christians as well. Mr. Brandeis said Christian organizations were assisting in the movement.

Ambasador Morganthau at Constantinople has reported that he is doing everything possible to meet the situation, but the Zionist committee decided that outside help was necessary. The state department has promised to inquire into reports of attacks on Jews and to facilitate the sending of the relief ship.

MORTUARY (All. Funeral Notices Appear Last Page.)

John Towns, Dalton.

Dalton, Ga., January 29.—(Special.) John Towns, aged 70, died here at the residence of his sister, Mrs. R. A. Rushton, after a lingering illness. The deceased was well known to the traveling public heavier here.

WAYCROSS ORGANIZING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Waycross, Ga., January 29.— Special.)—With fifty-sevon members secured in ten minutes after the membership list opened it seems that the Waycross and Ware Chamber of Commerce, launched for the express purpose of developing the agricultural resources of Ware, is going to exceed the hopes of the most optimistic. It is believed the new organization will secure not less than 500 members and prove one of the most active trade bodies in Georgia if not in the south. It has been agreed to have a meeting as soon as fifty members were secured and the success of the movement at the very outset makes certain the speedy perfection of the hamber of commerce.

BAINBRIDGE BOARD ENJOYS BIRD SUPPER with traders expecting decline. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Bainbridge, Ga., January 29.—(Special.)—The first social session of the board of trade just held has been promounced by visitors from north and south to have been unique. It was a bird supper, the quail having been furnished by the hunting members who had scoured the woods for a week for the occasion, of which E. Blumenstein, chairman of the entertainment committee, was the guiding spirit. Other dainty edibles, of which he holds the exclusive recipe, were on the bill of fare. Assisting him were J. M. Floming, Lewis Cliett and A. B. Belcher, Two hundred enjoyed the birds and accompaniments. The chief speaker was Charles B. Caldwell, of Dublin Chamber of Commerce.

Bainbridge's New Hospital. Bainbridge, Ga., January 29—(Soccial.)—The Bainbridge hospital, after several months' preparation, has been declared ready for patients and is equipped with the latest devices for comfort and health-producing its operating room, especially, is a model and few small cities of today can boast its superior. The resident physical is of European and wide American experience and a splendid corps of nurses have been added.

Bainbridge Curfew Law.

Bainbridge, Ga., January 23.—(Spocial.)—The currew law, long a dead letter in Bainbridge, will go into effect February 1. On and after that date every child under 16 found on the streets unaccompanied after 10 p. miwill be arrested. There has been much discussion of this law necessity here for some time, but the matter was precipitated several nights ago when two little boys were found trying to break into the storeroom of the Bainbridge Pecan company after entering several other places.

market for a time today feit less the weight of selling orders which, combined with buying on the part of local spot firms and foreign interests, brought about a moderate advance in prices. Hedge selling has again fallen to small proportions, which has been influential in checking liquidation in this market. However, the volume of general business is small, as there is no strong incentive to buy freely at the moment.

JAY, BOND & CO.

New York January 29.—(Special.)—
Europe continues to express its belief in cotton by showing a stronger tone than shown on this side, where the feeling in the past week has become quite pessimistic, due partly to the amount of cotton that came on the market for sale on the basis of 8 cents in the south and partly on account of the decline in the stock market, which was expected to check investment buying and possibly bring out cotton for sale that had been bought for an investment at lower prices. In fact, the feeling is so bearish that it is difficult to find many who look with favor on the purchase of cotton. Those who do think they can see a better goods trade with exhausted reserve supplies not only of cotton goods, but of almost every article the community needs. They think cotton well down to the cost of production and feel that to own it on that basis is good mercantile judgment, not speculation. The market closed heavy with traders expecting decline.

CREMATORY CHANGES ARE DECLARED TRIVIAL

Plant Is Best Human Ingenuity Can Devise, Contends Dr. Herring.

"Is it not your opinion as an experi that holes for the admission of air made in the side of a furnace are a material disregard of the specifications when the contract says that this Heeman incinerator should have such aper-tures in its bottom?" asked City At-torney J. L. Mayson in cross-examining Dr. Rudolph Herring, testifying Friday in the suit of the Destructor company against Atlanta. "Decidedly not;" said the doctor, "and under the terms of the contract it is an immaterial triviality." Thus did the consulting engi-

Frank Callaway inquired if he was to understand that the questions put were to bring out the fact that the steam generated by the furnace was derived from the damp rubbish thrown into the furnace for incineration.

Dr. Herring maintained that the crematory plant as now standing is the best that human ingenuity could devise and excellently constructed to meet, under normal conditions, the destruction of the city's garbage. In admitting that the sered potato carefully culled from the dump heap by Mayor Woodward might have passed through the furnace, he emphatically referred to "the fallibility of the human element" in operating the machinery. When asked by Master Callaway what steps would be taken in the event the plant met all requirements in an official test and afterward fell down in use, Attorney Mayson stated that the city would collect the bond made by the destructor company for the erection of a plant expected to give complete and useful service.

MRS. LOUISE WYATT ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Mrs. Louise Wyatt, 256 Courtland street, who narrowly escaped being burned to death several days ago, was reported last night to be on the road to recovery. Mrs. Wyatt was standing before the grate when her clothing caught afire and she was badly burned about the body. A number of boarders rushed in and found her in a faint on the floor. They rolled her in blankets until the fire was smothered.

STATE CAPITOL GUARD RESTS IN ROSE HILL

The funeral of Joseph B. Allen, guard for many years at the state capitol, who died Thursday at his home, 121 Crew street, was held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence, with interment in Rose Hill cemetery. Members of Camp 159, Confederate Veterans, to which he belonged, acted as escort.

Mr. Alien was 19 years old. He was made guard at the capitol by the late General John B. Gordon, the governor. He lost his right arm during the battle of Chickamauga, and in the hospital was placed beside the cot of General J. B. Hood, who had lost a leg in the same fight! ame fight:

ALBERT BUTLER, JR., RESTS IN RIPLEY, OLD HOME PLACE

The body of Albert L. Butler, Jr., as sistant manager of the circulation de young men in the service of The Constitution, who died Thursday, has been taken to Ripley, Tenn., the old home place, for funeral and interment.

Mr. Butler's newspaper career began during 1906 in the circulation depart ment of The Memphis News-Scimitar After two years' service he resigned and went to Denver, Colo., where he engaged in other business, but the attractions of newspaper life induced him o re-enter that field in 1910, when he became connected with The Birming ham News.

From there Mr. Butler came to Atlanta to accept service with The Constitution as assistant circulation manager in 1911. During the early part of 1913 he accepted a similar position

At a meeting of the executive com-mittee of the National Currency Asso-ciation of Georgia, held Friday morning, a significant feature was that the committee devoted practically all of its time to considering applications for the retirement of so-called emergency cur-rency issued under the Alarich-Vree-land act, and did not receive any appli-cations for new circulations of this cur-

For two hours the attorney labored with the technicalities of garbage disposal. At one point as the examination was carefully groping through the intricacles of steam appliances. Master Frank Callaway, inquired if he was to bring out the fact that the steam generated by the furnace was derived from the damp rubbish thrown into the furnace for incineration.

Dr. Herring maintained that the greatest and the carely part of 1914.

AT THE THEATERS

"Our Wives."

This afternoon "Our Wives," the excellent comedy which has served to introduce the Baldwin-Melville Stock company at the Atvalanta, will be given at a matinee. The last performance of this delightful play is for tonight. "Our Wives" is a comedy full of laughs and with sufficient touches of pathes to hold even the most sentimental. The company has made a declided hit in it. Next week the company will present the master American play, "The Man From Home," which opens Monday night. Ladles accompanied by gentlemen with paid sasts will be admitted free the opening night and doubtless a packed house will greet the players. Twenty-five cent matinees will be players.

Keith Vaudeville.

With matinee and night performances today the Forsyth will have recorded one pleased a great many people. The program for next week is one of excellent promise.

lesse L. Lasky, the famous producer of "The Trained Nurses," and "The Red Heads" will present "The Beauties" for the headline position. There are a number of dashing show girls in the little musical comedy company, and with clever comedians there will be 40 minutes of good lively entertainment. Florenze Tempest, with her planist and her dancing partner will be the special feature of the bill and a drawing eard. Britt Wood, salways an Atlanta favorité will contribute his comedy and harmonica specialty and others on the bill will be the Expesition Four, the best instrumental quartet in all vandeville.

(At the Grand.)

Celebrating its tenth week under the management of Arthur S. Hyman and F. T. Barbour, the Grand on Friday, put on a special bill featuring three-big films—"After Five," with Edward Abeles in the leading roule; "The Mun Behind the Door," starring Wally Van and Cissy, Fitzgeraid, and "Puss in the Well," a fairy story from the immortal Mother Goose Book. The Grand was crowded at both matinee and evening performed.

COLLECTOR KELLY EXPLAINS REMARKS ON BANK TAXATION

R. A. Kelly, deputy collector, who several days since addressed the Bank-ers and Brokers Club of Atlanta, has issued a statement to the effect that subsequent reports published in respect to the liability of banks for taxation under the income tax law, are liable to be misleading.
"The report, evidently through some misapprehension, seems to ascribe to me language that I did not use, and is capable of interpretation that I did not intend," he says.

not intend," he says.

"It was not my intention to be understood as saying that banks can make any deductions from their gross income on account of any taxes paid or payable on their shares under the laws of the state or any county or city in the state. It is my understanding that the law of Georgia does not tax banks on their capital stock, but taxes the share-holders on the value of their shares, the banks being required to gay the tax for the shareholders.

"Of course, wherever a bank pays

Tor the shareholders.

"Of course, wherever a bank pays taxes on its own property and for itself, this is a proper deduction, and in so far as the report indicates that the tax on surplus was a proper deduction. I was misunderstood. The surplus of canks is not taxed under the laws of Georgia except as it is reflected in the value of the shares. In this particular it stands on the same basis exactly as their capital stock."

IMES PREACHES SERMON ON HICKMAN'S HANGING

Dean Lake Imes took for his text last night at the First Congregational church, colored, the execution of Burrlt Hickman, whom he attended on the gablows yesterday morning. He showed how God could take a man at the bottom of the moral scale and change him into a man meet for His kingdom. He illustrated his theme with facts gathered at the execution.

Two great mass meetings have been arranged for Sunday. That in the morning will be for women and girls only. That at night will be for men and boys only.

SAYS GERMAN BANKER Lawyers Advise Drinking

Reichbank, President Havenstein said the bank's condition, the money market and the general business of the country had made satisfactory progress during the past month. Labor statisfic for the month of December were more favorable than ever before for that month, and January reports continue to be satisfactory.

Freight receipts for the Prussian railways, according to Herr Havenstein, show steady gains. December receipts were 95 per cent of those of December, 1913. The Reichbank's gold stock was continually increasing, an increase of $17,600,000 having been made since December ?23. Note circulation had contracted about $40,000,000 from the previous, notwithstanding the credits extended to the imperial treasury.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED AGAINST MRS, WALTERS

New York, January 29 The Bronx New York, January 29.—The Bronx county grand jury today returned two indictments charging murder In the first degree against Mrs. Ida Waltera, who was known as the wife of Lorlys Eliton Rogers and alleging that she poisoned her two babies.

Mrs. Walters is now, in a hospital recovering from a dore of poison she administered to herself at the same time she is alleged to have poisoned her children, a month ago yesterday. Meanwhile she has been attended almost constantly by Rogers; who, although married to another woman, has shown a disposition to stand by the woman in her trouble. Rogers himself was arrested several days ago on a charge of violating a section of the penal code.

MISS COPE RELEASED; GIVES BOND OF $1,000

Chicago, January 29.—Miss Jessie Elizabeth Cope, indicted on charges of attempted bribery of government officials, was released from custody today on a bond of $1,000, after the case against her had been indefinitely continued in federal court. The indictment against her was the outgrowth of an investigation of her charge that Colonel Charles Alexander, a millionaire, of Providence, R. I., had violated the Mann act. An alleged agreement by which Miss Cope offered to divide $50,000 with government prosecutors if that sum could be obtained from Colonel Alexander, was the basis of the indictment against her.
