

152 BEER SALOONS GRANTED LICENSES MONDAY AFTERNOON

Marion Jackson Appears Before General Council to Voice Protest Against Police Committee Action.

VOTE ON LOCKER CLUBS COMES NEXT MONDAY

Some Objection to Their Operation Made at Meeting—Some Operated for Profit, Says Johnson.

Near beer saloons won out in general council Monday when 152 applications for renewals of licenses were granted with only four dissenting votes.

Marion Jackson headed a delegation of members of the Men and Religion Forward Movement who appeared before council to protest against passing favorably on the applications approved by the police committee.

"You men know enough of the moral side of this question, so I will not discuss that feature," said Mr. Jackson.

Mr. Jackson declared that since many of those asking renewal of their licenses held internal revenue licenses, it was a prima facie evidence that they were selling whisky and that he knew some of the institutions were being operated for profit.

He denied that the Men and Religion organization had ever employed detectives to visit and inspect the social clubs.

Chairman Edwin Johnson, of the police committee, in making up its report had visited all of the locker clubs and saloons and found them operating in an orderly manner and were clean.

"Some of the clubs, I am frank to state, are in my opinion not operated in accordance with the law," said Chairman Johnson.

Councilman Orville Hall asked Chairman Johnson what clubs were operated for profit and which were violating the law.

He held no brief for the locker-clubs of Atlanta, but I will say that if I had been convinced in my own mind that I had evidence that would convict I would have voted adversely on the applications regarding the license.

Action Is Deferred. On motion, Alderman Thomson council deferred action on the locker club applications, and an inspection will be made of the list of questions answered under oath by the applicants and filed with the police committee.

When the applications of fifty-two pool room operators, all favorably reported by the police committee, were submitted, Chairman Johnson was asked if any of them were being operated in connection with near beer saloons.

At this juncture Councilman J. C. White submitted an ordinance making it unlawful for pool rooms to be operated in connection with near beer saloons.

Woodward Opposes. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee of council for report.

Council passed a resolution by Alderman M. N. Bagdale providing for a charter amendment to make the manager of the waterworks department elective by general council, instead of by the people as now obtains.

Another step in the program of adjustment of salaries of public school teachers was taken when council adopted an ordinance repealing a portion of an ordinance passed in December, 1914, empowering the board of education to fix the salaries of the employees in the police, fire and public school departments.

The ordinance by Councilman Jim Dallas repealing an ordinance recently passed by the board of education providing for the reorganization of teachers' salaries.

The resolution was passed by the board of education calling for a general readjustment of teachers' salaries.

GRANDSIRE CLAUSE DECLARED INVALID

U. S. Supreme Court Knocks Out Legislation by Southern States to Get Rid of the Negro Vote.

Washington, June 21.—In probably one of the most important race decisions in its history the supreme court today annulled an unconstitutional "grandfather clause" amendment and the Annapolis, Md. voters' qualification law restricting the suffrage rights of those who could not vote or whose ancestors could not vote prior to the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

Chief Justice White, a native of the south and a former confederate soldier, announced the court's decision, which was unanimous except that Justice McReynolds took no part in the case.

Invaliates Much Legislation. By holding that conditions that existed before the fifteenth amendment, which provides that the right to vote shall not be denied or abridged on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude could not be brought over to the present day in disregard of this self-executing amendment, it is generally believed that the court went a long way toward invalidating much of the so-called "grandfather clause" legislation of southern states.

The immediate effect of the court's decision was to uphold the conviction of two Oklahoma election officials who denied negroes the right to vote in a congressional election, and to award three Maryland negroes damages from election officials in Annapolis who refused to register them.

Views of Justice White. Discussing the Oklahoma cases, Chief Justice White said the suffrage amendment to the state constitution first fixed a literacy standard, and

CONVICTS ENRAGED BY THE BREAKING OF HONOR SYSTEM

Joliet, Ill., June 21.—Fearing a repetition of the demonstration by 1,600 convicts against Joe Campbell and Walter Edwards, negro convicts suspected of slaying the wife of Edmund Allen, warden of the state penitentiary here, prison officials saw that each convict was locked in his cell tonight and special pains were taken to prevent any outbreak.

In spite of the watchfulness of the day guards, 1,400 convicts rose in the main dining hall at midday dinner and shouted threats against Campbell, then the only suspect. One hundred guards rushed the convicts, and with clubs quieted the uproar.

The coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Allen, a former night singer, whose charred body was found yesterday after a fire had destroyed the bed in which she was sleeping, a woman's apartment in the prison, occupied most of the day, and will be concluded tomorrow.

Mrs. Allen, before her marriage five years ago, was Miss Odette Mazie Borcia, a French actress and a member of the original "Merry Widow" company. She took an active part in the slaying of her husband.

London, June 21.—The Austro-German net appears to be drawing closer and closer to Lemberg. Already its meshes are about it on the northern, western and southern fronts, and with the Russians reported almost everywhere in retreat, the capture of the city before July 1 may be fulfilled.

HORROR EXPRESSED BY POPE BENEDICT AT SOME WAR ACTS

The Holy Father Says That He Does Not Know of More Frightful Deed Than Sinking of Lusitania.

HE IS ALSO DISTRESSED BY THE ALLIED BLOCKADE

The Pope Tells of the Troubles He Has Had to Face Since the Conflict Began. Declares Vatican Must Be Neutral.

Paris, June 21.—La Liberté publishes today an interview with Pope Benedict, signed by Louis Latapie, a prominent member of the staff who was sent to Rome for the purpose of ascertaining the pope's views on the various aspects of the European war.

The interview began with an allusion by the pontiff to what the holy see had done in respect to the war. The pontiff has addressed a letter in favor of peace to the Catholic world. He had proposed a truce to the belligerents for the Christmas tide.

His holiness referred to the letter he had written to Cardinals Lucon and Amette, of Rheims, and Paris respectively, and to his consistorial address on January 22.

What the Pope Said. M. Latapie quotes the pope as saying: "You desire that I should condemn every crime specifically, but each one of your accusations is accompanied by a reply on the part of the Germans."

There are so many excesses that I have issued a decree which is official declaring: It is permitted to no person, for whatever motive, to violate justice.

The pope struck his breast and added: But the hour has not yet come to disentangle the truth from all the contradictory assertions which surround the sinking of the Lusitania.

At least one can protest against the sinking of a principle of the church, ventured the correspondent.

The pope continued: "I do not say that after the war I will not proclaim a syllabus, recalling and summing up the part which has been played by the aggressors, and regulating for the future the rights and duties of belligerents.

Frank Starts Prison Work; Noisy Crowd at Governor's Home Dispersed by Militia

Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey Issues Statement in Which He Says That He Believed That Slaton Was Disqualified to Pass Upon the Case and Declares He Cannot Find in His Statement Single Reason Why Sentence Should Have Been Commuted.

"I DID MY DUTY," STATES THE GOVERNOR; "INNOCENCE WILL BE PROVED"—FRANK

Major I. T. Catron and Lieutenant Arnold Parker Injured by Missiles Thrown by Members of the Crowd at the Governor's Home—Many Arrests Made by Police During the Day—Slaton Hanged in Effigy in Two Cities Monday.

Atlanta passed one of the most exciting days in her history Monday following the exclusive announcement in The Constitution that the sentence of Leo M. Frank had been commuted by Governor John M. Slaton.

Crowd estimated at 1,200 people marched last night to home of Governor John M. Slaton, near Buckhead, creating considerable disturbance on the way. They were met by battalion of the Fifth regiment, which quickly dispersed the crowd.

During the night Lieutenant Arnold Parker was injured by brick; Major I. T. Catron was struck by bottle; one member of crowd was hit over head with automatic, and several prisoners taken. Many arrests made by police during day.

Mass meeting held Monday afternoon in senate chamber. Sheriff Mangum makes address, telling of his trip with Frank to prison farm.

Frank arrives in Milledgeville and gives out statement, in which he expresses his thanks to governor and asserts his innocence will eventually be proved.

Governor Slaton gives out statement, in which he analyzes case and tells why he commuted Frank's sentence. "I am confident I did right," he says.

Developments came thick and fast yesterday following the departure of Leo M. Frank to Milledgeville to begin serving a life sentence there.

Shortly after being admitted reporters were permitted to see him. His appearance spoke clearly the tremendous strain through which he had gone.

Believes Innocence Will Be Proved. "And I am not composed enough at this time to give you an intelligent remark made by Frank to Warden Smith just after his arrival with Sheriff Mangum at 4:55 o'clock.

BLANK CHECK GIVEN BY THE COMMONS

British Government May Fill Check for $5,000,000,000 to Meet War Expenses. Chancellor Explains Financial Situation.

London, June 21.—The house of commons adjourned tonight after unanimously giving a first reading to a bill providing the new chancellor of the exchequer, Reginald McKenna, with a blank check which may amount, at a maximum, to five billion dollars.

The vote of credit for $1,250,000,000, passed last week simply authorized the government to spend that much for war purposes, but did not provide for the manner in which it should be raised. Tonight's enactment was in the form of a resolution, empowering the government to raise not only the $1,250,000,000 deemed necessary to pay the cost of the war, at the rate of $15,000,000 daily, for a limited period, but as much more as may be needed.

The chancellor made a long explanation of the proposed loan, and, in closing, said that on the technical question as to the limit of the loan it would be dangerous to disclose the necessity for not fixing any definite sum, and he added that the only figure he could put in the bill was a maximum which would cover all requirements, including provisions enabling the subscribers to previous war loans and the holders of consols to participate. This maximum would not fall far short of a thousand million pounds sterling.

Of indefinite amount. The new loan, which, as now provided for, is of an indefinite amount, will be issued at par, will bear interest at the rate of 4.5 per cent, and will be redeemed at the option of the government between 1925 and 1945.

loan is said to have met with a favorable reception in the financial districts, but it is not yet possible to say how the terms of the loan will affect the market for consols and other securities and last November's war loan.

Generous Terms Provided. The generous terms provided for holders of consols and the first war loan securities appear to meet the objections that have been made by financial circles to the issue of a 4 1/2 per cent loan.

During the course of his speech in the house, the chancellor of the exchequer, answering the suggestion that the money should be raised by additional taxation, said that it was best to take one step at a time. If, in the future, the continuance of the war became necessary, and further very large sums, it was obvious that additional taxation would have to be provided. He added, that time had not yet come.

There was more confusion in the house as to the precise terms of the holders of consols and the old war loan could convert their securities into the new loan. The chancellor explained that for every $100 worth of older securities, the holder who wished to convert would be obliged to subscribe for an additional $100 of the new war loan.

For example, the holder of $100 worth of old war loan securities (issued at 95) and $5 cash and would receive in return new war loan stock valued at 100. The chancellor said that the government could set on the amount of the loan would be a sum sufficient for the conversion of all the old war loans, all the consols and annuity in addition to a sum for voucher and other small investors.

Wanted Public Money. Mr. McKenna said that unless the loan was issued, the country could not continue to pay its way would be by further indefinite issue of treasury bills, and that would mean a loss of public money, not public money. "I want the public to lend the money in a way which will obligate us to repay during the war," he continued. "We require many hundreds of millions," said the chancellor, "of old war loan the investor can get rather better than 4 1/2, we cannot expect the new issue, to be floated at less than 4 1/2."

NEW PEACE MOVE LIKELY IN MEXICO

Gen. Angeles Will Probably Head the Movement—Carranza Is in a Clash With His Supporters.

Washington, June 21.—The unexpected arrival in the United States of General Felipe Angeles, General Carranza's principal military expert since the split in the Mexican constitutional movement, and reports of friction between General Carranza and his field leader, Obregon, have given rise to persistent rumors that certain elements in the contending factions are about to inaugurate a definite movement to bring about peace in Mexico.

Statement by Angeles. General Angeles, passing through Chicago today, en route to Boston, where he will visit his family, denied there had been any break between himself and Villa. This was asserted also by Villa representatives in Washington. Enrique C. Llorca, Villa's special agent and a close personal friend of Angeles, although disclaiming any official knowledge, intimated that Angeles had been commissioned to discuss peace plans with the Carranza cabinet, whose resignations have been accepted, were evident of efforts to be made for a solution of Mexican difficulties.

General Carranza, who thus far has declined to accept Villa's offer for a conference to devise a plan for re-establishing peace, was reported to have notified his Washington representatives today that reports of a break between himself and Obregon were untrue. Notwithstanding this, however, officials here were believed to be of the belief that Obregon and other constitutionalist leaders who thus far have stood by Carranza in his uncompromising attitude were now ready to talk of peace negotiations.

Regarded as Significant. The resignations of a part of the Carranza cabinet, whose resignations have been accepted, were regarded as particularly significant in view of Carranza's refusal to consider Villa's appeal for a conference. It was reported that friends of General Carranza in the United States had undertaken to dissuade him in his decision to ignore Villa's request for a conference.

Of particular interest to Washington officials was the announcement from Leon late today that Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, had warned British subjects against visiting Mexico unless absolutely obliged to do so. A few hours before news of this reached the United States, a break between himself and Carranza was reported from Mazatlan, the Yaqui Indians had raided the town of Mochis and had killed John Jamiston, a British subject.

Washington officials still view the Yaqui uprising with considerable concern, and wait reports from Rear Admiral Howard, who arrived at Guzman yesterday on his flagship Colorado to afford protection to foreigners in the Yaqui valley.

Unless renewed attacks are made on American territory, it is understood Admiral Howard will hold his men on shipboard and await the outcome of Governor Jose Maytorena's campaign against the Indians.

LANSING TO GET POST DESERTED BY BRYAN

Believed that the Matter Will Be Settled at Cabinet Meeting Today.

Washington, June 21.—President Wilson was understood tonight to have virtually decided on Robert Lansing as secretary of state to succeed William Jennings Bryan.

It was said in well informed quarters that it was almost a certainty that Mr. Lansing—counselor and secretary ad interim of the state department—would be given the portfolio. White house officials refused to make any statement further than to say that the subject still was under consideration.

Mr. Lansing will be in New York tomorrow and it is expected that the selection of a secretary of state will be discussed at the cabinet meeting. Several cabinet members are known to favor Mr. Lansing.

The president plans to leave here Wednesday night for New York where he will spend Thursday with Colonel E. M. House before going to the summer white house at Campobello, N. J. It has been considered likely that he would discuss the question of Mr. Bryan's successor with Colonel House before making an announcement, but tonight there was said to be a possibility that the appointment might be made tomorrow.

HOW CONSTITUTION GOT STORY OF FRANK'S DEPARTURE WHEN GOVERNOR, SHERIFF AND OTHER OFFICIALS COMBINED TO KEEP COMMUTATION SECRET UNTIL MONDAY AFTERNOON

Live Wire Reporters Have Exciting Night, But Win Out Over All Obstacles

Readers of yesterday morning's Constitution, who sat over their rolls and coffee and calmly perused the coldly conservative type that conveyed the news of Leo Frank's commutation, saw in the lines of the story only the usual newspaper routine of an important story served at the breakfast table in the unvaried manner that countless stories have been served since journalism gained recognition as civilization's most indispensable institution.

But the exciting drama that underlaid the Frank story was, perhaps, as intense as the hurried flight of the famous prisoner, spirited from jail under heavy guard and carried upon a journey that placed him just as the sun began to climb into the eastern sky before the portals of the prison in which he is doomed to spend the remainder of his natural years.

The underlying story of the Frank commutation was enacted by the newspaper men who covered it for The Constitution, and, in spite of the elaborate and painstaking effort to keep the action secret from a waiting public, managed by wit and ingenuity and hard labor to do their duty to the reading public whose interest they nightly serve.

The newspaper drama was enacted in the dead hours of the night. The main center of activity was the county jail, from which the prisoner had been spirited through a subterranean passage almost beneath the very noses of the newspaper men who had, since nightfall, kept expectant vigil.

But there were other points of interest to the enactment, one of which was the home of Governor John M. Slaton. Despite the fact that Governor Slaton last Friday had made the announcement that the commutation of the sentence upon either Monday or Tuesday, vague, though persistent, rumors prevailed that Frank would be slipped from the jail and carried to Milledgeville before the time set for the executive's verdict.

It was reiterated Sunday afternoon that no decision would be forthcoming until Monday, at least—possibly not until Tuesday morning. The reporter in charge of the Frank story wrote his first edition story to the effect that the governor would probably make his report late Monday afternoon. This ran through the early editions.

A confidential tip, however, arose from one of the innumerable secret sources that are perpetually cultivated by the modern newspaper that Frank's escape had been planned for the night and would be stolen from the Tower and rushed in an automobile at midnight. The trained newspaper man never overlooks the barest possibility—takes no chances.

From 11 o'clock the man assigned by The Constitution to the jail was reinforced by three additional reporters. They had barely reached the prison when the two caken doors leading to the interior of the prison were suddenly closed for the first time in the recollection of any of the reporters familiar with the jail "run."

then followed it with a provision creating a standard based upon the condition existing on January 1, 1886, prior to the adoption of the fifteenth amendment, and eliminated those coming under that standard from the inclusion in the literacy test.

The court had difficulty, he said, in finding words to more clearly demonstrate its conviction that the grandfather clause recited and perpetuated the very conditions which the fifteenth amendment was intended to wipe out.

The court said it was a midnight development. "Insist all you please—I will not speak to you," he said.

"You can take nothing for granted—I will not speak to you," came from the governor, who withdrew, thus ending the night's work.

NIGHT WATCHMAN SAW FRANK. Nearby the jail, to which he returned, he discovered a night watchman who had positively sworn that he had seen Frank.

Restriction of Power on States. The chief justice had prefaced this statement by stating that the argument that the restriction imposed by the fifteenth amendment on the states was unconstitutional was coincident with the limits of the power itself.

Sketch of Grandfather Clause. For more than fifteen years the "Grandfather Clause" has been inserted in constitutions of southern states. The most popular form has been to exempt from educational and property tests for voting those who could vote in 1865, 1867 or 1868, thus leaving the tests to apply to those who did not vote.

Effect of Decision on Georgia. It is not regarded as probable that the ruling of the United States supreme court holding the Oklahoma grandfather clause unconstitutional will affect the corresponding provision of the constitution of Georgia.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF LECTURER BLACK

One of Men Implicated in Killing of Opponent of Roman Catholic Church Is Freed.

Marshall, Texas, June 21.—Frank O'Leary, one of five Marshall men indicted for the murder of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, here February 2 last, was acquitted in district court here today on an instructed verdict. The state, practically had sought dismissal of the case on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to convict O'Leary. The defense insisted on a formal acquittal by a jury.

State Officer No Witness. When District Judge H. R. Lytle overruled the state's motion for dismissal and ordered the trial to proceed, the state announced it had no witnesses and no evidence to present. O'Leary was not called upon to make a statement. Judge Lytle ordered the jury, which had been chosen without the usual formalities, to retire and bring a verdict of not guilty. This took one minute. The jurors received $2.50 each and court adjourned.

Story of Tragedy. The night before he was killed, William Black, aged 45, had delivered a lecture in Marshall entitled "Roman Catholicism and the American Civilization." The lecture again that night, Marshall had been stirred by handbill advertising the work of William Black. The handbills contained charged cartoons and alleged oaths of the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic society.

Restriction of Power on States. The chief justice had prefaced this statement by stating that the argument that the restriction imposed by the fifteenth amendment on the states was unconstitutional was coincident with the limits of the power itself.

Sketch of Grandfather Clause. For more than fifteen years the "Grandfather Clause" has been inserted in constitutions of southern states. The most popular form has been to exempt from educational and property tests for voting those who could vote in 1865, 1867 or 1868, thus leaving the tests to apply to those who did not vote.

Effect of Decision on Georgia. It is not regarded as probable that the ruling of the United States supreme court holding the Oklahoma grandfather clause unconstitutional will affect the corresponding provision of the constitution of Georgia.

T. U. Vaughn Must Die. Washington, June 21.—The mandate of the South Carolina courts condemning to the gallows the body of the perpetrator of the Odd Fellows Home for Children at Greenville, on a sorcery charge, was affirmed today by the supreme court.

MANY WONDER IF VITALITAS IS IT

Will It Do What Is Claimed for It, and Are Stories About It True?

Is Vitalitas all that is claimed for it, and are the wonderful stories constantly heard about it true? Such are the questions that sick people throughout much of the civilized world are asking.

So far the production of Vitalitas has been only sufficient to supply several of the southern states. Through-out Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee and Alabama thousands of people have been freed from disease and have found health and strength in Vitalitas.

Vitalitas is essentially different from any other known medicinal product and is, without doubt, nature's greatest corrective and curative. It is a combination of the most potent and forceful blended within the earth by volcanic action, so chemists assert. It is free of all harmful ingredients, and is not unpleasant to take.

Talk with the demonstrator and sample Vitalitas today at Jacobs' Pharmacy, 23 Whitehall street, or write there for information.

"We'll just put him on Sanatogen"

What a happy thought prompted that decision! He wasn't his "old self" at all—and try to mask it as he might, his face showed only too well how poorly he felt. And so when a friend—with conviction born of experience—spoke of Sanatogen, they "put him on Sanatogen."

Sanatogen—combining the tissue-building properties of a FOOD with the invigorating qualities of a TONIC—rejuvenated his appetite, improved his digestion, brought rest to his nerves, made good the over-drafts upon his energies and like by little brought back that old-time vigor and sprightliness and joy in living.

Perhaps you have not yet had this happy thought—perhaps you haven't yet "put him on Sanatogen."

Then simply let us tell you this: Over 21,000 physicians have testified in writing to the value of Sanatogen after having observed its effects in daily practice. So, too, have hundreds of famous men and women whose very names must be convincing—people who know from personal experience the restorative help that Sanatogen gives. It is a verdict that cannot be mistaken.

When will you give Sanatogen the opportunity to help him, or her, or you?

Barons Rally in Ninth And Beat Crackers 4 to 1; Grimes and Allen Duel

By Carl Taylor. After pitching superb ball for eight innings Jim Allen weakened in the ninth round, and the Barons, rushing to the attack, won the opener from the Crackers 4 to 1.

For eight innings Allen was master of the situation and after high Birmingham hit several chances to tie the score he would always pull out of the hole.

After the initial round when the Crackers counted their jinx run the game revolved into a pretty pitchers' duel between Grimes and Allen, with neither twirler having much advantage.

Grimes fanned three men in the second inning, but he was allowed and allowed but four hits. Allen allowed seven hits walked three men and fanned four.

It may be a bum hunch but it seems as if every time the Crackers count a runner in the first inning they invariably get beat time after time. This year they have got a man over in the opening round and lost the game.

Allen got away to a one-run lead in the first inning, but he was charged against him it came in the second round and did not result disastrously.

How They Scored. Atlanta got away to a one-run lead in the first inning, but he was charged against him it came in the second round and did not result disastrously.

The game then rocked along until the beginning of the ninth when Birmingham won Mages walked and went to second when McBride passed the ball to left. Hale went to second and Grimes was safe at first. Both runners moved up on Wallace's sacrifice.

Hale hit a hard grounder ten hot for Korf to handle and Mages counted the tying run. McBride went to third on the play and Hale to first. Grimes hit a grounder to Bland and McBride was out at the plate. Hale went to second and Grimes was safe at first. Both runners moved up on a passed ball.

catch of a slow fly back of third by McBride in the third inning, was great. Although he had an error charged against him it came in the second round and did not result disastrously.
