

House Committee Urges $30,000 for State Farm; Extra $10,000 for Tech

Appropriations Committee Asks Emergency Fund for Pressing Needs at Milledgeville. $70,000 PROVIDED FOR FARM DEVELOPMENT IN SMITH-LEVER FUND Georgia Tech Gets $10,000 Increase—New Special Appropriations for 1916 Are $55,174—Public Schools Increase $50,000.

The first act of the appropriations committee, Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, chairman, when it met Tuesday afternoon, was to recommend the special appropriation of $30,000 for the construction of needed buildings, the boring of pure water wells, the installation of a complete sewerage system and for other pressing needs at the state farm and reformatory at Milledgeville, as outlined in the report of the joint senate and house committee, which was submitted to the house on Tuesday morning.

The sentiment of both branches of the assembly, it is believed, is in favor of these improvements at the farm, lack of which have recently proved so disastrous, and the recommendation of the appropriations committee is regarded as practically assuring that these improvements upon which the prison commission has long insisted will be forthcoming at the earliest possible moment, so that the work of making the improvements may be rapidly rushed.

Share in Smith-Lever Fund. Regarded by many as next in importance, if not of prime importance, was the recommendation of the committee for an appropriation of $25,174 in 1916, and $48,174 in 1917 to qualify the state of Georgia to participate in the benefits of the federal Smith-Lever act, under the provisions of the Smith-Lever act, if the state assembly accepts the committee's recommendation, Georgia will receive from the federal government for agricultural educational purposes next year $35,174, and the year following $55,174, these in addition to the $10,000 appropriation recommended. This federal appropriation will increase each year for the next six years, providing the state makes corresponding appropriation each year, less $10,000.

Atlanta and friends of Georgia Tech in all parts of the state will be glad to know that the committee voted an increase of $10,000 in the maintenance fund for Tech, giving that institution next year $100,000. This increase is for the maintenance of the new power plant, the building for which was built by public subscription in Atlanta, and the machinery for which, valued at more than $200,000, was donated by northern machinery manufacturing concerns. It was largely through the efforts of Representative Crawford Wheatley, of Sumter, and Chairman Fullbright before the committee that this increase in the Tech appropriation was brought about.

The public school fund was increased to $2,600,000, an increase of $50,000. The total increases in general funds for various purposes recommended by the committee Tuesday afternoon aggregated $203,500. Of this increase $70,000 falls in 1917 under the appropriation for the state sanitarium. New special appropriations made for 1916 aggregated $25,174, or the 1917 Smith-Lever appropriation alone.

Appropriations Favored. The appropriations recommended favorably by the committee Tuesday afternoon are as follows: Special appropriation to the prison commission for immediate and pressing needs, $30,000. Governor's contingent fund, $25,000, no increase. Maintenance fund for the state sanitarium, at Milledgeville, for 1916, $625,000, an increase of $45,000; for 1917, $650,000, an increase of $70,000. Technical school fund for the state university, at Athens, $60,000, an increase of $7,500. Maintenance fund for Georgia Tech, at Atlanta, $200,000, an increase of $10,000, the increase being for the maintenance of a special appropriation for the maintenance of the new power plant. Maintenance fund for the Georgia Normal and Industrial Institute, at Milledgeville, $67,000, an increase of $10,000. Maintenance fund for the North Georgia Agricultural school, at Dahlonega, $26,500, an increase of $5,000. Maintenance fund for the State Normal school, at Athens, $37,500, an increase of $5,000. Maintenance fund for the South Georgia Normal school, at Valdosta, $25,000, no increase. Maintenance fund for the Medical school, at Augusta, $30,000, no increase. Public school fund, $2,600,000, an increase of $50,000. Special appropriations for the Smith-Lever act, for 1916, $25,174; for 1917, $48,174.

LAST CARD PLAYED BY CHAS. BECKER TO ESCAPE DEATH

Condemned Man Sends a 15,000-Word Statement to Gov. Whitman Purporting to Be Truth About Rosenthal Murder.

SLAYING OF ROSENTHAL CHARGED TO GAMBLERS

Becker Brings Name of Late Timothy D. Sullivan Into Statement—Claims Guilt Not Established, and Asks Whitman to Reverse Whitman.

New York, July 20.—Another effort to save the life of Charles Becker, sentenced to die Wednesday, July 23, for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was made tonight when a 15,000-word statement, prepared by Becker in the Sing Sing prison death house, and said to contain new facts, was placed in the hands of Governor Whitman at Albany.

The statement was a request that the governor grant the condemned man a respite "in the light of facts now disclosed for the first time." Publication of the statement here tonight followed the announcement during the day by Martin T. Manton, of counsel for Becker, that within the next few days an application would be made before a supreme court justice here for a new trial for Becker on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Becker's statement is a chronological history of what he says were his dealings with Rosenthal and others mentioned in the murder case. This communication was accompanied by a copy of the argument used by the governor, of Becker's counsel, recently before United States Supreme Court Justice Hughes for a writ of error. The latter document was included in the statement sent to the governor, which he might know the grounds on which Mr. Becker sought a writ of error.

"The Sullivan Brought In. The name of the late Timothy D. Sullivan, at the time of the Rosenthal murder, was brought into Becker's statement at length. Becker claims that Sullivan had intervened with the police in an effort to get permission for Rosenthal to run his gambling house, saying that he was financially interested in the house and wanted to help Rosenthal.

Later, after Rosenthal's place was raided and Rosenthal began publishing charges against Becker, Sullivan, according to the statement, called police lieutenant that Rosenthal must be induced to leave town. This was not long before the assassination of Rosenthal.

Becker says it is common report that a sum of money was raised, presumably by Rose from the gamblers, to get Rosenthal away. Rosenthal refused the sum, but consented to go with Becker and a party of his friends to the hotel Metropole when shot. The statement is accompanied by a supplemental document, also framed by Becker, and dealing with the story, but revised somewhat by his attorney. In this the condemned man declares at one point that if he is to die he is as ready now to meet his fate as he was at any time.

Becker says he never will be. He adds that there is one service that can be rendered him now, and that is aid in finding evidence that will establish his innocence. Asks Whitman to Reverse Whitman. He continues: "The unappreciated proceeding of asking his excellency, Charles S. Whitman, governor of Georgia, to reverse the sentence and in some respects condemn the conduct of Hon. Charles S. Whitman, district judge of the New York county, in prosecuting an indictment against me, I ask your excellency to execute respectfully on the records submitted to Mr. Justice Hughes for the execution of the capital sentence pronounced on me.

Becker explains his associations with Jerome Rosenthal, the only "only" interest in maintaining Rose's use of the name of a stool pigeon in obtaining evidence against gambling houses. He tells of the partnership existing between Rose and Rosenthal in a gambling house until after they became enemies. He says he was with the gambling house that Becker connects the name of "Big Tim" Sullivan, Becker says Sullivan had loaned Rosenthal money with which to equip the house.

Sullivan Wanted Rosenthal. After Rosenthal's place had been closed, the gambler charged that Becker had been in the house. Continued on Page Three.

ECONOMY IN DRESS

To dress well at this season of the year does not necessarily mean the expenditure of much money. The choice of proper attire is largely a matter of good judgment.

59 TURK SHIPS SUNK BY RUSSIAN DESTROYERS

The Vessels Sunk Were Laden With Supplies for the Turkish Army. London, July 20.—A fleet of fifty-nine Turkish sailing vessels laden with war materials for the Turkish army of the Caucasus, has been destroyed by Russian torpedo boat destroyers, according to a dispatch from Sebastopol, the Russian port company. The sailing vessels were on a voyage to Trebizond, a seaport of Asiatic Turkey, on the Black Sea. The crews of the Turkish ships were made prisoners by the destroyers.

GENIUS MOBILIZED FOR U. S. NAVY

THOMAS A. EDISON AND SECRETARY DANIELS.

"I believe that when we have assembled the inventive genius of this nation we shall be in a state of defense such as no other nation has ever known," said Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels just before he went to the home of Thomas A. Edison, the noted inventor, at Llewellyn Park, N. J. "The next war will be fought by machinery and by men of brains. They say we have millions of men and a mint of money. We need more than that. We need machinery, we need to bring about the mobilization of brains. I believe in preparedness, also in scientific preparedness, and my idea in organizing a navy board is to bring about a mobilization of the inventive genius of the country. I want to get together men who have devoted their lives to science and to use their genius and their skill to benefit the country. I want to help these men to develop their ideas for inventions that will be a service to the country in time of war." The accompanying photograph of Mr. Edison and Secretary Daniels was taken at Mr. Edison's home.

AIR OF FINALITY TO AMERICAN NOTE

Reply Will Place Squarely on Germany Responsibility for Future Relations With United States—Note Goes This Week. Washington, July 20.—President Wilson and his cabinet decided today on the general principles of the note to be sent to Germany renewing efforts to secure for American citizens protection on the high seas.

The president read to the cabinet, assembled for the first time in a month, a tentative draft of the note. On its character and purpose there was unanimous consent, and Secretary Lansing was at work tonight putting in more precise language the ideas set forth.

Note Won't Be Litanious. Members of the cabinet generally preserved secrecy regarding the probable contents of the communication and such information was obtainable chiefly was of a negative character. Cabinet members made it clear that it would not be an ultimatum or make threats as to the future purposes of the United States. At the same time, they pointed out that it probably would have an air of finality, curtailing the field of discussion and negotiation, and placing squarely on Germany the responsibility for any actions that might subsequently endanger the safety of the United States.

The communication will be couched in friendly terms. Today's conference was devoted somewhat to a discussion of what the American people really want said and done. So far as cabinet officers could judge by their examination of public expressions, the nation has voiced an insistent desire that the honor and dignity of the United States be upheld in the correspondence with Germany, but that a course be followed which will maintain peace.

On Germany's next reply and the crystallization of public opinion thereafter will depend to a large extent, officials intimated, the action of the United States concerning future violations of American rights. Attack on the Ordnance. Secretary Lansing said today that no complete report of the encounter between the British liner Ordnance and a German submarine had reached the state department. An investigation has been instituted through the treasury department and a report is expected within a few days, but the dispatch of the note to Germany will not be delayed, it was stated officially.

HE CLAIMS EXPLOSIVES WERE PUT ON LUSITANIA

Chicago, July 20.—A man who signed himself "J. S. K." wrote to The Chicago Daily News today that he had placed explosives aboard the Lusitania before that steamship sailed on her fatal voyage. The writer said he was a member of an organization, but had become disgusted with it. He added that he would be dead in Lake Michigan before the letter was delivered. The letter said "the gang" was composed of English miners.

GARRANZA LOSES MEXICAN CAPITAL

Forces of Zapata Occupy Mexico City on Departure of Carranza Army to Meet Villa Column. Washington, July 20.—Dispatches to the state department from Mexico City late today announced that Zapata forces reoccupied the capital Sunday, following the evacuation by the Carranza army under General Gonzales. Zapata officials were said to have resumed full control of the city from which they were driven ten days ago by Gonzales, who now has gone northward with his troops to meet an advancing Villa force.

This unexpected development came as a surprise not only to Washington officials, but to the Mexican agencies. It had been supposed the Zapata army, driven out, was operating along the railroad to Vera Cruz, waiting an opportunity to join a Villa column approaching from the north.

News of Battle Expected. No word has been received of the whereabouts of General Gonzales since he left the capital. News of a battle near Pachuca, already reached by Villa men, is expected hourly, and may already have occurred. Other reports to the state department said railroad communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City was suspended "on account of the present military operations," but no details of the operations were disclosed. Suspension of railroad communication is viewed here with fears for the hungry people in Mexico City, as this cuts off food supplies. A private message today pictured the road situation as desperate.

A state department announcement tonight said that department advisers reported that the Zapatistas occupied the city of the state department on the 18th and on the 19th appointed some authorities. "They are, therefore," the announcement said, "again in full possession. However, it is noted that their actions indicate a desire to maintain order. President Carranza and the conventionalist government have not yet returned."

Move by Wilson Expected Soon. At today's cabinet meeting the situation was briefly discussed. Some move on the part of the United States pursuant to President Wilson's recent message to the Mexican factions urging peace is expected soon. A state department summary tonight on the military situation said the department had been advised that communication with Torreon was opened on the 18th and that the first train carrying a relief of General Negras for Torreon on the 19th. Las Vacas, Coahuila, was reported recaptured by Villa forces on the 19th.

The Carranza agency here received a dispatch tonight from Vera Cruz, which did not mention the change in Mexico City. Reports from Vera Cruz tonight said Mexican forces had been isolated from communication with the outside world. Officials at Vera Cruz reported they would communicate with the capital and that the cable apparatus had been cut.

Love at First Sight Sends Egg Romance To Ash Can Oblivion

Macon, Ga., July 20.—(Special)—Macon has an "egg romance," but it has been shattered and so has the egg. It all happened this way: W. G. Elder, a 22-year-old youth who works for the Davidson-Williams Grocery company, was unpacking a crate of eggs a few weeks ago, when he ran across one bearing the name of Miss Nellie Hargrove, Decker, Tenn. More as a joke than anything else, he began corresponding with the young woman, finally proposed and was accepted, without either having seen the other.

A few days ago Elder left for Decker to claim his bride. It happened, however, that he had to change cars at a small station before reaching Decker, and while stopping at the hotel met Miss Willie Grady, whose bright eyes sparkled from behind the stamp counter. It was a case of love at first sight and when Elder proposed he was accepted and the couple were married on the spot.

Elder has returned to his work here, but his bride will not come to Macon until this fall. Immediately upon his return he met Miss Willie Grady, whose bright eyes sparkled from behind the stamp counter. It was a case of love at first sight and when Elder proposed he was accepted and the couple were married on the spot.

GERMAN DRIVE GAINING FORCE.

Berlin, July 20.—(Via London)—Further progress in the great German drive toward Warsaw from the north and south was announced today. The war office reports the capture of Ostroleka, on the Narw, about sixty miles north of Warsaw, and said the Russians were in retreat in the south.

The text of the announcement follows:

Western theater: "After blowing up mines near Chateau Hooge, east of Ypres, the British attacked on both sides of the road from Chateau Hooge to Ypres. Their attack collapsed, and they occupied an excavation made by an explosion."

Near Souchez an attack with hand grenades was repulsed. After vigorous fighting near Albert, the French attempted during the evening an attack near Fricourt. They were repulsed.

Eastern theater: "In Courland the Russians were repulsed near Grobin, east of Tokum, and near Grobin, and Ushing. East of Kurshany the enemy also is retreating."

North of Nowograd, on the Narw, German troops captured enemy positions in the vicinity of the Narw, Skroda and Pissa rivers. Fresh land-storm troops, which were under fire for the first time, especially distinguished themselves North of the

RADOM TAKEN BY TEUTONS.

Vienna, July 20.—(Via London)—Radom, capital of the province of Radom, which lies 57 miles south of Warsaw, was captured today by the Teutonic allies according to an official communication issued here tonight.

"The communication reads: 'Between the Vistula and the Bug rivers yesterday the allied army, pursuing the retreating enemy, crossed the front battlefield and increased its number of prisoners to fifty officers and 4,500 men.'

"Near Sokal we took 3,000 prisoners. 'Westward of the Vistula the allies broke the Russian resistance. On the IZANKA river, east and westward of Radom the Austrians resisted violently. The Transylvania infantry and supplies destined for the Russian front. Cannon rifles, ammunition, armored cars, dynamite, pic lead pic copper, cotton for clothing and food supplies all are ready here and they all are badly needed in the field.'

"Guns, rifles and ammunition are arriving from Japan and the United States by the steamer load. Arrived motor cars are coming by hundreds from Detroit and Cleveland by way of Seattle. So also is lead, copper and dynamite."

SUPPLIES FOR RUSSIA CHOKE VLADIVOSTOK

Munitions From United States and Japan Arriving in Huge Quantities.

Vladivostok, June 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Twenty thousand American freight cars and 400 American locomotives are due here from the United States within the next two months to relieve the congestion of supplies destined for the Russian front. Cannon rifles, ammunition, armored cars, dynamite, pic lead pic copper, cotton for clothing and food supplies all are ready here and they all are badly needed in the field.

Guns, rifles and ammunition are arriving from Japan and the United States by the steamer load. Arrived motor cars are coming by hundreds from Detroit and Cleveland by way of Seattle. So also is lead, copper and dynamite.

Cotton is coming from New York by way of Panama in such quantities that more than anything else it has caused the terrific congestion of supplies. Cotton is piled high on the hills back of the city waiting for its turn to be forwarded to Moscow and other cities to be manufactured into blankets and uniforms.

From Great Britain have come guns which will be shipped by rail to the Black sea for the warships Russia is building. From America has come ammunition. From the United States have come several 8-inch guns, also to find their place on Russian warships.

Further along the coast, the British are arriving in such numbers that they cannot be accommodated. A plan of military relief has been proposed. A plan of professional enlistment. Huge gangs of men are building position piers and makeshift docks.

Russia believes Vladivostok is to save the day for the empire's army. So every possible effort is being made to forward these precious supplies.

From the east, the army of the west. For five hundred miles to the north of Vladivostok extends a series of military railroads. The main line is the Trans-Siberian. The Vladivostok line is a branch of the Trans-Siberian. The Vladivostok line is a branch of the Trans-Siberian. The Vladivostok line is a branch of the Trans-Siberian.

RUSSIAN ORDER FOR EVACUATION.

Vienna, July 20.—(Via London)—The Przemyslitz prints under a Crow date this evacuation order issued by the Russian government to the population of Lublin, Poland.

"On the order of the chief commander of the army of the Lublin government that in future in case of a military emergency the population of Lublin is to attach itself to the retreating army."

"GOVERNOR STERLIGOW" ARTILLERY BUSY ON WESTERN FRONT.

Paris, July 20.—(Via London)—An official communication issued by the war office tonight said:

BRITAIN ASKS MONEY TO HELP NEW ALLIES

Premier Asquith Intimates Other States Will Join Coalition Against Germany.

London, July 20.—A new vote of credit of £150,000,000 ($750,000,000) was introduced today in the House of Commons. It will bring the sum actually appropriated by parliament for war expenditures to the total of £650,000,000 ($3,250,000,000). During the current financial year, with the amount provided in the budget of August 6 and March 1, the grand total is £1,000,000,000 ($5,000,000,000). The amount provided in today's vote will tide over the period of the forthcoming parliamentary session, which will not involve a new loan, but merely authorize expenditures out of funds on hand.

In moving the new vote, Premier Asquith announced that for the first 17 days of July the war expenditure had been £51,000,000 ($255,000,000) and that the rate of expenditure daily showed a tendency to rise. "The amount of loans to allies of Great Britain might also, the premier pointed out, grow with the admission to the allied cause of states not yet participating in the war."

The premier estimated that £100,000,000 ($500,000,000) would carry Great Britain to the end of September but that the amount of the loan would be £150,000,000 ($750,000,000) if the premier called attention to a change in the wording of the vote of credit which in this case empowers the government to extend money to other states or grants to other states than those falling within the category of "his majesty's dominions, protectorates or allied powers."

The premier significantly emphasized that the limitation was purposefully omitted. "We think it desirable in the existing situation," he said, "that we should have rather wider powers in respect of countries or states to which advances may possibly be made."

GOVERNMENT PROBING GERMAN SYMPATHIZERS

Washington, July 20.—Preliminary reports on a federal investigation at Detroit of German sympathizers in the United States were reported today by the blowing up of a prominent munition maker in Canada. The Canadian border was received to the United States by the Department of Justice.

Officials said the inquiry so far had disclosed grounds on which the United States could proceed to deport those alleged to have been implicated, since there was no statute to cover a conspiracy formed in the United States to commit such an act in Canada.

The United States district attorney at Detroit directed the inquiry to give particular attention to the question as to whether the dynamite or explosive used were transported on American soil the law under which prosecution might be brought to the United States and a foreign country and the United States could proceed to deport those alleged to have been implicated, since there was no statute to cover a conspiracy formed in the United States to commit such an act in Canada.

The inquiry was ordered after the British embassy had informed the United States that it had evidence that money was being carried by a wealthy German resident of Detroit.

Tribble Makes Protest Against the Auto Order For Rural Mail Routes

Washington, July 20.—(Special)—Representative Tribble, of Georgia, called at the postoffice department to protest against the department's order which requires automobile service on a number of mail routes in Georgia beginning August 1.

"The rural mail service in Georgia can be improved by extending the delivery by horse power," asserted Tribble. "The use of automobiles I predict, will very greatly curtail the postal service in rural Georgia. The use of automobiles I predict, will very greatly curtail the postal service in rural Georgia. The use of automobiles I predict, will very greatly curtail the postal service in rural Georgia."

There are very few improved roads on which automobiles can be used constantly, very few indeed which are possible in winter. The farmers residing on second class routes can be reached by horse all the year, and the postmen should consider their situation.

"I trust the postmaster general upon further consideration will abandon his automobile program."

80,000 LIVES LOST IN CHINESE FLOODS

Conditions in the Vicinity of Canton Are Appalling. Appeal to America for Assistance.

Washington, July 20.—From 80,000 to 100,000 lives have been lost in the floods in the vicinity of Canton, Ohio, according to a cablegram to the state department today from Peking. Consul General Cheshire has appealed for all the assistance that can be rendered by the navy department.

The state department issued this statement:

A telegram from the American legation at Peking says the American consul general at Canton telegraphs that 80,000 to 100,000 lives are estimated lost there on account of the unprecedented floods.

The Wilmington and Callao (United States gunboats) are rendering assistance, but Consul General Cheshire recommends all the assistance the navy can afford.

was the real owner of a chattel mortgage on the gambler's furniture. Becker declares that Sullivan, fearing Rosenthal's campaign, called Becker into a conference, which Rose attended, and said that Rosenthal must be induced to leave.

Becker declared this could not be done, as it was necessary to his position in the police department that Rosenthal's statements be faced. To this he said Sullivan replied:

"Where a fire of this kind is started there is no knowing where it will reach. Rosenthal has already been very close to me politically and personally. Any secret investigations of elections by grand juries have always been sources of great trouble."

Becker replied that so far as he was concerned, Rosenthal's disappearance would be fatal if it would be suspected that Becker had connived at it. He said Sullivan expressed warm appreciation of his attitude, and added:

"I would give $5,000—yes, $25,000—to have prevented this thing or stop it now if I could."

Known Nothing of Actual Killing.

Becker says he did not pay much attention to the remark, but that on the way home Rose said:

"I wonder if the big fellow really has that much money at hand if he needs to use it?" Rose added some things to the effect that he (Rose) could easily raise any money needed to get Rosenthal away, whereupon Becker declared that this must not be done.

As to the actual killing of Rosenthal, Becker declares:

"I know nothing whatever—I did never know anything about that dreadful crime."

The former lieutenant says that his counsel have been diligently searching for proof that Rose was entrusted with a sum of money to obtain this evidence. It is difficult to obtain this evidence, he asserts, as the information only could come from the gambler who contributed the money.

Becker says that just before his arrest he was told that "Big Jim" was nearly insane about Rosenthal's murder, that he was afraid Becker would be arrested because of the newspaper talk and wanted to be assured that Becker were taken into custody Becker would say nothing about Sullivan's sending for him in regard to Rosenthal opening his gambling house.

Timothy Sullivan became mentally incompetent in 1913. Several months later he disappeared. Afterwards his body was picked up on a railway track near Pelham Parkway.

be carried over as a result of interference with the American blockade. The representative Tribune, following the interview, said the administration is hopeful that the cotton export situation will be improved this fall.

"President Wilson is closely studying the situation with reference to getting our staple to European markets, and believes a way will be found to insure delivery," said Mr. Tribble. "If the administration is able to carry out its plans the price of cotton should be considerably stiffened as a result."

COTTON QUESTION DISCUSSED IN PRESS.

London, July 21.—(3 10 a. m.)—The question whether, despite the blockade, cotton and foodstuffs still are reaching Germany is exercising the British press.

The Daily Chronicle points to the enormous increase in the exports of raw cotton and foodstuffs to Holland and Scandinavia.

"The question frankly arises whether, without knowing it, we are feeding the enemy of the unsatisfactory ministerial statements concerning cotton, and declares the only effective measure is to make cotton absolute contraband. The Post says:

"Every pound of cotton imported into Germany means death to British soldiers. Therefore, it must be stopped if when the next crop is ready for sale the government declines to continue its former policy the country will not permit its continuance."

The government was acting in deference to American wishes, but we now recognize that the consequence goes beyond what we can afford."

The Post urges that America is equally interested with Europe in preventing a German victory and that cases the government purchasing all American cotton which otherwise would go to Germany.

The editorial further indorses the proposal of an American correspondent whose letter The Post prints, "the prejudice," which he says undoubtedly exists in the United States against England.

"The American press already reacts indignantly to the unreasonable American protests against the blockade, and that intercepts contraband from America and other neutral countries should be brought before a prize court composed of representatives of the world, instead of a judicially British court."

The Times makes another strong plea for making cotton contraband. The newspaper refers to its Washington correspondent's reports that the American government refused to accept the results of the British blockade and that British explanations had not had the slightest effect on the American opinion on the right of exports to neutral countries.

Arguing at considerable length that the American extension of the blockade during the civil war, The Times says: "Surely the Americans will not dispute that we have the right of extension which they have so widely asserted and exercised themselves in cotton in the sixties merely because it enabled the belligerents to buy ammunition so much more certainly as it has become a necessary ingredient in the manufacture of explosives."

"It cannot be doubted that cotton is finding its way into Germany in large quantities. The plain fact stares Britishers in the face that their nearest and dearest are being daily supplied by German shells which cannot be produced without cotton, which might have been made contraband. We are confident that this consideration will not be without its weight in the minds of the American people."

Arrangements ought to be made under which cotton growers would suffer no loss. We cannot for any consideration refrain from being the deadliest of all weapons with which the Germans are slaughtering our sons."

STRIKE PROVES FAILURE AT REMINGTON PLANT

Manufacturers Say Only 28 Men Walked Out—Trouble May Be Settled.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 20.—A strike call, issued for machinists working in the plants of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company, was met by contractors, brought out today, according to the labor estimates, about 175 men. The manufacturers said that exactly twenty-eight men walked out.

One of the strikers, a man named not a man had left work in the main plant of the Remington company at noon today. They said the failure to get the men to quit was due to a misunderstanding. The strikers were to work tomorrow morning. They added that the night force of machinists at the Remington plant had failed to go to work tonight.

Thomas J. Savage, member of the Executive Committee of the International Association of Machinists, said tonight that a conference was in progress in New York which might lead to a settlement of the difficulties. He refused to give details.

Savage also said that he had received information that labor officials were determining what factories in the country were making supplies for the Remington company, with a view of calling the machinists in those shops out on strike. He said a strike call had been issued for the old Remington plant of the Remington company—the Union Metallic Cartridge company—and that at least 100 machinists would walk out there at noon tomorrow. In a few days the whole plant will be closed down, he said.

Rumor had it tonight that Major W. G. Penfield, works manager of the Remington company, had offered the men a check of $400 a week for a day added to their wages if they would remain at work. The men were to have the offer this afternoon. The labor leaders deny.

A mass meeting held in the Hungarian quarter of Bridgeport tonight was said to be preliminary to a big strike meeting tomorrow. Several speakers spoke of organizing the Hungarians into a union under the American Federation of Labor.

Moved by Conscience, He Sends Sum of $10,000 To the United States

Washington, July 20.—Ten thousand dollars in currency, the second largest contribution to the conscience fund ever received by the government, arrived at the treasury department today in a plain envelope, mailed yesterday at New York, accompanied by an unsigned letter saying:

"The sender has paid double to the United States the amount of state and still conscience is not satisfied. Here is another payment."

The package contained three one thousand-dollar gold certificates, eight five hundred-dollar certificates and thirty one hundred-dollar silver and gold notes.

Treasury officials found nothing in the letter or the amount to indicate a connection with any of the government's losses by fraud or theft, so they placed it with $500,000 more which has accumulated in the treasury department from conscience-stricken persons who have sent sums ranging from 1 cent to $18,689. The largest sum ever received came in 1905, probably from some one who had perpetrated a customer's loss.

The $10,000 package today came addressed to Secretary McAdoo and marked "personal."

Peek's Tea

Perfect Tea (Vacuum-cleaned)

The Tea of Your Fancy

YOU have loved good tea, but you have sought better tea. Time and time again you've been tempted and disappointed. Somehow your tea never quite kept its promise. It never seemed all that tea might be.

You could describe this tea from your fancy. Other teas have suggested this perfect flavor. Others have faintly forecasted its aroma.

Yet your ideal of a perfect tea was no idle dream. It actually exists as PEEK'S PERFECT TEA.

It is the realization of the tea you have longed for.

None but the finest and most fragrant leaves are used for Peek's. Our expert tea tasters in the Orient select, for this purpose, only those teas containing the choicest attributes of fine tea—flavor, delicacy, aroma and richness. When their selection reaches us, our tea experts here go over them again and reject any that may have been affected by the long sea voyage. This double safeguard by experts at both ends is your tea insurance. Fine as these selections are, they still have to undergo the important process of vacuum-cleaning to remove all fluff and extraneous matter (natural to all tea) that would otherwise impair the cup result. After this last perfecting process, we pack the tea by machinery in air-tight cans that preserve its fineness to the last spoonful.

This best possible tea must reach you in the best possible condition.

Let this be your day to try Peek's Tea. Why defer this delight another hour?

LADY WINS WAGER IN PRONOUNCING

Her Husband and a Druggist Are in Error About Natural "Vitalitas."

From a Louisiana town comes a letter bearing the following inquiry: "How do you pronounce Vitalitas?" The writer goes on to say: "My wife, our druggist and myself have almost had a falling out over how to pronounce it. I have been calling it 'Vitalitas' and she has been calling it 'Vitali-tas.' My wife says she knows it is 'Vitali-tas' with the accent on the second syllable. We have a wager on it and please let me know who wins." The lady is correct, but it does not make much difference how it is pronounced so far as its wonderful effects are concerned. There is nothing else in the world like Vitalitas. It comes out of the earth. Every drop of it is health giving, disease killing and vigor injecting. It contains forces and chemical properties upon which life and health depend. It sweeps away many disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. Talk with the Vitalitas man at Jacobs Pharmacy, 23 Whitehall St., or write there for information—(adv.)

AGREE ON DETAILS FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Committee Named to Secure Architect's Drawings for University Buildings. Propose Sale of City Property.

The first definite step for the building of a university high school for the city and Fulton county was taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of a subcommittee of the four committees from the city council, the county board, the city board of education and the county board of education. While no report was agreed upon a great deal of preliminary work was done and the whole matter outlined. Enough was ascertained to cause those present to state that they were now certain that the plan was feasible and that the university would be an assured success. There were present V. B. Moore, from the county board of education, James L. Key and Aldine Chambers, from the city board of education, S. B. Turman, from the county board, Claude L. Ashley, from the city council, and Major R. J. Quinn, president of the city board of education, by invitation. Ask Architect's Drawings. The following was agreed upon: First To erect buildings that would accommodate at least 5,000 pupils. Second To make preparations to teach every branch of modern endeavor. Third To get an architect to prepare tentative plans so as to ascertain the cost of the proposed institution. Fourth To erect the buildings in sections for one school at a time on the unit plan. Fifth To dispose of the city school properties, and other city properties if necessary, to raise the money with which to purchase the site. Sixth To vacate the city schools only after buildings on the university grounds had been erected. The agreement was reached to erect the buildings in order that the city and county can pay a stipulated amount each year, the city's assessment to be approximately $30,000, and the county's $50,000.

County Will Aid. The county's appropriation is to be made by the city giving the amount each year from the county's street work appropriation. This plan being feasible since the city can next year pave the streets on the ten-year assessment plan. In discussing a site for the university, the members of the committee agreed that at least 20 acres of land would be necessary. Mr. Key suggested that perhaps some patriotic citizen might donate the land if the university was given the donor's name. In arriving at a probable sum the city might raise, the following valuations were placed on the city's school property: Boys' high school $45,000, Girls' high school $50,000, Commercial High school $25,000. These figures do not include the cost of the buildings. $25 Property for Funds. It was further estimated that the city could dispose of the stockade property and the fire company property on Fryor and Adams streets. Mr. Key stated that the city could sell these centrally located fire companies' lots and get other smaller lots at smaller cost and just as convenient. When the committee began to discuss the cost of the buildings necessary for the university the following figures were given: $350,000 to $500,000. This caused the appointment of the following committee to secure the services of an architect to prepare tentative plans so that some idea of the total cost might be had: James L. Key, S. B. Turman and Claude L. Ashley. I want to say one thing for the city, and that is you will find that body squarely behind this movement. The sentiment for better schools has run so high that you will find no obstacle in getting the money for this great enterprise.

BEAVERS' LOCKER CLUB EMPLOYEES FINED $100

E. R. Mahoney, Bartender, and J. R. Flournoy, Manager, Held to Grand Jury.

Following a personal investigation of Atlanta locker clubs recently by Chief of Police Beavers, E. R. Mahoney, bartender, and J. R. Flournoy, manager of the Beavers club, were tried in police matinee Tuesday afternoon on the grounds that they were violating section 148 of the city code after hearing the evidence in the case, Judge Johnson fined each of the men $100 and ordered that they be held to the grand jury each under a $200 bond. Chief Beavers, when placed on the stand, testified that he had gone to the Beavers club and had witnessed there an ordinary transaction between a member and the employees of the club. The chief stated that he saw that member give the cashier of the club 25 cents and two coupons, for which he received 15 cents in change and a drink of whisky. The drink of whisky, according to the chief, was served to a member from behind the counter and out of a bottle which belonged to another member, and had that other member's name upon it. Witnesses for the defense sought to prove that all whisky at the club was the personal property of the individual members and was only dispensed by the employees of the institution to these members. Chief Beavers stated that he tasted the fluid which was in the bottle he had seen the drink served from, and pronounced it rye whisky. He also brought into court an unopened quart bottle, secured from behind the bar of the club, and after opening it and tasting its contents, pronounced that rye whisky of the same brand. City Attorney James L. Mayson represented the city in the case, and sought to prove that the club was receiving money from the transactions other than for service. Because the Atlanta club has filed application for a receiver, its case was not brought up in police matinee, as scheduled, Tuesday afternoon, and Judge Johnson stated that in the event the club discontinued business the prosecution against two of its employees would cease. If at any time the Atlanta club, according to Judge Johnson, resumes business under the old system and the old rules the cases against the two men, consisting of violations of section 148 of the city code, will be again opened. The case against the Atlanta club was made following the same investigation last week by Chief Beavers, when the Beavers club was visited. No decision has been made in the case of the Grand Shaftingbury German club which was tried several days ago in the police matinee. Judge Johnson directed that an analysis be made of the beer used at the club, and it is thought that the chemist who has done so will render his report Saturday.

ASK RESTRAINING ORDER TO PUT END TO HOLY ROLLERS

An interesting document was filed in superior court yesterday morning when Judge John T. Pendleton was petitioned to restrain the Holy Rollers from holding meetings at Ashby street at the corner of Drummond. The petition describes the antics and outbursts of the "Roller" clan. Defendants use such methods as are known to the "Holy Rollers," the petition avers, such as loud yells, shrieks and unwholesome cantations which can be heard for four blocks. They stamp and jump while pursuing holy dances, and are so noisy that the neighbors are powerless to prevent. The petition was filed in behalf of Otto Joemel, A. P. Brown, Della Porter and John Lawson against Arnold Esco and Charlie Johnson. The members are colored.

His bail does not expire until he delivers himself to the warden. Essacson, who is 60 years old and in feeble health was head of the Kalos Manufacturing company of New York. It is said he derived approximately $500,000 from selling outfits for making medallions.

DODD IS RECEIVER FOR ATLANTA CLUB

A petition for a receiver for the Atlanta club, filed by attorney Thomas B. Felder representing creditors Thomas George L. Bull, of the superior court, has appointed Dr. George M. Brown, president of the club, as temporary receiver. On Saturday Judge Bell will hear arguments as to whether or not a permanent receiver should be named. The Atlanta club, with a membership of approximately 1,000, is one of the largest in the city, and great interest attaches to the outcome of the hearing. The Atlanta club filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States district clerk's office yesterday and its treasurer, R. Moore, Jr. Referee F. H. Adams appointed Harry Dodd receiver of the club's liabilities. The club's assets are listed at $7,417.48, its liabilities at $10,771.75. A petition was filed in the state courts by this club Monday.

All Things Being Equal

Isn't it a fair proposition to ask that you spend your money for edibles and wearables made here at home? We have numbers of home industries which employ large numbers of home people. If every loyal citizen would insist upon these home-made goods it goes without saying that hundreds more of people could be employed. Every cent paid to these employes in wages is redistributed again in local commercial channels.

Here are some Home Industries whose goods are just as good as those made anywhere:

Red Seal Shoes One of our big home concerns make just as good shoes as it is possible to buy anywhere. They are just as stylish and comfortable—and just as low in price. Worn by thousands—made by hundreds of our home people. Let's force them to increase their pay roll. Ask for "Red Seal."

Capitola Flour One of the largest mills in the country—right here in our midst—grinds out this popular flour. It also manufactures "MISS DIXIE" Self-Rising Flour, guaranteed absolutely pure and wholesome. Home people are employed—but they could employ more.

Cornfield Hams Another product growing more popular every day. Packed by a home concern which is doing much to develop our home community. It employs stacks of home people. There is nothing better than "Cornfield" Hams, Bacon or Shoulders. Ask your groceryman.

Aragon Shirts Are made right here at home. Hundreds of men and women are employed in the making—but hundreds more could be employed if YOU made it a point to ask for "Aragon" Shirts, Pants or Overalls. They are the best made—and just as cheap.

Kennesaw Biscuit Is a home product—made by hundreds of home people—in a home factory. They are no higher in price than any similar product. They are fresh and crisp—the best money can buy. Ask your groceryman for them.

THE CITY'S WATER SUPPLY. The recent break in the 36-inch water main on Fourteenth street, which supplies a large section of the city with water and contributes materially to the adequate pressure for fire service, presents a problem to which council should give its careful and immediate attention.

A situation such as that created by the bursting of this main, ought to be impossible in Atlanta. General Manager W. Z. Smith, of the city water department, points out in a card published today, that he has repeatedly brought this matter to council's attention, but without result.

The waterworks department is in good hands. It is capable managed, and due precautions are taken against accident, but even capability will sometimes fall short where facilities are lacking.

The waterworks plant is Atlanta's only productive asset. Last year it turned $200,000 above expenses into the city treasury, in addition to furnishing the city with about $200,000 worth of free water.

Its income is more than enough to keep it always up to standard—to perfect it, in so far as it is possible to perfect anything, and to prevent absolutely such accidents as that of Sunday night, under any circumstances short of a cataclysm.

And yet the city has always been penniless with this most valuable asset. There is no excuse for this treatment of the only income bearing investment the city has. Nor can the management of the department be expected to keep it up to standard, unless the necessary means for so doing are supplied.

The condition created by Sunday night's accident was, no doubt met and remedied just as quickly as the facilities at the command of the department would admit, but what Atlanta really needs and should have, as The Constitution has repeatedly pointed out, is a system that will render service in spite of a break of this sort.

If it takes all of the surplus earnings of the system for the next two years to provide adequate insurance against the recurrence of break of this sort, the money ought to be put into it as an assurance to the public that the water supply is safe.

If this is done there is no question that the management of the department can be counted upon properly to employ the facilities at its command, and to forestall any possible accident that might threaten the life, health or property of Atlanta's citizens.

ALDEN J. BLETHEN. American Journalism has lost one of its most unique as well as capable and energetic figures, in the death of Alden J. Blethen, editor and publisher of The Seattle Times.

"A veritable stormy petrel of the sea of Journalism, is the estimate of his friend, Scott C. Bone, editor of The Seattle Post Intelligencer, who knew and appreciated the kindlier and brighter side of his nature—his generosity, his charity, open handed in every case of need, and his strong friend ships which knew no limit in service.

But in the journalistic field he was distinctively a belligerent—picturesquely so. He fought because it was his nature to fight—fought vigorously and with determination, but always in the open.

More fighting, in which he always wielded a trenchant pen, was followed here by an unfortunate financial investment, and after dickering for a time for editorial management of The Washington Post, he went to Seattle nearly twenty years ago and acquired The Times, where continued agitation brought him into national prominence.

In politics, as in business, he had his own ideals and fought for them. He came into association with and acquired the friendship of some of the foremost of American political leaders. To these it was given to know and understand the finer side of a fiery nature, in which at bottom there was a deep love for humanity and a genuine desire to serve.

American Journalism will miss Alden J. Blethen. There has never been an other just like him, and there probably never will be. He was one man admired and appreciated for his very tempestuousness—and yet behind it all was the heart of a woman and a hand ever ready to help a friend, or to render aid to the needy.

ON ITS DEATH-BED. The thinking people of Georgia will receive with satisfaction the information that the result of their protest has brought about the virtual defeat of the bill passed by the senate last week to make it a crime for a white man to teach a negro in Georgia.

It is stated that the bill has no chance of passage by the house. The editorial protest of The Constitution brought expressions from all sections of the state.

The measure threatened to break the relation which brings the better element of the colored race in conference with the white man, and to cut off from the dependent race its opportunity for the counsel and direction which the white man of the south has generously given and is ever willing to extend.

A significant fact in the history of the negro race in the south is that as the race grows and gradually develops its own racial standards and institutions, more and more do its people express their faith and confidence in the white man's friendship and interest.

That is the dominant note sounded in the message the recognized leader of the negro race takes wherever he speaks, north or south and was the note repeated by the pastor of the largest negro church in Atlanta Sunday night when he urged upon the members of his congregation composed of the well-to-do negroes of the community, that they ask the co-operation of their white friends in protesting against the proposed legislation.

And the echo of this same appeal was expressed by the head of the Negro Walters' association, who logically asked "How can we serve the white man as he wants it done, and thereby help our selves, if the white man is prohibited by law from showing us the way?"

It is a law of the races that those classed as superior because of their centuries of experience should show the way of civilization to those who have only begun their building.

In the south not only the progress of the negro, but the prosperity of those states having a large negro population, depends largely upon the rational training which the negro gets, and his advance to law abiding citizenship.

Surely this measure must have passed the senate without serious consideration. Georgia in this period of her progress cannot afford to consider even the suggestion of a policy that would record her as in different to the doctrines of the Great Teacher who admonished "Go teach ye the gospel to all men"—the gospel which stands for the Christian civilization of all men regardless of race or color, and the influence of which has been so strongly felt by the negro population in their recent racial evolution.

MORE LIKE HIM WANTED. Georgia needs 10,000 more farmers like S. L. Thornton, of Hart county, brief mention of whose successful effort is made in the following dispatch to The Constitution from Hartwell.

S. L. Thornton a prosperous farmer of the Nuberg section sold $500 worth of home raised cattle the past week. Hart county farmers are learning prosperity other than by the cotton route. Crops in Hart are fine.

And it is upon men like Mr. Thornton, who find the way to it for themselves that Georgia must depend for her agricultural and commercial prosperity. It is the man who can see over and above and beyond a single crop, who makes his home supplies and raises meat to sell and who builds the land while he is raising it, who will ultimately emancipate Georgia from the one crop fetich make cotton crises impossible and build himself in power and wealth while he is doing it.

Wherefore, Georgia needs and needs badly, 10,000 more just such men as S. L. Thornton of Hart, and even then would not have enough of them.

All legislatures are just as good as they make em. The ancient Balkan war cloud is getting ready to rain red on the war game.

JUST FROM GEORGIA By Frank L. Stanton. Song of the Furnace. While the heat was warped the world-winds and the fiery darts appear. There are icebergs sailing southward for to cool the atmosphere.

And 'tis like a breath of blizzards to a fellow's melting soul. A vision of the polar bears ice-skating at the pole. But it's hot in highest cloudland, And it's melting here below, We'd capitulate the country To the armies of the snow!

Let us dream of bleak Decembers, when you think your thoughts freeze, And like cold shivering skeletons are all the bare trees. Let us dream a cheerful blizzard is a-coming at our call, And not submerge the icebergs till we've captured one and all.

Oh it's hot above—around you And we'd surely be content To give free ground for camping To a blizzard regiment! A Fashionable Ghost. Phil H. Armstrong, in The Florida Times Union.

'We have just one criticism to offer in regard to the splendid amateur performance of Hamlet at Orangeville the other night, to which we were kindly furnished a free ticket. The ghost wore monogram cuff buttons. No member in good standing of the Ancient and Honorable Order of Hants ever yet did that, according to our way of thinking.

A Billieville Thermometer. Old Trouble has us all in tether. He's brought the swelterin' world to bat, If Satan isn't in the weather. It's hot as where he's livin' at.

The Uplift. Some folks look so small on the mountain top it would require a telescope to locate them.

Fair Warning. The editor of The Washington (Ark.) Telegraph issues this warning to delinquents. It is said that a man who allows his mind to dwell on one subject is a crank and gets dangerous. It will be well for those who have not paid their subscriptions to think about this and govern themselves accordingly. We have been feeling kinder queer of late anyway.

Let Her Blame! With the heat was rising higher This sun world is unfurled I set the world on fire. That the stars may see the world. North Calhoun Love Song. This love lyric from The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer, in a column conducted by O. J. Coffin.

Liesun ter my heart throbs greetin I Juv you All day long this strain repeatin I set the world on fire. Kaint you see that time is fleetin? Luv me too. Heer my weary hart's deep sigh I need you. Heer my brain's sad creak and dry Same here too. Luv me fir I tired an I— I Juv you.

Point on the Scientist. In a candid moment the editor of The Alkali Eye says "A scientist says there's only one hundred an' seven kinds o' snakes. We kin give that scientist duck a drink thet'll make him see at least twice as many. We kin give him such an inspirin' drink but we ain't givin' it—we need it our ownself."

Same Old Run. I Same old office all the time For which he goes a gunnin' Started runnin' years ago. Ain't he got the place it's plain? Fer he got the place it's plain. Some day he'd have to run again.

And so he rises with the sun— Before the bees are hummin' And still it is the same old run— Watch out, he's sure a comin'. And he doest run in vain. Some day he'd have to run again!

Heard on the Highway. The music of Joe's whistle beats all the brass bands in the country. It's possible for the world to be so happy, the angels will feel like coming down and asking for tickets to the picnic.

Work makes the dreams come true but some folks are might hard to wake up when Opportunity knocks. The Prebe. Summer of sweetness Summer of light We'd like to award you Some ideas bright, Give you snow-removal And bid you good night.

Needless. The Adams Enterprise asks legislators to refrain from clarifying the people and adding heated arguments to the situation. Justice Courts and Trover Cases. Editor Constitution some years ago when a party wished to recover an article by trover at small expense and without having to hire an attorney, he could do so by bringing suit in a justice court. But some fifteen or twenty or more years ago the supreme court discovered a justice court had no jurisdiction to try trover cases. Hence such cases as they ever so small must be sued in a county, city or superior court. This means delay, more expense and hardship to those liable to pay so dearly for their rights in court. The law should be amended to remedy this defect. If necessary change the constitution so as to give justice courts jurisdiction in trover suits of less than $100.

J. W. WHITE. Louisville, Ga., July 20.

Ex-Slave Appreciates Constitution Editorial. Editor Constitution I notice from The Constitution that the senate of Georgia has passed a bill prohibiting white people from teaching negroes in this state. Allow me to congratulate you upon the editorial which appeared in The Constitution on Friday morning and at the same time I want to ask you the privilege of publishing this letter in The Constitution.

We send missionaries to China Africa and other far countries to teach these people and yet right here are the colored people coming in contact with the white people day after day and instead of the legislature of Georgia trying to help us and appropriate money in order to have less criminals and better citizens they are trying to keep our white friends from instructing us.

As Human Beings. The negro is not asking for social equality at the hands of the white man. We are simply asking that we be treated as human beings. It is not far better to let the white man know that we are willing to do so help lift up our race and teach us what is right than to have a white man standing on the highways with a gun on his shoulder to keep the negro on the change, making him work for his bread. Is it not far better that white men be allowed to teach him what is right? Take the white man who treats the negro right and deals with him honestly. He never has any trouble with the negro. There are thousands of colored men and women in Georgia who are willing to contribute to the negro's education and advancement. If you have an educated cook she can cook better and keep your house if she is educated. Show her how to take better care of the child that an ignorant one. Your butler knows better how to serve your table and look after things if he is educated. The chauffeur who runs your car, is a better servant if he is educated.

The white man himself does not want to hire a colored man or woman who does not know how to read and write. We run Bethel school and nine times out of ten a white people will go and send them a good, upright girl who can read and write or a waiter or a butler who can do the same or a teacher or a nurse.

I want to see the colored man and woman in Georgia there are a few negroes over the state who kick up a lot of fuss and get in row with the white people and cause a great disturbance in the community in which they live, but they are not the class of negroes we are talking about. I firmly state here that there has not been an educated negro in any of the colleges in this state who has raised any disturbance in the community in which he lives. In other words he is in that community to lift up and make the whole community better.

You have eleven colleges in this state to teach white boys how to farm. The money is furnished from the state and they pay taxes alike in proportion to the amount of property we own and these men in the legislature are going to take away from us as much as the white man and they should look after the negro boy's interest the same as they look after the white boy's interest. You have not a single negro in the legislature of Georgia not a single negro in congress from this state. We are not asking for more seats in congress or to congress from this state, but we are simply asking the white man who is in power to take such and such when he leaves this world and goes to his God he may have done as fair by my colored citizens as I have by my white.

Those Who Help. The larger portion of negroes would be in the country farming today could they have the protection and same treatment that is given the white man. Take the great white men like Captain English and the great white Carrier, president of the Atlanta National Bank, Mr. Donovan, Mr. Maddox, vice president of the National Bank, Mr. Lowry, Mr. McCord and Mr. Haw. All are friends of the black man and they are all doing good for the colored man. You can get any favor from them if you are an upright man and deal honestly with them.

These men are representatives of the white man. Let it become a law. I congratulate you on taking a bold stand for the colored man. It is a bold stand for the colored man who has to depend solely upon the white man for his rights.

Belgium and France Offering Splendid Field for Southern Supplies and Food Products. Editor Constitution I send you a copy of a letter just received from my cousin who is a member of a large exporting and importing firm in Paris. It presents splendid opportunities for Georgia and southern manufacturers instead of placing this in New York papers. I am sure that you and so that southern firms may take advantage of this opportunity.

It is plainly evident from statements in this letter that the period of reconstruction has already commenced in France and Belgium. It is stated that materials are being and also food products to rebuild the devastated counties of Belgium and the north of France. Complete houses in sections ready for erection food products which can be easily handled and distributed and other supplies are needed for the reconstruction of anything on the market that can be of use to the Allied armies.

Here is a splendid opportunity for southern manufacturers and I will be very glad to make it possible for them to dispose of immense quantities of their products. The reconstruction period is going to continue for a period of from five to ten years and this is the time for southern manufacturers to get a footing with the large importing agents so that they will find an outlet for their products. They can produce and food stuffs that they can produce and the southern manufacturers should wake up to the urgent call for supplies and begin now to prepare to supply these demands. The French government is making satisfactory guarantees for these purchases and by acting promptly the south can reap hundreds of millions of dollars from this foreign business.

It will open up new markets which if carefully cultivated will forever remain open markets for the south and any firm which desires to get a share of this business can do so by informing me along the line indicated in the enclosed letter. Yours sincerely PHINEHAS V. STEPHENS 786 East 17th Street New York City

Letter to Mr. Stephens. The following is the letter to which Mr. Stephens refers. My dear cousin Phinehas I am in receipt of both your letters and must apologize for my delay in answering them. I have been putting it off from day to day as I am greatly pressed with important appointments connected with supplying the allied governments.

I am connected and in touch with the buyers for the allied governments and can sell anything on the market no matter what it is as long as it can be of use to any of our allies. I am here on the ground connected with the buyers of the French and Belgian governments. I am forwarding all catalogs and other information direct to me.

If they can send small models of their houses I will represent them and make it easy to dispose of immense quantities of these supplies. These are the first orders for fifteen years and am thoroughly acquainted with business methods here, and have been doing business with the allied governments since the war commenced. Kindly put us in touch with reputable firms who can back up their products and what they can do. If you can find anyone having large quantities of white bears flour and other food products I would like to get samples and give you also information as to how they will be delivered and in what quantities. Mr. Rich cannot recall the exact date, but he remembers in writing to his then 9 year old son about the eloquence and oratory and other things which he had heard of his father. Time rolled on and the 9 year old boy grew up and became a man. His father died and his mother remarried and she had a son named Elijah and young Elijah's ninth birthday came and he was told that his father had died and upon him as he sat at his desk writing words of wisdom to his eldest memory of his father. With the Exchanges. IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS (From The Houston Post). Forty years ago child labor laws did not protect boys from cutting cord wood or winding 90 pounds of rope for six days when the job was biting but even at that there was some fun.

ADDED COST OF LIVING (From The Providence Journal). Surgeons removed a man's stomach at a Baltimore hospital the other day. This seems a sure but desperate remedy for the high cost of living.

WOMAN'S SACRED RIGHTS (From The Toledo Star-Capital). One reason a woman will not permit her husband to criticize her friends is that she considers it an invasion of her sacred rights.

THE MEXICAN MIXUP (From The Chicago Herald). The only thing that keeps almost any two Mexican revolutionaries from coming to a satisfactory agreement is the fact that one of them isn't dead.

City Water Department Is Prepared for Emergencies. Editor Constitution It was with considerable interest that I read your editorial in The Constitution of this date with reference to the break in the 36 inch water main on Fourteenth street. I was somewhat surprised at the reference to the fact that this department in meeting and taking care of the situation. As a matter of fact the department had already taken step to overcome the danger of a break in the water main at the Orange street sewer and the form of the city construction department were engaged in filling the washout at this point in order to protect the main. The danger anticipated was not one of general overflow in the Fourteenth street main but was one of a 15 to 11 inch wash out which would have been followed by very heavy rain thereat in turning the water pipe and causing it to collapse. In no way would this have limited the water main construction at this point where the present form of the main was in place. We had taken a great precaution to safeguard the main at the Orange street sewer at 11 to 12 feet any contingency which might arise at this point.

As the first precautionary measure to render protection in cases of a collapse of this main I had the city water department notified by letter to meet the situation with the utmost possible expediency. Work in the main is possible for but as it was in place at the time of the break we had not notified the water department until the water department notified us on the 19th street and within twenty minutes had a force of workmen on hand to start the repairs. We were ready to start work at 11:15 just each emergency and they did not fail to respond promptly in this instance.

In your question as to the responsibility for the break in the water main, I am glad to say that the water department is not responsible for the break in the water main. The water department is not responsible for the break in the water main. The water department is not responsible for the break in the water main.

The needs of the water department have been time and again called to the attention of the authorities of the city and it has been repeatedly urged that these needs be met and a safe and ample water supply be provided for the city. The water department is not responsible for the break in the water main. The water department is not responsible for the break in the water main.

We fully appreciate your interest in the city of Atlanta and would not for a moment think that you should spare any man or men in your efforts to safeguard her interests and the welfare of her people.

Marietta Women Protest Against Passage of Law. Editor Constitution Your editorial of July 15 on the Unjust Measure has been highly approved of by the thinking people of Georgia. They most heartily endorse your opinion and believe that if a law should be enacted prohibiting the white people of Georgia from instructing the colored race it would result in a disaster.

There is not the least danger of social equality in the south that has been proven without a doubt. One thing as a child I remember hearing my mother remark and it made a lasting impression upon me. She had received a splendid education, was highly gifted and had lived through the war between the states and through those terrible days of the reconstruction period.

No one under such the conditions better showed than she. She was a white people and the only ones to instruct the negro race. From them they would learn how to conduct themselves and who were their true friends. It was not theory with her only. I like the majority of the southern slave owners. POLICE ARE CONVINCED
MASON'S STORY IS TRUE

Youth Who Confessed to Many to Scenes of Robberies.

Harry Mason the romantic yeggman who confessed to detectives that he recently forewore the sensational career of a professional crackman to settle down to the "love of his heart," but failed in his good intentions when he lost his job, is proving to the city detectives that his story about robbing a number of Atlanta stores is true.

Provano's Pharmacy, corner Lee and Gordon streets, West End, where he rehearsed for detectives and a curious crowd of spectators how he burglarized the pharmacy and robbed the safe of $310. Mason did everything except work the combination on the pharmacy safe, which he tells the detectives he entered after the fashion of Jimmie Valentine by sandpapering the tips of his fingers to the quick in order to feel the drop of the combination as he turned it with his bleeding and supersensitive finger tips.

Mason then led his captors to Robson & Co., 195-3 Madison avenue, which he admits burglarizing and robbing two safes on last Saturday night a week ago.

Chalmers
Six-48 $1550
This Chalmers Owner Did Not Know That He Was Writing This Advertisement

He paid $1650 for the 5-passenger car, about which he is so enthusiastic. This same car with 7-passenger body now sells for $1550. The letter published below was received in the ordinary course of business on May 22, 1915. We are publishing it without a change.

New York, May 21, 1915.

Chalmers Motor Co., Detroit, Michigan.
Gentlemen:—It seems to me that it would be only fair to the Chalmers Company for me to express my opinion of my car. I have had it long enough to know it thoroughly. The enthusiasm which goes with the purchase of "something new" has had a chance to tone down a bit, and I can now analyze the actions and the general make-up of the car much better than I could during the first days of my possession of it.

A Buyer's Questions
Here are a few things that the buyer of a new car is sure to ask himself:
Could I have purchased a better car for the same or a less amount?
Will it make a hit when I "show it off" to my friends?
Is there anything about it that looks cheap?
Is it comfortable to ride in?
Is the engine quiet?
Will the self-starter always start?
Is it easy to keep going?
Will it "ride the bumps"?

How will the local office handle any "kicks"?
These are not the questions of the technical man nor of the expert automobilist. They are the things that a business man who drives his own car, will ask.

An Owner's Answers
Here are my answers:
I consider the Chalmers Car at $1,650, the cheapest buy on the market. In appearance, equipment, make-up, construction, power, flexibility, and comfort, it is, to my way of thinking, superior to cars selling at several hundred dollars more. I have had owners of higher priced cars ride with me and every man has expressed his amazement at the ability of the Chalmers Company to put out such a remarkable car at such a very low price.

I never have to show off my car to my friends. They do the talking for me. They say, "Isn't it a beautiful car"—"what fine lines." One of my associates in business said, "It represents a combination of beauty and evident strength such as I never have seen in any other auto at anywhere near the price. There is nothing cheap about one little item."

Comfort for the Wife
Regarding the matter of comfort in riding, my wife could best answer that question. She selected the left hand side of the tonneau seat as her "place" in the car and from the first ride of a few miles, to one of 625 miles that we have just finished, she has been thoroughly comfortable and declares that even a long ride does not tire her.

The quietness of the engine is a constant surprise.

And Always Economical
A car that is economical to operate and which has an established reputation for the way it keeps out of the repair shop. And the business man gets all of this for less than $1700.

Am I to be blamed for being so enthusiastic about my Chalmers? It is a great car and I am glad that I own one.

Yours sincerely,
E. D. GIBBS,
219 West 81st St.

The St. Joe district is rich in Indian legend and historic with memories of early French occupation. To make this "trip of shadows" you detrain at St. Maries, Idaho, and for four happy hours journey down this wonder river and across placid Lake Coeur d'Alene to Coeur d'Alene, thence take the electric line to Spokane where the journey to Seattle and Tacoma is resumed on either "The Olympian" or "The Columbian" over the Twelve ladies and seventy men composed the enthusiastic body of Coffee county "boosters" who arrived at the Ansley hotel yesterday afternoon in the course of a five-day "southern Georgia tour."

The pacemaking car reached the Ansley shortly after 3 o'clock, containing Charles G. Day, assistant manager of the hotel; R. A. Smith, secretary of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce; Councilman W. Baker and his wife and son and daughter. His other twenty cars arrived later in the afternoon.

The "boosters" were informally entertained at the Ansley during the evening. Those of the party riding in the pacemaking car were the guests of Mr. Day at dinner.

Among the tourists were J. C. Brewer, president of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce; T. A. Wallace, mayor of Douglas; Professor O. E. Sanchez, farm economist at the University of Georgia; Secretary of the Georgia branch of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, J. N. McDonald; and Councilman Baker and O'Connell.

Doing justice to royal entertainments at the various towns in which they were entertained, the boosters stopped, the talking of good roads and the exploitation of the resources of Coffee county and the sections of the state through which they passed has been the order of events since the tour commenced at Douglas Monday morning.

The "boosters" route lay through Ocala, Irwinville, Vienna, Fernow, Fort Valley, Macon (where they spent the day night), Forsyth, Barnesville and Oconee.

The Miami Fruit company was the host at an elaborate spread served at their plant near Fort Valley Monday afternoon. The tourists said they carried away many perches.

Vienna entertained with a barbecue. The party will leave today through Lawrenceville, Winder, Jefferson, Athens, Monticello and will spend the night at Estonton. At Jefferson dinner will be served and a stop of three hours will be made at Athens to visit the agricultural college and the city. They expect to return to Douglas Friday afternoon.

E. Marchbanks, according to the A. B. & A., will yield this year 600,000 crates of cantaloupes.

A clash about the European war between Dr. Len G. Broughton, founder and first pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle in Atlanta, and William Bryan, recently elected governor of North Carolina, according to an interview with Dr. Broughton printed in The New York Herald of Monday.

The two men met in a hotel and the controversy commenced when Bryan commented upon a lengthy story in a newspaper devoted to Dr. Broughton's lecture on the war. Mr. Bryan, during the interview, said that he reported interview, "You are untrue to Christ, to your church and to your German teachings. I have no more German views."

"Well, Mr. Bryan, this is no place to discuss the war," replied Dr. Broughton. "Whether you have or not, I believe you have, and that ends it so far as I am concerned. But I wish to tell you that whenever you attack me on a charge of infidelity to the Christian faith, which I have not, I will represent it with all the force at my command."

BETTER HIGHWAYS TO LINK ATLANTA WITH BIG CITIES

So rapidly is the Dixie highway movement growing in Michigan and along the shores of the great lakes that it will be a few years until Miami, Jacksonville and Tampa will be linked by the best of roads with Chicago, Mackinac and Detroit, according to a letter written to the Constitution by Bishop F. D. Lee, formerly of Atlanta. The letter is written from Nottola, Mich.

Bishop Lee states that the Dixie and Huron highway boosters of the Western Michigan Highway association have just held their fourth annual convention here, which was a great success.

At Mackinaw City Bishop Lee, "representing both ends of the highway," told the tourists something of the great highway movement. G. J. Dickema and others spoke for Michigan.

"The enthusiasm is great and growing," says Bishop Lee.

NO PEACE AT ANY PRICE FOR REVOLUTIONARIES

Portland, Ore., July 20.—(Special.)—Newell B. Mr. Claxton at Birmingham, Wash., issued a statement declaring that the resolution was adopted.

A resolution asking President Wilson to refuse to permit former Secretary State Bryan to remain at the desk from the state department of office was referred to a special committee with instructions that the convention would decline to commit itself on unsubstantiated reports.

The resolution also requested suppression of American School Peace League Literature, the action being taken by the committee on the resolution asking the removal of Commissioner Claxton. The resolution charged that the peace at any price propaganda was being conducted at government expense under the authority of Mr. Claxton.

The 11th convention will be held at Newark, N. J. The sessions adjourned today to meet in San Francisco Friday.

UNNEUTRAL CONDUCT CHARGED TO GAFFNEY

Some time ago Gaffney's conduct brought him into a controversy with the state department then transferred him to Munich.
