

OVER 1000 LIVES LOST ON LUSITANIA

:: 188 Americans Aboard--Vanderbilt and Frohman Missing ::

WHEN SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

GRAVE SITUATION FOR UNITED STATES CAUSED BY SINKING OF THE LUSITANIA

Official Washington Regards It as the Most Serious That Has Been Created Since the Beginning of the War.

WILSON AND CABINET PROFOUNDLY SHOCKED BY FATE OF THE LINER

American Warning to Germany in Regard to Killing Americans by Submarine Attack Is Recalled—Considered Certain the United States Will Take Up Matter Whether or Not Any Americans Have Been Killed.

Washington, May 7.—Destruction of the British liner Lusitania with the loss of many lives shocked officials of the United States government and spread profound grief in the national capital. Although it was not known how many if any of those lost were Americans, the view was general that the most serious situation confronted the American government since the outbreak of the war in Europe. The warning of the United States that Germany would be held to a strict accountability for the loss of "American lives" irrespective of whether they were aboard belligerent or neutral vessels when attacked focused attention on the white house, where President Wilson until late in the night read the dispatches with grave interest. The president made no comment.

President Wilson had just finished luncheon and was about to leave the white house for a drive when he learned of the sinking of the Lusitania. At the cabinet meeting less than an hour before the torpedoing of the American steamer Guiltlight and been discussed and a party of cabinet members had gathered for luncheon at a nearby hotel, where the news of the Lusitania was taken to them. All the secretaries immediately hurried back to their offices.

The president's first question of the secretaries who brought him the dispatches was whether any lives had been lost, and his relief was evident when he was told the first dispatches indicated that all had been saved.

President Wilson abandoned his ride to keep in close touch with the state department, which soon after transmitted to him Ambassador Page's cablegram, which was the first official information to reach the government kept to his study for the remainder of the afternoon, reading dispatches as the secretaries brought them in.

LIKE BOWEN'S
TO WASHINGTON.

Even though it had been feared that the liner might be attacked, to the president and his official family the news was a shock and a surprise.

It might truthfully be said that it burst upon official Washington like a bomb. At the first moment all officials realized that the number and importance of the Americans aboard the Lusitania might face the Washington government with the most serious situation since the outbreak of the war. For some hours officials silently and gravely scanned the news dispatches and they awaiting some official advice from London or the American consulates in the region of the disaster, withheld comment, merely expressing the hope that no Americans had been lost. The tension of the first few hours, however, in all branches of the government, was unrelaxed. It probably has not been equaled since the Mexican crisis reached its height just a year ago.

The state department and the executive offices were deluged with a steady stream of inquiries, many of which came from the diplomatic colony.

After dinner the president returned to his study and spent the evening reading the dispatches.

Secretary Bryan, Counselor Lansing, senators and members of the house, who were in the city, waited up to a late hour for definite news of the passengers and crew of the ill-fated ship. Earlier in the day they constructed the positive announcements from abroad.

SHIP SENT TO BOTTOM BY GERMAN TORPEDO

The Lusitania, of the Cunard line, was one of the largest and speediest of the trans-Atlantic liners. The vessel has always been popular with the traveling public, and on every voyage carried many passengers. Including the passengers and crew there were nearly 2,000 souls on board when she was sunk.

VANDERBILT LOST ON THE LUSITANIA AND ALSO FROHMAN

Reported at Queenstown That the Multi-Millionaire and the Noted Theatrical Manager Can't Be Found.

MANY OTHER AMERICANS IN THE LIST OF MISSING

Among Them Is President Hopkins, of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and Charles Klein, the Playwright.

Queenstown, May 8.—(4:26 a. m.)—Every effort to find Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Charles Frohman among the survivors of the Lusitania, landed here has failed.

Some of the survivors who have arrived here report that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was drowned.

Officials of the Cunard Line are attempting to prepare a list of the saved, but their task has been rendered extremely difficult by the indescribable confusion which prevails. The names of those landed at Kinsale

EMERSON UP-TO-DATE

A WELL-KNOWN newspaper advertiser buys space to blazon forth this Emersonian quotation:

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

But he has an afterthought—

He takes pains to print his own name, address and character of business in good sized type.

Of course, the world will come, and business will surely come to the Merchant who uses The Constitution Advertising columns.

Readers will profit by shopping in The Constitution before going down town today.

DR. BREWER SAFE ON ANOTHER SHIP

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Hunter and Leonard Bistic, of Atlanta, Reported on the Ill-Fated Lusitania.

Development of last night, showing that many passengers of the ill-fated Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine are dead or wounded have increased the anxiety of Atlantans over the fate of friends or relatives on board.

First reports were that Dr. Walpole Brewer, physician at the Ansley, and one of the most popular of the local medical fraternity, who has entered the service of the Red Cross, was one of those on the ship.

Information received by The Constitution last night seems to prove that he sailed on another ship, Charles Day, assistant manager of the Ansley hotel received a letter from him, dated May 7, saying that his assignment had been changed by the Red Cross from France to Austria and that his trip would take him three weeks.

James Scott, a personal friend, and the southern agent for the Clyde Steamship company, said he had positive information that Dr. Brewer had sailed on May 1 on a White Star line steamer from New York for Boston, Azores and Palermo, on the way to Austria.

Atlantans on Board.

Information received from New York states that Leonard Bistic, one of the passengers gave his residence as Atlanta. Efforts to locate his relatives last night proved unavailing. His name is not in the city directory.

Among Atlanta people on the Lusitania were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hunter for the past six years residents of this city. They were on the ship when they left for their native home, Glasgow, Scotland, they resided at 119 East Georgia avenue.

Mr. Hunter was employed while in Atlanta at the plant of the Colcord Lumber company and was a cabinetmaker by trade. Friends in Atlanta Friday night received confirmation of the report that he was on the ship with his wife. Whether or not they were among those who lost their lives in the disaster is not known.

German Consul Katerwester.

Dr. Eric Zoeffel Quellenstein, German consul for the southeast, with headquarters in Atlanta read with interest the press dispatches Friday of the sinking of the Lusitania, but stated that he was unable to make an official statement relative to the affair until he had made further investigation.

He is not able to get at the real facts in the case by reading the press dispatches, but later I expect to give out a statement," said Dr. Zoeffel. "It is a case where judgment should not be too hasty, for we cannot say yet just what caused the sinking of the ship."

Dr. Zoeffel said he expected within a short time an official statement from the German government bearing on the case.

Premonition of Disaster Kept Him From Sailing On Ill-Fated Lusitania

Boston, May 7.—A premonition of disaster was responsible for the fact that Edward B. Bowen, a wealthy shoe dealer whose name appears on the list of "saloon cabin passengers who sailed on the Lusitania" tonight heard reports at his home in Newton of the wreck of the liner.

Mr. Bowen, with important business awaiting him in London, had engaged passage on the Lusitania.

"Friday night," he explained, "a feeling grew upon me that something was going to happen to the Lusitania. I talked it over with Mrs. Bowen and decided to cancel passage."

Warned by the Germans, Lusitania Went to Doom With 1,251 Passengers

ATLANTAN SAFE

DR. WALPOLE BREWER

GREAT ANXIETY FELT FOR CHARLES FROHMAN

Noted Theatrical Manager Was a Passenger on Lusitania. Klein Also on Board.

New York, May 7.—Uncertainty as to the fate of Charles Frohman probably the most widely-known theatrical man in the world, who was a passenger on the Lusitania, was the absorbing topic among thousands in the theatrical district today. Mr. Frohman's offices were besieged until a late hour for possible news of him.

Before sailing Mr. Frohman said he was going to England to look over his theatrical interests and to see if he could find some new war plays for the American stage. Justus Miles Forman went with him. Mr. Frohman's latest addition to the American stage was the play called "The Hypocrite," a play of American patriotism which elicited much unfavorable comment from citizens of German extraction. Charles Klein, author of "The Lion and the Mouse," and other successes, was on the ship, going to Europe on business connected with his enterprises.

Members of Mr. Frohman's staff said they had pleaded with him not to sail, but Mr. Frohman answered that business made it imperative that he go at that time.

In German clubs, restaurants and other places where Germans frequented the news of the disaster was registered quietly without comment.

The Great Liner Sailed From New York on Day the Kaiser's Embassy Published Advertisement to Travelers.

188 AMERICANS BOOKED PASSAGE ON THE LINER

Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Charles Frohman Among Them—Many Prominent Englishmen on the Vessel. Scenes at Cunard Office in New York Recalled Titanic Day.

New York, May 7.—The first news of the torpedoing and sinking of the Cunard liner Lusitania came shortly after 1 p. m. today through an announcement from the New York offices of the Cunard liner that an unconfirmed rumor to that effect had been received from abroad. Less than an hour later the company made public additional messages confirming the report which in the meantime had been verified by dispatches from London.

Conflicting reports came during the afternoon to the line and to news agencies in regard to the safety of the passengers, but up to the early hours of the evening no definite information as to their fate had been received here.

The publication of the news created tremendous excitement in Wall street, and a violent decline followed in both the stock and cotton markets. Under an avalanche of selling orders, which reached their greatest volume during the last hour of trading, stocks fell from 8 to 10 points, and cotton $2.50 a bale. The so-called war stocks, like Bethlehem Steel, were especially affected.

LUSITANIA SAILED IN FACE OF WARNING.

The Lusitania, with a total of 1,251 passengers aboard, of whom 188 were Americans, and with a crew of 316, sailed from here last Saturday in the face of a warning published on the day of her departure by the German embassy, which asserted that travelers intending to embark on British ships did so at the risk of the ships being destroyed in accordance with the German war zone decree.

This warning, published as an advertisement, did not result in cancellation of a single passage, nor did anonymous notes of warning, said to have been received by some passengers just before the big liner left pier, deter anyone from sailing.

Reports from Washington that it was privately known in official quarters that the Lusitania was to be torpedoed at the first opportunity, gave color to the opinion expressed in shipping circles tonight that the embassy's warning

Two Torpedoes Were Fired Into Great Passenger Ship And No Warning Was Given

Reported That the Stricken Ship Went Down So Quickly That There Was Not Time to Launch All the Life Boats—Only About 500 or 600 Survivors Have Been Landed at Irish Ports—Some of Those Picked Up Are Badly Injured—Some Bodies Have Been Picked Up—The Lusitania Was Torpedoed About Ten Miles Off the Irish Coast and Not Far From Cork and Queenstown.

Queenstown, May 8.—(4:28 a. m.)—Survivors of the Lusitania who have arrived here estimate that only about 650 of those on board the steamer were saved, and only a small proportion of those rescued were saloon passengers.

London, May 8.—(4:06 a. m.)—The Central News says that the number of the Lusitania's passengers who died of injuries while being taken to Queenstown will reach one hundred.

Captain Turner, of the Lusitania, was among those saved.

London, May 8.—(4:54 a. m.)—A Dublin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says that the latest reports indicate a loss of life on the Lusitania at about one thousand.

London, May 8.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, which sailed out of New York last Saturday with more than 2,000 souls aboard, lies at the bottom of the ocean off the Irish coast.

She was sunk by a German submarine, which sent two torpedoes crashing into her side while the passengers were having luncheon.

900 Persons May Have Perished

How many of the Lusitania's passengers and crew were rescued cannot be told, but the official statements from the British admiralty up to midnight accounted for not more than 500 or 600.

A ship's steward, who landed with others at Queenstown, gave it as his opinion that 900 persons were lost.

"PURE PIRACY," SAYS ROOSEVELT

Commenting on Lusitania. Piracy on Vaster Scale of Murder Than Old Pirates Ever Practiced.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 7.—Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States after learning details of the sinking of the Lusitania late tonight, made this statement:

"This represents not merely piracy, but piracy on a vaster scale of murder than any old-time pirate ever practiced. This is the warfare which destroyed Louvain and Dinant and hundreds of men, women and children in Belgium. It is warfare against innocent men, women and children traveling on the ocean, and to our fellow country women, who are among the sufferers."

"It seems inconceivable that we can refrain from taking action in this matter, for we owe it not only to humanity, but to our own national self-respect. I can only repeat what I said a week ago when in similar fashion the American vessel Guiltlight was de-

There were dead and wounded among those brought ashore, some since have died. But not a name of rescued or lost, of dead or injured has been listed.

NO WARNING GIVEN SHIP.

The Lusitania was steaming along about ten miles off Old Head Kinsale, on the last leg of her voyage to Liverpool, when, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a submarine suddenly appeared, and so far as all reports go, fired two torpedoes without warning at the steamer. One struck her near the bows and the other in the engine room.

The powerful agents of destruction tore through the vessel's side, causing terrific explosions. Almost immediately great volumes of water poured through the openings and the Lusitania listed.

Boats, which were already swung out on the davits, were dropped aboard and were speedily filled with passengers who had been appalled by the desperate attack.

A wireless call for help was sent out, and immediately rescue boats of all kinds were sent out both from the neighboring points along the coast and Queenstown.

LINER SANK IN FEW MINUTES.

But within fifteen minutes, as one survivor estimated, and certainly within half an hour, the Lusitania had disappeared.

Where Great Britain's fastest merchant vessel went down—Old Head Kinale—is a landmark that has brought joy to many travelers, as it always has stood as the sign from shore that the perils of the voyage across the Atlantic were at an end.

The line whose boat that it has never lost a passenger in the Atlantic service has lost the ship that dodged the lurking enemy off Nantucket light the day after war was declared, and later started the world by flying the Stars and Stripes.

The British admiralty is discouraging the publication of surmises and guesses regarding the dead and injured.

Even before details are known the British press is asking editorially what will the United States say to this event and how will she hold Germany to the "strict accountability" mentioned in previous diplomatic correspondence.

DETAILS LACKING.

The office of the Cunard line closed shortly after 11 o'clock tonight and officers of the company stated there would be no further information coming from the line until the offices opened tomorrow.

Late messages received tonight from the Cunard line offices in Liverpool indicated that no definite information would be forthcoming tonight as the officers were giving all attention to the persons saved from the ship.

Among the last messages received were several stating that individuals were safe. In these messages were the names of George Kessler, a New York wine agent; Miss Jessie Tait Smith, Braceville, Ohio; Mrs. H. B. Lasseter, wife of General H. B. Lasseter, and their son, Y. Lasseter, of London. Mrs. Lasseter and her son were booked from Sydney, Australia.

DREADFUL SIGHT.

Queenstown, May 3.—(1:10 a. m.)—The tug Storm Cook has returned here bringing about 150 survivors of the Lusitania, principally passengers, among whom were many women, several of the crew and one steward.

Describing the experience of the Lusitania the steward said:

"The passengers were at lunch when a submarine came up and fired two torpedoes, which struck the Lusitania on the starboard side, one forward and the other in the engine room. They caused terrific explosions.

"Ten boats were put into the water and between 400 and 500 passengers entered them. The boat in which I was, approached the land with three other boats and we were picked up shortly after 4 o'clock by the Storm Cook."

"I fear that few of the officers were saved. They acted bravely. There was only 15 minutes from the time the ship was struck until she foundered, going down bow foremost. It was a dreadful sight."

"Capt. Turner immediately ordered the boats out. The ship began to list badly immediately.

"The passengers were put into the water and between 400 and 500 passengers entered them. The boat in which I was, approached the land with three other boats and we were picked up shortly after 4 o'clock by the Storm Cook."

LIFEBOATS WITH SURVIVORS.

Dublin, May 3.—(3:11 a. m.)—The motorboat Elizabeth had arrived at Kinsale and reports that at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon she picked up two lifeboats containing 63 and 14 survivors of the Lusitania respectively.

A cork tug took the rescued women and children. The passengers said that owing to her list to port the Lusitania could not launch many of her lifeboats.

TITANIC DAYS ARE RECALLED.

Liverpool, May 7.—Scenes reminiscent of the Titanic and the Empress were recalled here tonight when a large crowd, chiefly women relatives of the crew of the Lusitania, gathered outside the Cunard office anxiously awaiting news of their men.

Little was available, however, but the people remained calm, although the strain was terrific.

Little was available, however, but the people remained calm, although the strain was terrific.

FEW SURVIVORS ARE LANDED.

New York, May 7.—The Cunard Steamship company at 9:45 p. m. received the following message from Liverpool:

BOATS HURRY TO THE SCENE.

Queenstown, May 7.—News received here from the steamer Lusitania at 3:45 p. m. that before sinking her lifeboats were over her side.

According to advices here the first wireless S. O. S. call was sent by the Lusitania at 2:15. It read: "Want assistance, listing badly."

As news of the torpedoing of the Lusitania was received here the naval station dispatched all assistance available. The tug, the Storm Cook and Julia, five trawlers and the local lifeboat in tow of a tug were hurried to sea of the wreck. Most of them about two hours to reach the spot where the Lusitania is reported to have been sunk.

The Lusitania was seen from the signal station at Kinsale to be in difficulty at 2:15. She had completely sunk at 2:33 p. m.

This indicates she floated for two hours and a half.

NO WARNING GIVEN LUSITANIA.

London, May 7.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Liverpool says:

The Cunard company states that the Lusitania was sunk without warning. The text of the statement follows:

The whole concern of the Cunard company is the safety of the passengers and crew. The material loss does not count, as it is covered by insurance.

The Lusitania was torpedoed without any warning and sank almost immediately. She was carrying a large number of the large boats of the ship are afloat. Every effort is being made to obtain further information, which will be published immediately on receipt.

destroyed off the English coast and her captain drowned. I then called attention to what I had said two months previously, when the Germans established this war zone and announced that with mines and submarines they would commit the deeds that since they have actually committed, and that these deeds could by no rule of international law be regarded otherwise than as pure piracy."

NOT GOOD TIME TO ROCK THE BOAT.

New York, May 7.—James M. Beck, former United States deputy attorney general, quoted President Wilson's recent note to Germany regarding the protection of American life and property on the high seas tonight at the fifth annual dinner of the United States and members of the American Bankers' association.

Now we are meeting under extraordinary circumstances," Beck said, "if ever there was an occasion in which silence is golden, it is tonight. Because we may be for all we know, in a very critical hour for our government. As a director has happened with our filled all of us with horror, and which, I take it, has filled most of us and maybe all of us with reasonable apprehension."

"There is a good deal in what our president has said about rocking the boat and is not a good time to rock the boat. At the same time those who are in the boat should refrain from rocking and I suppose may entertain the justifiable hope that the captain will not sleep on the bridge; that the captain and crew will do what is necessary to keep the ship on an even keel into the stormy waters that may be ahead of her."

Mr. Beck referred to the recent note to Germany, in which reference was made that this country "should be constrained to hold the imperial government to a strict accountability" for acts of their naval authorities, "and take any steps that might be necessary to safeguard American lives and property."

GERMAN BLAMES CUNARD LINE.

New York, May 8.—Captain Franz von Papen, military attaché of the German government here, said today by The New York World this morning as making the following statement regarding the Lusitania:

It is deplorable, it is true, that so many lives have been lost. I am satisfied, however, I suppose, may entertain the justifiable hope that the captain will not sleep on the bridge; that the captain and crew will do what is necessary to keep the ship on an even keel into the stormy waters that may be ahead of her."

But it was absolutely criminal for the Cunard company to carry, and for the British government to allow the line to carry, neutral passengers in a ship which was transporting explosives and munitions of war to be used by Great Britain and her allies.

The ship's manifest will show that she carried a large amount of picric acid and other explosive materials. They were to be used against Germany and Germany had to defend herself against them. The best way was to a direct the ship, and such destruction was amply justified under the rules of war."

London, May 7.—A dispatch from Havre to The Daily Telegraph says that Prince de Ligne, president of the submarine of the Irish coast yesterday. Her crew was saved.

The Centurion was attacked about the same time that the British steamer Centurion was torpedoed off Waterford, Ireland. The Centurion was bound for South Africa, and the candidate for Jamaica.

The candidate was 633 feet long, and was built in 1914. She was owned in Liverpool. She arrived April 9 from New Orleans.

The candidate was outward bound when she encountered the submarine. The crew said she was torpedoed without warning. She launched four boats. One was swamped, but the occupants were picked up. All of the crew of forty-four landed at Milford Haven.

CROWDS BESIEGE CUNARD OFFICERS.

London, May 7.—The Cunard offices in London, which will remain open throughout the night, were besieged by a crowd, largely composed of women, many of them weeping bitterly, as the hours passed and no definite news was received of those aboard the Lusitania.

Accommodation was provided inside the offices for those who had relatives or friends on the steamer, while hundreds waited outside, eagerly reading the bulletins which told of the boat's arrival at Kinsale and Queenstown, but which gave no names and consequently did not allay the anxiety.

GERMAN ADMIRALTY FORMED THE PLANS TO SINK LUSITANIA

Officials at Washington Knew for Some Time That Berlin Was Plotting Destruction of Ship.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY GAVE THE INFORMATION

Kaiser and His Advisers Believed Destruction of the Liner Would Have Tremendous Effect on Great Britain.

Washington, May 7.—Aside from the diplomatic phases of the Lusitania case, which were widely discussed in the capital tonight, the sinking of the liner brought to light an interesting story of repeated threats and warnings which have reached high officials for several days past of a plan by the German admiralty to sink the Lusitania for the psychological effect it would have on Great Britain and the terror it might spread among ocean travelers generally.

Destruction of Ship Planned.

Information gathered among officials of the government and in diplomatic quarters confirms the belief that plans for the destruction of the Lusitania were made several weeks ago. First, the German embassy was instructed to advertise in the leading newspapers of the United States warning passengers against traveling on belligerent ships. Anonymous warnings then were sent to individuals who proposed sailing on the Lusitania. Most significant of all were letters received here from officials in Germany by private persons stating that the Lusitania surely would be destroyed.

From the day the ship sailed from New York, officials here have received inquiries from many sources almost daily as to the safety of the vessel. One official was told with much positiveness early today that this was the day selected for the destruction of the vessel. The naval radio station at Arlington has been on the alert for news and from time to time has been reported as having picked up messages saying the vessel was sunk. Inquiry at the navy department each time failed to confirm the reports, and they were not circulated because it was feared they would spread unnecessary alarm.

Views at German Embassy.

At the German embassy here, while no comment was made as to whether it was known here that the vessel was to be destroyed, it was said the embassy knew the Lusitania carried arms and ammunition, and, being advised of the resolution of the German admiralty to attack ships that carried such contraband, officials had believed she would be attacked. At the embassy and among the diplomats friendly to the Germanic allies, there was a general satisfaction amounting almost to relief when the first reports came that no lives were lost, for it was urged that the purpose of the German submarine campaign was only to destroy British commerce and ships, but not lives. There was a disposition on the part of the Germans to inquire, also, whether the Lusitania carried any guns on her decks which might place her in the class of a warship and make unnecessary, according to the rules of international law, the giving of warning.

Officials at the state department said they had not heard that the Lusitania carried any guns. At the British embassy it was revealed that early in the war, after the United States government had been consulted on the question of small guns for the big liners, the advice was given by the state department, and heeded, that no guns be carried on the decks.

The British embassy heard of the disaster through news dispatches and offered no formal comment, though officials stated the attack was absolutely inexcusable and constituted a most flagrant violation of all the rules of international law.

Hit by More Than One Torpedo.

Naval officers think the Lusitania probably was struck by more than one torpedo. It, as reported, she remained afloat only thirty minutes after the first explosion. The ship was so constructed, they say, that except under extraordinary conditions a single torpedo could not sink her.

It was pointed out, however, that inside explosions following the attack might have aided in the work of destruction. The ship is understood to have carried a quantity of war material for the allies.

Demand Action by British Fleet.

Navy officers predicted that one effect of the loss of the Lusitania would be a popular demand in England for more active action by the fleet. Some officials of the state department credited reports that a German base for submarine raids had been established in some hidden cove, known only to the native smugglers on the old Irish coast. The torpedoing of the British superdreadnaught Audacious off the Irish coast, generally supposed to have been the work of a German submarine; numerous raids on smaller craft in the same region and now the sinking of the huge Lusitania, in the opinion of these officials, indicated clearly that the German under-water craft were working from some nearby point.

Navy officials, however, did not share this view. Information has reached the navy department that German submarines have completely circumnavigated the British Isles, making voyages of 5,000 or 6,000 miles. If this is true, and the report apparently was accepted at face value, the under-water ambuscade to which the Lusitania fell victim was comparatively a simple matter.

Planned to Sink Lusitania.

Germany is known to have put in commission a number of new submarines recently and navy officials thought that when the plan to sink the Lusitania was drawn up it was decided to send a dozen or more of these boats into the track which the liner probably would follow. Some navy officers thought they saw in the warnings published in this country before the departure of the steamer that she would be attacked, an intimation that the ship would be blown up from inside during her voyage. Nothing in today's dispatches tends to confirm this view.

GERMANS BATTLE WITH THE BRITONS IN YPRES REGION

Struggle for the Possession of Hill No. 60, Recently Taken by British, Hasn't Reached Final Stages.

RUSSIANS ARE DRIVEN IN WESTERN GALICIA

But the English Military Critics Say the Austro-Germans Have Not Crushed the Czar's Forces.

London, May 7.—The battle to decide the mastery of Hill No. 60 and the desolated country around Ypres Belgium, has not yet reached its final stages, nor have the Russians shown signs of accepting the German claim that a crushing defeat has been inflicted upon them in western Galicia.

That the Russians have been pushed back many miles from the Dnieper and now a cross the Wisloka river which roughly parallels the Dnieper 10 miles to the east all the dispatches from German and Austrian sources insist, but the English newspapers still refuse to concede a great victory to the Austro-Germans although they admit that a great tentative success has been achieved.

There is great faith in England in the recuperative powers of Russian arms and the disposition now seems to be to suspend judgment on the question of whether the Russians if driven from Duka pass will be forced to abandon their advance against Hungary and indeed their positions in western Galicia.

At any rate British observers argue that the Russians should have no trouble in holding the line on the Friser San in eastern Galicia especially as their flank would be covered by P. 5 mval.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS

Paris, May 7.—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

Last night the enemy delivered two minor attacks on the Friser west of Peronne in Champagne around the Fort of Bruyereville. He was repulsed both by gunfire and the bayonet.

SUCCESS CLAIMED BY THE GERMANS.

Berlin, May 7.—(Via London).—The German general headquarters start tonight to issue the following statement in the western theater:

All attempts of the English at Ypres to wrest away from us Hill No. 60 since April 17 has formed the focus of fighting. We gained the hill after a day of fighting. The reaction of Ypres during the night there yesterday the enemy lost seven machine guns, one mine thrower and a large number of rifles with ammunition.

During a continuation of their attack this morning the English again suffered further heavy losses. Between the Meuse and the Moselle we maintained the fortified territory gained in the Meuse hills and south west and west of the forest of Allis. At Flirey a small portion of a trench forming a salient was captured by us in possession of the French. Otherwise all their attacks were repulsed.

Attempts of the enemy to make an attack on Steinbrueck in the valley of Fecht, was quashed at the start by our fire.

In the eastern theater The battles to the south of Sradov and east of Roshitzka in Galicia decided defeat for the Russians who suffered heavy losses in prisoners alone they lost 1500 men and are in full retreat.

South of Kalwary, south of Augustowo and west of Repuszka part of a trench forming a salient was captured by us with sanguinary losses in these battles the Russians lost altogether 420 prisoners.

In the southeastern theater The battles on the right bank of the river Dunajec ended yesterday in complete success for the Austro-Germans. The enemy is engaged in the quick retreat towards the east.

Only a portion of the enemy on the Wisloka still holds out. Further south we advanced to the right bank of the Wisloka river and crossed the Jasiska. Many times parts of the right wing of the army under General von Mackensen came in touch with the Russian column coming from the Carpathians front west of Lipow pass. The Russians are hastily retreating in the direction of the Austro-German troops. With every step forward our booty increases.

RUSSIANS RETREAT, AUSTRIANS CLAIM.

Vienna, May 7.—(Via London).—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

The Austro-Hungarian and German troops have crossed the Wisloka river in the district between Piatno and Piatno. The advanced troops are south of Piatno. Strong Russian troops in the district between Piatno and Piatno are retreating in the direction of the Carpathians along which the Russians in irregular columns are retreating in a north and northeastern direction pursued by the allied army advancing across the Beskids.

The number of prisoners and amount of booty captured by our troops yesterday captured five heavy and sixteen light cannons. Our troops in the eastern sector of the Carpathians are repulsing in the meantime desperate Russian attacks. Russian losses to the enemy in Russian attacks yesterday against Ostry Height was repulsed by our troops. We captured 1,300 prisoners several detachments were annihilated by our fighting fire.

In southeastern Galicia all attempts of the enemy to take several vantage points have failed. During artillery engagements our mortars destroyed naval guns near Belgrad.

GAINS REPORTED BY RUSSIANS

Petrograd, May 7.—(Via London May 7).—Tonight's official war office communication said in the region of Mitau (Courland) our troops have continued to press the enemy back.

In the direction of Mlava we have continued to develop the success recently achieved in this district. Yesterday we occupied the villages of Marose and Orzezh, and repulsed three counter attacks. Reported German attempts to recapture the farm of Pomianka failed.

MOMENTOUS HOUR AT HAND FOR ITALY

All Signs Point to Entrance Into War—German School Closed at Rome—Austria Makes Final Proposals.

Rome, May 7.—(Via Paris 4:40 a. m.) Asserting that the hour is near at hand for momentous decisions by Italy the Observatore Romano, the Vatican organ, deprecates in the strongest terms the war it believes probable. The paper protests against the fury of degenerate nationalism which desires war for war's sake hiding from the majority of the nation the dangers of participating in the crucial conflict which is shaking Europe like an earthquake which lightly accepts war for war's sake without asking its justice, necessity or opportunities.

AUSTRIA PREPARES AGAINST ATTACK

Paris, May 7.—Austria is continuing to make extensive preparations for defense against a possible attack by Italy according to a dispatch to the Petit Parisien from Torino. Railway service was suspended for six hours last Friday and Saturday at Graz and Innsbruck in Austria.

The Austrian government forces in said to be at Graz awaiting transportation to Zagreb, Croatia and thence to Bosnia.

GERMAN SCHOOL CLOSED IN ROME.

Rome, May 7.—(Via Paris 5:15 p. m.) Upon receipt of the German ultimatum the German school in this city suddenly was closed yesterday afternoon. The school was closed at 4:30 p. m. and the newspaper correspondents and several German families left almost immediately for Germany.

Paris, May 7.—The Vatican has advised all its disciples to abstain from all social, scientific and theological studies to aid Rome immediately, according to a dispatch to the Petit Parisien from the Italian capital.

FINAL PROPOSALS MADE BY AUSTRIA

Paris, May 7.—A Havas dispatch from Rome says the Austrian ambassador is reported to have handed to Foreign Minister Bismarck yesterday afternoon the final proposals to Italy containing the extreme concessions the duke-monarch is willing to make. While the utmost secrecy is observed regarding these proposals, it is believed that the German in Rome have lost confidence in a favorable outcome of the negotiations. The Austrian ambassador also called upon Baron Sonnino yesterday afternoon.

VENEZUELOS RECALLED TO GREECE

Paris, May 7.—A special dispatch from Rome says that former premier Venizelos of Greece who is now at Cairo has been recalled suddenly to Athens in view of events which are impending.

M. Venizelos and his cabinet resigned when King Constantine declined to accept his recommendation that Greece enter the war on the side of the allies. He exited himself voluntarily from his country when a quest on a certain day was before him. He himself declaring he would not return until he had been vindicated.

WAR TO BITTER END, PURPOSE OF FRANCE

Minister Ribot's Statement to That Effect Brings Cheers From Deputies.

Paris, May 7.—Alexandre Ribot minister of finance today in the chamber of deputies concluded his speech with these words:

In complete unity with all parties and with all quarrels put aside we swear to pursue by every means and until victory the end we have in view. The entire chamber was on its feet in an instant and waved the fist fraternally. The credit asked for by the minister of finance was voted unanimously.

In explaining the financial situation of the country Ribot said that the deficit at the end of April was $300,000,000 while the public up to the end of April had taken $240,000,000 in national defense loans.

The expenditures are increasing the minister of finance said as it was impossible for the government to stint its outlay during the war. He still had $400,000,000 to be raised under the law of France under a previous agreement and under the new agreement just signed the advance by the bank would be increased from $100,000,000 to $1,500,000,000.

Continuing Mr. Ribot declared that General Lloyd George, chancellor of the British exchequer had agreed to place $500,000,000 of French bonds in England and to cover the balance of the loan in the United States and in Canada with the understanding that France should furnish sufficient gold to permit England to maintain exchange with the United States.

Japanese Demands Modified, China Prepares to Comply

Stated at Peking That Japan Has Asked for Less in the Ultimatum Than China Offered.

JAPAN VERY ANXIOUS TO PREVENT RUPTURE

It Was Realized at Tokio That a Clash With China Would Have Proved Embarrassing to Japan.

Peking, May 8.—(2:15 p. m.)—Attaches of the foreign office were at work all night translating Japan's ultimatum and drafting the terms of China's compliance with the demands which will be submitted to Yuan Shi kai and the state council this morning at 10 o'clock. The reply will be delivered to the Japanese minister tonight or Sunday.

The Chinese note will review China's case and answer the charges contained in the ultimatum and accept the demands without qualification. The government expects no serious revolutionary outbreak from the people. The military leaders have issued Yuan Shi kai that their support would continue.

Japanese Demands Modified. Eki Hiroki the Japanese minister to China went to the Chinese foreign office between 1 and 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and presented the Japanese ultimatum which insists that China accede to the demands presented by the Peking government.

Minister Eki Hiroki and Japanese ultimatum contained certain modifications of the twenty-four demands presented by Tokio.

The handing in of the Japanese ultimatum to China has brought out knowledge on one point which has surprised Chinese officials as well as the members of the foreign legations here. It seems that Japan after insisting upon the acceptance of her demands suspended in her ultimatum discussion of all other demands with the exception of the demand bearing upon Peking.

The Chinese note shows that the last evening offered to accept the Japanese ultimatum more than the Japanese ultimatum now has in her hand.

What China Proposes. It was learned today that in the course of a visit to the Japanese minister to the Japanese railroad demands to grant a school and hospital privileges in the Peking area without compensation upon Japanese and proposed to grant the same to the province of Shantung.

The final Chinese proposals therefore set out to authorize Japan to supply half the arms used by China to participate in the conduct of Chinese operations to protect Chinese territory to China and to preach Buddhism in the republic.

The Chinese dislike the requirement insisted upon by Japan that China recognize Peking's right to open Peking to foreign trade, but they will accept these features unless the few irreconcilables in the councils of President Yuan Shi kai succeeded before next Monday in altering the present demands.

Given of the Ultimatum. The ultimatum is a lengthy document. It contains the Chinese attitude in advancing the argument that the Japanese position was designed in part for presentation to foreign opinion. Pending receipt of the ultimatum a written reply in Japanese while all formal documents have been written both in Japanese and Chinese.

The Chinese public is quite unaware of the trend events took today. Long lines of Chinese carts all day long slowly dragged their way through the rain to the location market and to the railroad stations taking bullion and other articles of value to be placed under protection.

JAPAN AWAITS CHINA'S REPLY.

Tokio, May 7.—The Japanese await China's reply to the Japanese ultimatum. The government, it is stated has been deeply desirous of avoiding a rupture which it was admitted would prove a considerable military and naval preparations are being pushed vigorously. Live transports laden with troops have sailed from Hiroshima in the direction of China, and numerous warships have left for secret destinations.

Waseda university has deprived Professor Ariga Japanese adviser to President Yuan Shi kai of his professorship and he has disappeared. Privately he had been denounced as a Chinese spy and the police were protecting him.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the first provisional president of China has been seen frequently in Tokio recently. The Yokohama Hochi declares that if war were between Japan and China develops the revolutionists in China who side with Dr. Sun are likely to seize the opportunity to strike against Yuan Shi kai.

Items in Group V Omitted. In presenting its ultimatum to China Japan omitted from group V of the amended list of demands with the exception of the portion dealing with the concessions in Fushien on which an agreement already had been reached. The demands in group V are reserved for future discussion.

CRISIS AVERTED, SAYS WASHINGTON

United States, However, Sends Note to Great Britain, Russia and France in Regard to Japanese-Chinese Situation.

Washington, May 7.—Official advisers received here late today said a crisis in the Far East had been averted that Japan has modified her demands and that China would accept them.

Before the terms of the agreement are finally concluded however an expression of opinion is expected by the United States from Great Britain, France and Russia as the allies of Japan as to whether the interests which the leading powers have in the maintenance of China's territorial integrity and the open door policy have been in any way affected.

The American ambassadors at London, Paris and Petrograd have been instructed to learn the attitude of the powers which like the United States are pledged to maintain the territorial status quo in China and the freedom of commercial opportunities. Inasmuch as Japan and Germany are at war Great Britain and the United States will be consulted at this time but later may be included in the American government's correspondence on the question.

Officials were silent as to the content of the note that had been sent abroad but it is known it was desired before the negotiations were ended to consult the other powers in view of the peculiar relationship existing between the United States and Japan in connection with Chinese affairs.

Important Modifications by Japan. Secretary Bryan would not discuss this matter beyond saying a statement issued last night covered the American government's position. It was announced however that the state department received today in substance the Japanese ultimatum and that it contained important modifications by Japan of her demands. It was stated that the Japanese modifications related to the withdrawal by Japan of the general demands in group A asking for the financial and industrial advisers in China and an obligation by China to purchase Japanese goods and to maintain a supply in Japan.

It was this group which had been insisted upon by the American government in the political and administrative independence of China. The Chinese government has shown its communitarian sentiment by the United States to the powers had been delayed until China had agreed to a consultation of the powers beforehand might have induced Japan to accept a withdrawal of the so-called Japanese sphere of influence in southern Manchuria and inner Mongolia.

JAPAN IS WARNED BY LONDON TIMES

London, May 7.—The Times in a leading editorial on the Chinese Japanese conflict, says that the Japanese ultimatum to China and Japan may spare making the misery of another visitation of war.

This hope is not encouraged by the latest messages from Tokio and Peking. The editorial says that the feeling in both capitals that matters may not go to extremities is shared in Washington where the situation is being closely watched.

Japan's victory over the Germans in the Far East gave her opportunities to show herself as a nation of peace and justice. She would show she was not likely to forego this opportunity of impressing upon China once for all that she is a great power.

This is a matter on which Japanese feeling is sensitive and in the past China has shown a disposition to arrogate to herself the right to press her demands for the restoration of the status quo in the Far East.

Japan's original demand has shown a certain readiness to modify them in the later course of the negotiations. It is more than probable that possibly the accession of strength which the recent elections brought to the Oku cabinet.

The high reputation for sagacity and moderation which Japanese statesmen have earned in the world is undoubtedly impaired if they are short-sighted enough now to take the course likely to arouse the jealousy and hostility of the other great powers.

The high reputation for sagacity and moderation which Japanese statesmen have earned in the world is undoubtedly impaired if they are short-sighted enough now to take the course likely to arouse the jealousy and hostility of the other great powers.

We expect even now at the high noon of her power that Japan will justify once again British confidence in Japan and British sympathy with her best interests by her ultimate expansion of her interests in the Far East.

More than forty warships including the battleship Hizen and the battle cruiser Kongo are preparing at Sasebo for possible operations against China. A second squadron under Admiral Nawa has arrived and is hastily embarking supplies.

FORTS SILENCED BY FIRE OF FLEET

Defenses of Dardanelles Put Out of Action at Chanak, Russian Aviators Drop Bombs on Constantinople.

London, May 7.—Certain forts at Chanak and Kallid Bahr, in the Dardanelles have been silenced while some of those on both sides of the waterway up to Nagara probably are out of action says a dispatch to The Chronicle from Mytilene.

Paris, May 7.—The first attack of the war on Constantinople is reported in an unofficial dispatch from Athens. It is said three Russian aviators flew over the city dropping several bombs which are believed to have caused extensive damage.

The message says also the Turkish Black sea fleet bombarded the Turkish forts on the left bank of the Bosphorus Wednesday several Russian shells fell within about ten miles of Constantinople.

Constantinople, May 7.—(Via Wire) less to Berlin and London from the following statement regarding the operation in the Dardanelles was issued last night by the Turkish war office. An enemy battalion was annihilated Wednesday as the result of an attack by our troops against his line of trenches. At Arburan part of the enemy's strongly built entrenchments were captured.

At Seddul Bahr we inflicted heavy losses on the British and captured a great quantity of ammunition. We have taken ten enemy machine guns.

OLEO MEN PAY $400,000 TO THE GOVERNMENT

Columbus, Ohio, May 7.—Federal Judge J. E. Oster today at a public offer of four former officials of the old Capital City Dairy company and its representatives of the state of Ohio a $400,000 fine and costs to have an order of contempt against them for their alleged failure to pay their share of taxes amounting to $1,000,000 on oil margarine manufactured by the old dairy company.

You really owe it to yourself—essoon as you find reading this advertisement—to ask at once for a copy of our book entitled "From Those Who Know What You Want to Know." It tells the experiences with CASE Cars of men from every state in the Union. It is a remarkable volume of interest to motorists. This book proves beyond dispute that the CASE Car costs less in the long run than cars priced much higher. At $1395—5 per cent discount if cash—and considering the regular equipment of an extra tire and tube on rim with spare cover, head lamp, and tire chains and 8 day clock—the CASE Car costs you far less. This is counting first cost only. Then divide this price by years of service and you have a car without comparison. First cost only can never be a true standard. Time tells the CASE story.

WAR TO BITTER END, PURPOSE OF FRANCE

Minister Ribot's Statement to That Effect Brings Cheers From Deputies.

Paris, May 7.—Alexandre Ribot minister of finance today in the chamber of deputies concluded his speech with these words:

In complete unity with all parties and with all quarrels put aside we swear to pursue by every means and until victory the end we have in view. The entire chamber was on its feet in an instant and waved the fist fraternally. The credit asked for by the minister of finance was voted unanimously.

In explaining the financial situation of the country Ribot said that the deficit at the end of April was $300,000,000 while the public up to the end of April had taken $240,000,000 in national defense loans.

The expenditures are increasing the minister of finance said as it was impossible for the government to stint its outlay during the war. He still had $400,000,000 to be raised under the law of France under a previous agreement and under the new agreement just signed the advance by the bank would be increased from $100,000,000 to $1,500,000,000.

Continuing Mr. Ribot declared that General Lloyd George, chancellor of the British exchequer had agreed to place $500,000,000 of French bonds in England and to cover the balance of the loan in the United States and in Canada with the understanding that France should furnish sufficient gold to permit England to maintain exchange with the United States.

Regarding the situation between France and the United States the minister of finance said this was not so unfavorable as might be supposed for the reason that exports had not suffered as much as had been expected. The minister said that the United States from the United States from $140,000,000 to $169,000,000 in purchases each month.

LEPER MAKES ESCAPE FROM ILLINOIS JAIL

Springfield Ill May 7.—Angelo Lu nardi, leper, escaped from jail at Highland Park last night. The information was wired to the state board of health tonight and the board immediately notified the authorities in Chicago and neighboring cities to make every effort to apprehend Lu nardi. The leper was brought to this country on a North German Lloyd steamship from Italy and an Italian authorities ordered him deported. Because the steamship company had not paid out of business and the Italian authorities refused to comply with the law, the leper was taken to have the leper in this institution. He was here soon as he had been transferred.

DORSEY APPEARS TODAY BEFORE JUDGE NEWMAN

Will Ask That Judge Hill Be Decided in Frank Case.

Developments are expected today in the case of Leo M. Frank.

Judge Newman, who is now in Columbus, is due back today, and Solicitor Dorsey expects to immediately consult with him and ask that an order be officially sent to Judge Ben Hill of the superior court, notifying him of the mandate of the supreme court of the United States, thus restoring jurisdiction in the case to the original court that tried and convicted Frank of the murder of Mary Phagan.

It is likely that on Monday Judge Ben Hill will act on a writ of habeas corpus filed by Solicitor Dorsey last Monday asking that Leo Frank be taken from the custody of Sheriff Manly and brought to the superior court in order that the date of his death sentence might again be set. This will make the fourth time that the death sentence has been pronounced on Frank.

"JITNEYS" COSTING TROLLEY COMPANY OVER $350 A DAY

The "Jitneys" have been costing the Georgia Railway and Power company between $330 and $400 a day, according to a report filed with the state railroad commission by the street car company Friday morning.

The "Jitneys" are getting about 4 per cent of the company's gross earnings, states the report filed by the business.

The report stated that the company's earnings had been affected only on the lines where the "Jitneys" have been in competition. It was estimated that on these lines the "Jitneys" have taken in on an average of $366 a day. These figures are arrived at by comparing the receipts of the street cars for the months of March and April of this and last year.

The report further states that at this rate the company will have its annual income cut down $133,590 in a year's time.

The Jitney Bus club has declared that it will carry on its fight against the Georgia Railway and Power company, and on Friday the secretary, J. Coy Pearce, announced that the fight will continue to every angle.

HIGGINS RECOVERS FROM BADLY HURT ARM

Friends of W. H. Higgins, of the firm of Smith & Higgins, will be glad to learn that he has entirely recovered from a badly injured arm, which was hurt some time since while cranking his automobile. Mr. Higgins had to suffer the pain of having the limb re-set and reset, and spent several weeks in a local hospital.

ASK ADVANCED HEARING ON DAN S. LEHON CASE

City Attorney James L. Maxson and Assistant City Attorney W. D. Ellis Jr., representing the city of Atlanta, have joined with Attorney Arthur Powell representing Dan S. Lehon, in asking for an advanced hearing on the validity of the state's ordinance requiring private detectives to be licensed. Lehon was charged with violating the city ordinance when he was gathering evidence on which to base a motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank. In the trial the state's case was sustained. Later it was sustained by the superior court and the court of appeals sustained the lower courts.

Pendleton, in superior court, for the New Kimball, one of Atlanta's oldest hotels, on application of Attorney F. C. McWhorter, representing Laid Fisher, F. H. Thiel and the Oglethorpe Plantation company, creditors of the operating company, which has leased the hotel, the Kimball will continue under its present management as Mr. Wright has appointed John S. Mabry, vice president of the Kimball, and W. A. Sanges as his representatives in the receivership.

This Daktown Financier Had an Easy Time Until His Spouse Went to Bank

A Daktown story of extraordinary marital financing came out in the police court Friday afternoon. Addie Dorsey was a widow, aged 40, and she had $250 in a savings bank account. W. E. Lewis, aged 22, wedded the widow, and incidentally became attached to the bank account. When the erstwhile widow failed to turn over her cash assets, Lewis prosecuted her to the court for fraud. Lewis' wife's name to checks. He passed in checks for various amounts until the $25 was exhausted. Lewis went to a little money for a spring, but his wife found her funds non est in the bank. She made oath that she had not drawn any checks and her youthful husband was arrested for forgery and the bank was held in a $200 bond.

ROME GETS NEXT MEET OF KNIGHTS TEMPLARS

Augusta, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—The grand convale of the Knights Templars of the Grand Commandery of Georgia, will be held here today and tomorrow after the election and installation of officers. Rome secured the honor of the contest with Valdosta. Past Grand Commander William F. Howe was presented with a grand master's sword. The closing feature of the gathering was a barbecue.

TO REBUILD SAWMILL BURNED NEAR QUITMAN

Quitman, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—It is announced that the John N. Thompson sawmill, which was totally destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt immediately, as the company has a great deal of valuable timber. The losses are not as heavy as at first appeared. It is announced that the Thompson Lumber company's loss is about $10,000, including $1,000 worth of stock on hand. The Union Manufacturing company, which had the planing mill leased, had a loss of $5,000 in stock on hand. There was no insurance on the plant.

AGED NEGRO CONVICTED OF MAKING MOONSHINE

Macon, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—Rose Dixon, a 73-year-old Hancock county convict, was convicted in the United States district court here today of the charge of operating an illicit distillery. He was sentenced to serve one month in jail and to pay a fine of $100. Judge Speer being lenient on him because of his advanced age. The government raiding officers testified at the hearing that they found four separate "still" on his place.

CHOICE LOTS OFFERED BY AUCTIONEER TODAY

Big Opportunity Given Purchasers in the Peachtree Heights Section.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will take place in the Peachtree Heights Park section, a sale of choice lots for home-building purposes. This is one of Atlanta's most attractive home property and there have already been many beautiful homes built here, with others planned for the near future.

Those desiring to attend should take the Buckhead cars and get off at Peachtree Way. The cars run every ten minutes and there will be a special extra car at 2:35 p. m. The lots will be offered to the highest bidder, and will, it is stated, be sold on easy terms, to be announced at the sale.

The property in question is conveniently located, and has all the advantages of city property, such as water, sewer, electricity, telephones, street arc lights, delivery service, police protection, rapid car service, with a ten-minute schedule on the Buckhead line, making the trip to the city in twenty-four minutes.

This sale is announced by President E. Rivers, of the E. Rivers Realty company, who gives assurance that it will be a genuine opportunity for investors as well as for those desiring high-class building lots for homes.

"There will be an opportunity for those who attend this sale to get this splendid home property at their own prices," Mr. Rivers said. "We realize that this is not the time to sell real property at public sale, and there is just one reason why we are doing it. There are some obligations which we are called upon to meet, and we prefer to meet them rather than ask for extensions."

"It is for that reason we are offering the people of Atlanta this opportunity to buy what is considered the best home property the city offers, at their own price. We don't propose to sell all of it, but enough to meet our requirements, and there we will stop. As everyone knows, business and financial conditions are rapidly improving. This is going to mean good profit for the purchasers in every foot of this property which we sell tomorrow."

"We know we have here some of the best residence property in or around Atlanta, and we know that every one who thinks of it just as we do, for they have said so over their own signatures."

BANK FAILURE IS PROBED U. S. Grand Jury Investigates Macon Commercial National.

Macon, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—The United States grand jury for this district is now investigating the failure of the Commercial National bank, of Macon, officers of which are charged with violation of the national banking laws in loaning more than 10 per cent of their capital stock to certain individuals.

A large number of witnesses were before the grand jury today and others will appear when the jury resumes its deliberations next Monday. E. J. Mulhally was president of the bank and J. Cobb vice president. None of the depositors lost anything through the failure of the bank, all of the obligations being assumed by the American National bank, which is now acting as liquidating agent, though the stockholders are liable for the indebtedness of the institution.

Columbus, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—William Clein was found guilty in the federal court this afternoon of concealing assets of his stock of merchandise and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The case had been on trial since Tuesday. The jury was out about thirty minutes.

Clein, who was a merchant here, was thrown into bankruptcy several months ago. The case will be opened, a writ of error having been filed.

7TH DISTRICT MASONS END SESSIONS AT ROME

Rome, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—The eighteenth annual communication of the Seventh District Masonic convention came to a close here tonight after a two days' session. Several hundred Masons were here from all parts of the seventh congressional district, and many prominent visitors from other states took part in the degree work and feature of the convention was ladies' night at the opera house, at which there was an immense gathering. The final event was a grand Masonic ball, given at the Danmore, a half-third degree of Eastern Star of Georgia, presided over by a distinguished public was invited, and seven Rome religious services delivered "sermonettes." The final banquet, held under auspices of Cherokee lodge of Masons.

NATIONAL BISCUIT MEN HOLD CONVENTION HERE

"Now is the logical time to start an aggressive campaign for business," was the keynote to all the speakers made at the banquet in the Piedmont hotel Friday of the southern representatives of the National Biscuit company, who are here for a meeting in Atlanta. These men come from the offices of the company in the states south of Virginia and east of the Mississippi river.

In commenting on the condition of business in Atlanta and comparing it with other cities of the south, many of the representatives could find no evidence of dull times here.

During their stay in Atlanta they will be shown the new headquarters of the National Biscuit company, located at the Whitehall street, and under the charge of W. F. Catling.

TEACHERS TO DISCUSS COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Important Resolutions Coming Up Before Educational Association at Macon Today.

Macon, Ga., May 7.—(Special.)—The session of the Georgia Educational association today was marked by the introduction of two resolutions—one asking the legislature to pass the permissive kindergarten bill, providing state appropriations to establish kindergarten classes in the public schools over the state, and another praising M. L. Britton, state superintendent of education, designed to get the unanimous endorsement of the association for him to remain in office, it being reported that he might be offered the superintendency of schools in Atlanta.

The compulsory education resolution will be introduced at the session tomorrow morning, along with a number of other resolutions looking to the carrying out of Superintendent Britton's program for a complete revision of the educational code of Georgia by the legislature this summer.

It was stated almost as a certainty today that Ralph Newton, of Fort Valley, vice president of the state association, will be elected president, succeeding W. C. Wardlaw, of Athens.

A resolution will be introduced to have the title of president of the association held in Macon.

The following committees were named at the session today: Resolutions—E. L. Daniels, Columbus; H. H. Powell, Valdosta; John Newton, Fort Valley; M. C. Quillen, Sanderaville; E. H. Scott, Milledgeville; Legislation—J. M. Pound, State Normal, Athens; Chancellor D. C. Burrow, state university, Athens; E. C. Murray, Atlanta; C. H. Bruce, Macon; T. G. Phillips, LaGrange.

Memberships—E. L. Ernest, Athens; W. D. Roberts, Valdosta; E. Allen, Milledgeville; W. E. Dendy, Monroe; W. T. Garrett, Dublin.

Court of Four Seasons San Francisco Exposition

Top View of northeast wing of 36-acre lake of Country Club, and rolling fairways of championship golf course, which, together make East Lake the ideal spot for the annual southern championship golf tourney in June. Bottom Front view of handsome $100,000 Country Club at East Lake, which will be informally thrown open to members of Atlanta Athletic club today.

After fourteen months without a clubhouse which was burned in March 1914 the members of the Atlanta Athletic club will today enjoy all the comforts of their new magnificent $100,000 country clubhouse at East Lake which will be informally thrown open to members their wives and lady friends by a soiree from 5 until 7 o'clock this afternoon which will be followed by a brilliant ball tonight.

East Lake golfers will also participate in the opening golf tournament of the season this afternoon when the qualifying round of a handicap tournament will be played.

The exterior finishing of the new club presents an English architectural design which is in a gray stucco plaster and wood paneling. The interior of the club is designed along elaborate lines and the house has been furnished in truly English fashion.

Building Practically Fireproof

The new building which is practically fireproof on three sides overlooks the broad lake of its acres and the beautiful rolling fairways of the championship golf course of the south. Asa G. Chandler Jr. the new president of the Athletic club said last night.

Our members ought to be proud of their country home at East Lake—it gives to Atlanta clubdom the most beautiful of all of the south's golf clubs.

The opening of this beautiful home will assure for the Athletic club a period of unprecedented prosperity. I am pleased that Atlanta can welcome the annual Southern Golf tournament in June as well as the Southern Lawn Tennis tournament in such gorgeous quarters.

I cannot call to mind a more beautiful golf club than the East Lake clubhouse.

Finished Home

Thomas B. Paine chairman of the committee in charge of the country clubhouse announced last night that the last touches had been put on the East Lake club and that the members would be presented a finished home today.

The house furnishings were sent on in the afternoon said Mr. Paine and everything will be in readiness for the members.

I have made arrangements for a full orchestra to furnish music for the soiree and ball. The exterior finishing and interior furnishings of this building will be in every respect.

Covers of golf tennis foot bag swimming fishing and other outdoor sports as well as the lovers of the dance will find in East Lake this summer a most delightful spot.

Associated with Mr. Paine on the club's clubhouse committee is Preston A. Akwright a member of the board of directors of the Athletic club and Howard Geldert.

Furnish Light Dinner

While the dining department of the clubhouse is not entirely complete as yet ample arrangements have been made for furnishing light dinners for all those who wish to be seated at East Lake today.

This informal opening of the club to members will be followed by a formal one next Saturday when an elaborate reception will be tendered the members of the Capital City club, Fremont Driving club, Druid Hills Golf club, University club and Ansley Park Golf club. Hundreds of invitations to this formal opening will be mailed next week.

In today's dances at East Lake a novelty will be enjoyed—the spacious brick terraces adjoining the rear of the clubhouse and overlooking the lake will be used for dancing. They will be covered with heavy canvas. The large ballroom and dining room of the clubhouse will also be utilized by

Directors of Club

The directors of the club who are Mr. Chandler, John W. Eckman vice president, Preston S. Arkwright, Scott Hudson and William E. Stone are expected to attend tonight's dance.

The other officials of the club will be on hand. They are: Town club house committee, Harry J. Dix, chairman, golf course committee, Scott Hudson, chairman, golf committee, W. E. Pichon, chairman, and J. C. McMichael, chairman, athletic committee, A. A. Dodson, chairman, lake committee, J. Q. Burton, chairman, membership committee, Frank H. Reynolds, chairman, H. P. Hunt and H. W. Davis, trustees committee, L. D. Scott, chairman, Lee M. Jordan and Clarence Bell.

Much credit is due the building committee of the new clubhouse for the excellent building that is being turned over to the members. This committee's personnel in listed form of the most prominent members. They were George W. Adair, chairman, Thomas B. Paine and I. D. Scott, Henry & Reed were the architects and R. M. Walker the building contractor. J. H. Holbrook was superintendent of construction.

MRS. CARMAN DENIES NEGRO MAID'S STORY

Accused Woman's Testimony Identical With That Given at the First Trial.

Mincola, N. Y. May 7.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman testified in her own defense today at her trial on the charge of slaying Mrs. Louise D. Bailey in the office of her husband Dr. Edwin Carman in Freeport June 30 last. Her testimony was almost identical with that at the first trial, which ended in a disagreement.

Mrs. Carman denied everything to which Col. Coleman her former negro maid had testified. She denied that she ever had used a revolver but admitted there was a pistol in her room at the time of the shooting. A small automatic pistol was produced by her counsel and placed in evidence. The bullet that killed Mrs. Bailey was of larger caliber.

Only once did Mrs. Carman appear confused on her cross examination and that was when the district attorney furnished an outline of the Carman house and asked her to point out which room was the room in which Mrs. Varrance a nurse was in the doctor's office.

Which time? asked Mrs. Carman. You know which time Mrs. Carman snapped the attorney. Did you go more than once? No, she replied and then quickly recovered her composure and said: You asked me which window. Believe me if I had done it (meaning the shooting) I wouldn't have gone to the same window.

Mrs. Carman previously had repeated her testimony given at the first trial that on one occasion she had gone to the doctor's office while Mrs. Varrance was there and that she had rapped on the window.

Dr. Edwin Carman described the shooting of Louise Bailey. His story was identical with that related by him in the first trial.

JAMES AND GRIFFIN ARE FINED FOR FIGHT

W. A. James and W. S. Griffin who had a fight on the corner of Alabama and Forsyth streets Thursday afternoon were each fined $75. James who is an attorney of Douglassville Ga. has been looking after an estate belonging to the mother of Griffin, and Griffin objected to some things the lawyer had done.

James during the difficulty drew a pistol and Griffin struck him a blow in the face. They clenched and fell and were separated by a policeman.

Recorder Johnson after entering the fines held the case in abeyance on the charge of carrying a pistol without a license.

Mr. James last night furnished the Constitution with the following statement:

Editor Constitution: Under the heading "W. A. James Faces Two Charges in the Recorder's Court of Atlanta," you seem to convey the idea that I had attempted burglary. I think that I ought to make a brief statement.

As far as the Griffin estate is concerned I can truthfully say that it has been well managed and is now in good condition. No skill of mine is necessary to attend this fact. When Mrs. Griffin was first appointed guardian of the estate of her mother in December 1912 it was owing a considerable amount of money. I was employed to represent her and the estate owed about $6,000 besides some interest on the debt to the First National bank of Dublin. This indebtedness of course continued to draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent and the tax collector's estate both in Laurens and Fulton counties, amounted to something near $200 per year.

All of this indebtedness has been paid including the taxes together with the accumulation of interest on the debt which together I think amounted to about $1,000 until there is less than $2,000 now due by the estate. The balance of course continues to draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent and the tax collector's estate both in Laurens and Fulton counties, amounted to something near $200 per year.

Last Day of Beauty Contest; Happiest Girl in All Georgia Will Be Winner of Big Trip

This is one glorious, glittering dress that the Luckiest Girl in Georgia will not take from the journey across America to the San Francisco and Universal City as winner of The Constitution-Universal's popularity contest, which closes this evening at 8 o'clock, and the result of which will be announced Sunday, May 16, one week hence.

The winning girl will leave Atlanta by June 4, or earlier if she cares, going by way of Chicago, where she will be entertained at a round of amusements arranged there by the conductors of the massive party that is to travel across the continent in a special train.

The Georgia girl will meet the entire party in Chicago on June 5. The big special, consisting of four Pullman and dining cars of the most modern type; baggage cars and complete Pullman equipment, of which an entire half-section is assigned to each girl, leaves at 8 o'clock on the night of June 5.

Kansas City Will Entertain.
 The next morning at 7:30 o'clock the train pulls into Kansas City, one of the biggest points of interest in the middle west. They will be joined there by the winners in Missouri, Iowa and other neighboring states. The girls and their chaperons will be given a rousing reception by Kansas City; met by a brass band and carried over the city on a sight-seeing trip. The train will remain in Kansas City until 3:30 on the afternoon of June 7. The girls will be entertained on a tour of the rugged and mountainous Colorado. On the day following the stop-over at Kansas City the train rolls into Pueblo, Col., where a short stop and sight-seeing trip will be made. Later, the train proceeds to Colorado Springs, where the girls will be entertained at a sumptuous dinner.

At Denver, The Denver Post, one of the greatest newspapers in that section of the west, will celebrate the coming of the Beauty girls at a joyous series of entertainments. On the fourth day of the trip the train, speeding at express speed over mountain and glade of the boundless west, travels across the arid lands of the Mexican limited stop will be made at Las Vegas, Lamy and Albuquerque.

This is Indian territory, and girls of the more effete east will feel thrills of their young lives in mingling with the Indian characters that they will encounter in this exciting territory. On June 10, the party will reach Grand Canyon, thirteen miles long, two hundred and seventy miles wide and a mile deep. Most of the day will be spent here amidst America's most inspirational scenery.

At Universal City.
 On June 12, the seventh day of the journey, the train reaches Universal City, the million dollar metropolis devoted entirely to the making of moving pictures. The girls will be introduced to the process of the manufacture of the movies, will meet all their favorite stars, and will be entertained by the actor folk, and, best of all, will play parts in one of the big serials being taken at that time. At least one of the girls will be given a position as a Universal star.

The party reaches the San Diego exposition on June 12. They will be escorted throughout the great fair, and will put up at the biggest hotel in San Diego. A branch trip will be made the next day to Santa Barbara.

DEADLY TORNADO STRIKES CAROLINA
 Seven Persons Killed and Scores Injured in Pee Dee Section — Property Loss Very Heavy.

Columbia, S. C., May 7.—A tornado sweeping the Pee Dee section of South Carolina caused the death of at least seven persons, injured hundreds and inflicted property damage to the amount of several thousand dollars. Manning, county seat of Clarendon county, suffered most severely. A part of the business section of the town was destroyed. The storm in Marlboro county did not reach the county seat of Bennettsville, but caused great damage in the country.

In Manning, Miss Clara Baggett was instantly killed by the falling roof of the store in which she was a saleswoman. Collapse of a building in the same block caused the death of Beasley Davis and a negro porter.

Miss Inez Tart, 15, and Carl Tart, her younger brother, were killed on the plantation of J. K. Matheson in Marlboro. A negro infant and an inmate of the Marlboro almshouse were killed. The almshouse, including sections for white people and negroes, was completely wrecked and eleven occupants were more or less seriously injured.

Practically every business house in an area of 150 yards was wrecked in Manning. In Marlboro, 100 persons are believed to have been injured and probably forty homes have been destroyed. A church was blown down in Marlboro. Buildings in Ellerbe, Orangeburg county, were destroyed, including two churches and a big warehouse.

Houses in Darlington county were reduced to debris. Mrs. Bud Dickson was sitting in her home, near Harrisville, holding a baby of a neighbor, Clarence Gandy, when her house was blown down about her ears. She and the baby were blown for forty yards, and both are in a critical condition.

33 LIVES LOST IN LOUISIANA
 New Orleans, May 7.—Storms general over large sections of Louisiana and Mississippi late yesterday afternoon, last night and early today resulted in thirty-three deaths, the injury of many persons, and the destruction of property damage that was heavy but which it is impossible to estimate because of interrupted wire communication.

The death list was increased today when it was ascertained that fourteen persons had been killed in Coahoma and adjoining counties in Mississippi. First reports told of about thirty deaths in St. Helena parish, Louisiana, came a report today that one person had been killed and several injured. With one exception all the victims were negroes.

Reports from several points in the two states today wire and rail communication was becoming normal and it is believed the danger had passed.

Early estimates of the property loss in Louisiana placed the damage at $500,000.

The storm which visited Mississippi was accompanied by high winds and heavy rain in several sections of the state were inundated, Washington north of Magnolia, the traffic on the Illinois Central for several hours.

14 LIVES LOST IN MISSISSIPPI
 Clarkdale, Miss., May 7.—Fourteen lives were lost in the west and rain storm which swept Coahoma and adjoining counties late yesterday, according to belated reports reaching here today. Property damage on large plantations throughout the section also was said to be heavy. All the dead were negroes.

On the Cammack place, 15 miles east of here, seven negroes were killed by being blown away from their homes. Four negroes, also, were killed on the Elkhorn plantation of King & Anderson, two negroes are reported dead on the G. E. Maynard plantation, and one negro on the Hansen property.

DAMAGE DONE AT BIRMINGHAM.
 Birmingham, Ala., May 7.—Wind-storms passed through Birmingham's business section early this morning breaking many fine plate glass windows and damaging several business buildings. The damage estimated at several thousand dollars in the heart of the city alone and a hundred thousand dollars in other parts of the city are down.

LIFE AND PROPERTY LOST IN TENNESSEE.
 Nashville, Tenn., May 7.—The home of Hardy Hays, near Humboldt, Tenn., was blown away last night in one of the fiercest storms of the season. That vicinity in years. His mother was killed and himself and wife badly injured. The bodies of the mother and her husband were blown down and a bank in Humboldt was partially destroyed.

Hopkinsville, Ky., reports a chimney of the Hotel Latham struck by lightning. B. Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, was stunned.

MOTHER AND CHILD KILLED IN TENNESSEE.
 Huntington, Tenn., May 7.—Mrs. Lee Bunn and her child were killed and Mrs. E. Hilliard was probably fatally injured. The bodies of Mrs. Bunn and her child were blown down and a bank in Huntington was partially destroyed.

Divorce for Mrs. Donovan.
 Reno, Nev., May 7.—Helen M. Donovan, wife of W. E. (Wild Bill) Donovan, was granted a decree of divorce today in the district court. Failure to provide was alleged in the complaint.

FRIDAY'S BIG RAIN WORTH A FORTUNE TO STATE FARMERS
 Best Thing That Could Possibly Have Happened for Georgia, Declares State Entomologist Lee Worsham.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY DOWNPOUR IN CITY
 W. L. Trussell Killed and Atlanta Property Pays Toll—Cloudy Today, Says Atlanta Forecaster.

Millions of dollars' worth of good to the farming interests of Georgia was done by Friday's big rain that broke a drought of nearly three months, and came just at a time when the farmers were discouraged over the outlook for their big fields of grains.

"It came just in the nick of time, and was the best thing that could possibly have happened," said E. Lee Worsham, state entomologist, who has recently made a trip over the various sections of the state. "It will help every crop and mean the salvation of many farmers who have this year departed from so much cotton and have planted enormous grain crops."

Rain Badly Needed.
 The bulk of the cotton crop had been planted, and thousands of acres needed rain. The seed were in the ground rotting for want of rain. Since the farmers have used less fertilizer than in many years, it makes rain all the more valuable at this time.

The grain crops will be shorter than they would have been had showers fallen in April, but with the rain Friday the farmers will be able to harvest fair crops. Had Friday's rain been delayed ten days it would have worked a terrible hardship on the farmers, according to Mr. Worsham and others in touch with the agricultural situation in the state.

Atlanta paid a toll of one dead and thousands of dollars property damage as the result of a heavy downpour that broke the drought of nearly three months. A drenching rain between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning when the precipitation was 3.77 inches followed the continuing sprinkle that had kept up earlier in the day. Three inches fell before 10 o'clock in the morning and the rainfall for the day was placed at 4 inches. Streets were flooded, trolley cars were stopped for twenty minutes in various sections of the city; several small telephone cables were broken; sixty telephones were put out of commission in Decatur; water mains were washed up and storm sewers, taxed by the onrush of the floods in the streets, broke under the strain.

Drowned in Sewer.
 W. L. Trussell, age 50, of 206 Fair street, and employed in the city construction gang, was drowned when he fell into a sewer under construction. Several members of the gang escaped, but caught in the four hundred feet of the sewer and, reaching the mouth, was pinioned by the large iron pipe. The sewer had broken and fallen into the new sewer, which is 6 1/2 feet inside.

Friday's rain was exceeded by that of the old twelve-foot lateral sewer were destroyed and to repair the damage will cost the city several thousand dollars. The new sewer was being constructed to relieve the strain on the lateral sewers in just such instances as the Georgia hotel, in which water was served its purpose.

Millions to Farmers.
 Reports from other sections of the state and other southern states were that the rain had been generous. Conditions were becoming serious with the farmers and the grain crops, which were largely in the seed stage, were on account of the surplus of cotton from last year and are relied on to be the mainstay of the farmer.

The rain Friday was the first recorded since February 22, when the precipitation had been more than one inch in a period of twenty-four hours. On that date the precipitation was 1.65 inches. The heavy rainfall of 1.77 inches on Friday was exceeded only on August 30, 1914, when 3.19 inches fell in fifty minutes. The record precipitation for one hour was exceeded on July 28, 1898, in one hour and fifty minutes.

The rainfall for the month of April, this year was only 35 of an inch, opposed to the normal of 3.63 for the month of April.

The Georgia weather area was throughout the southeast, Montgomery, Ala., reported 3.08 inches; Meridian, Miss., 1.76 inches; Birmingham, Ala., 1.75 inches; and Memphis, Tenn., 1.72 inches.

Forecast for Today.
 C. F. von Herrmann, weather observer here, issued the following official forecast for Saturday:
 "Saturday will be cloudy in the forenoon, then clearing, but without rain. The forecast for Washington for the night, however, read: 'Showers next except fair and warmer in the north-west.'"

The cadets of the Georgia Military Academy, holding their annual convention at Lakewood, got a taste of the rough end of soldier life when the storm flooded their pits, swept down the streets and drove them to shelter in residences in the vicinity of the park.

The Chattahoochee river near the main waterworks pumping station registered a five-foot rise, but waterworks officials stated that this rise in no way endangered the station, on account of a levee which protects it.

Spring gardens received a needed refreshment and extra connection gang will no doubt begin late planting next week.

Trussell, who was drowned in the new storm sewer, had been on that job only two weeks, having formerly worked on the Greenberry avenue sewer. He was one of the men thrown out of work by the business depression and who accepted work with the extra connection gang of the city at $1.50 per day. He is survived by his widow and five children.

His home was at 206 Fair street. The funeral services will be held at the Washington street Methodist church at 12 o'clock Sunday, interment at Woodview.
