Weather Prophecy Table with columns for Stations and State of Weather, Temperature, and Rain.

The British expeditionary forces in France today sent a report under date of May 17 to the war department here as follows:

The First army has gained further successes south of Rheims—L'Avoué and all the German trenches on a front of two miles were captured. On Sunday morning several bodies of German troops were captured voluntarily to our troops who continue to fight with great gallantry and determination. One of these bodies while trying to surrender was caught by German artillery fire and practically annihilated.

The exact number of prisoners has not yet been ascertained but 5,000 have been cleared to the lines of communication.

On the remainder of the front there have been no incidents to report.

NOTABLE GAINS FOR ALLIES.

Paris May 17.—The official communication, issued by the French war office tonight, announces the capture by the British troops of several additional German trenches to the north of La Bassée together with a thousand prisoners.

In an engagement at Ville Sur-Tourbe the French took four hundred prisoners and in an attack at the ally wood captured several German works and captured 200 prisoners.

The text is as follows:

On the night of Sunday the Allies threatened by our successful attacks of the preceding days with a complete envelopment evacuated last night the positions which he had occupied west of the river canal. We have maintained all our gains on the east bank.

North of La Bassée the British troops who were strongly counter-attacked during the night of Sunday-Monday are victoriously continuing the fighting. Today they carried several German trenches and inflicted heavy losses.

One contingent of several hundred Germans caught between the fire of the British machine guns and that of their own artillery was almost entirely exterminated. Our allies have taken 1,000 prisoners and some machine guns.

The British troops have been successful all day, preventing important actions. Nevertheless the struggle continues on the front of the river canal especially there we have repulsed all German counter-attacks.

The British troops have been successful in the affair at Ville Sur-Tourbe, 350 besides 50 wounded.

This morning at break of day we carried out an attack in the ally wood occupying several German works, we took three machine guns and 250 prisoners.

In the outskirts of the forest of la Pretre two German battalions made three attempts to sortie from their trenches but our fire held them up short.

The communication issued in the afternoon follows:

In the region of Hel Sas we have continued in an effort to surround the enemy. Yesterday evening we occupied a house strongly defended by the enemy, and on the night of Sunday we took possession of the first German line of attack at the same time 140 prisoners were taken. The enemy was repulsed. A counter-attack in part of the night was a complete failure.

Nothing has happened near Arras where it is again raining, with the exception of an extremely violent artillery duel in the region of the ally wood. The enemy's position in this same vicinity of four counter-attacks on the night of Sunday.

On the Oise at a point near Baffly the enemy undoubtedly in an effort to influence our troops, yesterday displayed in front of our lines a Turkish green background with the crescent and star emblem. This was repulsed at once by the ally wood which brought this flag to the ground. A sharp shoofer subsequently went out and brought the flag back to our lines.

BERLIN ADMITS GERMAN RETREAT

Berlin May 17.—(By Wireless)—German army headquarters today give out the following statement:

In the eastern war theater the north of Ypres and to the west of the canal near Steenstraete and Hel Sas the Germans yesterday gave up their advanced positions and to avoid losses from the strong artillery fire of the enemy they drew back their small forces to the main positions on the eastern bank of the canal.

South of the canal the British still hold parts of the front trench line. The fighting continues north of the ally wood and Neuville French attacks yesterday were repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy.

German airships have successfully attacked the seaports of Dover and Calais.

In the eastern war theater the British river near Niergola and Cezarka and south of the Niemcn river near Mirampol and Ludinov attacks by the enemy were repulsed.

Among the Russian prisoners taken near Shavli in Courland were a number of recruits of the class of 1915 who had only been in training for three weeks.

In the southeastern war theater the British river near the upper Vistula and along the front from Sambor to Styr and Stanislaw continue. The River San has been crossed at several places near Jaroslau and in the northward. There is fighting going on around Erzemsk.

RUSSIANS EXPLAIN THEIR RETREAT

Petrograd May 17.—(Via London May 17)—The Russian general staff, explaining the change in the Galician campaign from a successful advance to a tactical give out the following today:

From the middle of April news began to reach us of the transport of great numbers of German troops from the western front and their concentration in the direction of the ally wood. The staff of affairs thus stated that we must stop the development of our advance in the direction of Moshobry and Bzowk in order to limit ourselves to the maintenance of our position in the ally wood.

However the forces which the enemy threw against our front with no consideration that our ally army was unable to check the progress of the enemy from breaking in front. The enemy's action was due to the fact that the ally army was unable to check the progress of the enemy from breaking in front. The ally army was unable to check the progress of the enemy from breaking in front.

BRITISH TITLE YIELDED BY SIR EDGAR SPEYER

Noted Banker Takes Step Because of the Newspaper Charges of Disloyalty.

London May 17.—Sir Edgar Speyer has written to Premier Asquith resigning his privy councilship and is queuing also the revocation of his baronetcy. The letter declares that Sir Edgar was led to take this step after five months of newspaper charges of disloyalty which have culminated in speeches against him by public men.

The Globe in an editorial published today before Sir Edgar's letter had been made public complained that neither Sir Edgar nor Sir Ernest Cassell, both privy councilors had made public their detestation of Germany's crimes.

The Globe charges that because they were of alien origin Sir Edgar and Sir Ernest were only permitted legally to hold the seats in the privy council by the assent of the parliament during the time of the war.

Sir Edgar Speyer was born in 1866 the son of the famous Speyer banker. He was educated at Eton and Balliol and later became partner in his father's firm, Speyer & Brothers.

He married Miss Mary, daughter of the late Lord Cromwell, and in 1907 he took charge of the London house of the firm of Speyer & Brothers.

Force of United States Force of Moral Principle

President Wilson Tells Distinguished Gathering in New York What Country and Fleet Stand For.

GREAT BATTLESHIPS ENGINES OF HUMANITY

After Address the President Boarded the Mayflower and Reviewed the Mighty Armada in Hudson River.

New York, May 17.—President Wilson today received the Atlantic fleet in the Hudson river, and at a luncheon tendered to him on shore by the city of New York.

"The inspiring thing about America," the president asserted, "is that she asks nothing for herself except what she has a right to ask for humanity itself."

"It is right," he said, "that America should have a great navy to express its will."

"The navy of the United States," the president said, "expresses our ideals. The fleet lying here at New York is a great fleet, and has nothing of bluster about it."

Speaking of the flag, the president said that it typified all that was best in the world.

"The mission of America," he went on, "is what her soldiers and sailors should think of. They have nothing to do but to see how they can best protect the persons who run the United States against any interest."

"We lift no threats against any nation or class in the United States. This fleet in the harbor is a solemn evidence that the force of America is the force of moral principle. There is nothing else for which she will contend."

Land Parade of Sailors.—The president took occasion to pay tribute to Secretary of the Navy Daniels, who sat beside him.

Although the day was damp and chilly, with occasional downpours of rain, the weather abated in no way the enthusiasm with which New York greeted the head of the nation.

The president's remarks at the luncheon were greeted with tremendous applause.

The President's Address.—The text of the president's address follows:

"Mr. Mayor, Mr. Secretary, Admiral Fletcher and gentlemen of the fleet: This is not an occasion upon which it seems to me that I would do well to make many remarks, but I would deprive myself of a great gratification if I were not to express my pleasure at being here, my gratitude for the splendid reception which has been accorded me, and my interest in the nation and my profound interest in the navy of the United States."

"I like to imagine in my thoughts this ideal. These quiet ships, lying in the harbor, have no suspicion of bluster about them—no intimation of aggression. They are commanded by men of the highest caliber, and they are as well as the duty of officers—men acquainted with its traditions of the navy of the United States what sort of discipline they ought to observe, and what sort of discretion they ought to exercise, in order to use those engines of force as engines to promote the interests of humanity."

"For the interesting and inspiring thing that America asks for herself is nothing for herself except what she has a right to ask for humanity itself. We wish to question no nation's honor. We wish to stand selfishly in the way of the nation; we wish to get by our own illegitimate means."

enterprise and by the inspiration of our own example and standing for these things it is our privilege to stand for what every nation would wish to stand for and speaking for those things which all humanity must desire.

When He Thinks of Flag.—"When I think of the flag which floats above the ships, the only thing that comes into my mind is the thought that if it had a settled spirit in it, it would be a great thing to me that I see in the stripes of parchment upon which are written the rights of liberty and justice, and stripes of blood spilled for the cause of these rights; and then, in the corner, a pre-emption of the blue serene into which every nation may now and then stand for these great things."

"The mission of America is the only thing that our policy is that we think about; he has nothing to do with the formulation of his policies; he is to support her policy whatever it is—but he is to support her policy in the spirit of herself, and the strength of our policy is that we who, for the time being, administer the affairs of the nation, do not originate her policy, we attempt to embody it; we attempt to realize it; we do not dictate to anybody."

"And so with every man in arms who serves the nation—he stands and he does the things which the nation desires. America sometimes seems to forget her program, or she who represent it, that sometimes she forgets them. But the people never forget them. It is as startling as it is touching to see how whenever you touch a principle you touch the hearts of the people of the United States. They listen to you, and they determine which party they will prefer to power, they choose and prefer to support her policy, their real preference, their real forces, their real irresistible momentum is for the ideal which they embody."

Communism with Spirit of People.—"I never go on the streets of a great city without feeling that something is done to confer elsewhere than on the streets with the great spirit of the people themselves, going about their business, attending to the things which concern them, and yet carrying a treasure at their hearts all the while, ready to be stirred not only as individuals but as members of a great unit of hearts that constitutes a patriotic people."

"And so this spirit in the river touches me merely as a symbol of that, and it quickens the pulse of every man who realizes these things, to have anything to do with them. When a crisis occurs in this country, it is as if you put your hand on the pulse of a dynamo; it is as if things which you were in connection with were spiritually bred. You have nothing to do with them, except if you listen truly to speak the things that you hear."

"These things now brood over the river; this spirit now moves with the men who represent the nation in the waters in the maneuvers; no great life against any man, against any nation, against any interest, but just a great solemn evidence that the force of America is the force of moral principle, that there is nothing else for which she loves and that there is nothing else for which she will contend."

Wilson Reviews Fleet.—The president boarded his yacht for the review at 2 o'clock. A half hour was spent in receiving official visits from officers of the fleet and the Mayflower got under way. The president, with Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary Lane, Secretary Redfield and Acting Mayor McAneny, stood on the yacht's bridge. The fleet stretched ahead up the river for four miles, each ship dressed in pennants and ensigns. The crews in blue service uniforms, the officers in gold lace, manned the rails.

Overhead were dark clouds and a gray mist blew over the river, harmonizing with the gray of the anchor ships, but so thick at times that the furthest ships of the line scarcely could be distinguished from the Mayflower's starting point. Her course took her between the line of battleships and destroyers to the end of the fleet and back between the battleships and the Manhattan shore.

As the yacht, convoyed by four destroyers, departed the flagship Wyoming, first in line, the president's salute of twenty-one guns boomed forth. Each battleship in the fleet answered with a similar salute.

Wilson Asks Questions.—President Wilson kept up a constant stream of questions to those about him. He asked about the armament and crew of each ship and often expressed his pleasure.

The frequent playing of the national anthem kept the president's head up during most of the review. Despite the mist he refused to keep his hat on, and he did not wear his respect for the fleet and the anthem," he remarked.

The president remained about the yacht with the gray of the anchor ships until 7:30 was taken to the flagship Wyoming, where he was a dinner guest of Admiral Fletcher and officers of the fleet.

The day's program ended with a race, under the command of searchlights, among the battleships' boat crews, and a water pageant, consisting of a parade and a showy launch, humorously or historically decorated.

Tomorrow the ships swing out to sea for a naval game along the Atlantic coast. The president's head will review them from the Mayflower as they steam down the harbor.

The function was attended by Secretary Redfield, Acting Mayor McAneny and the ranking officers of the fleet. The president concluded his long day by watching the boat races from the yacht. After the president returned to the Mayflower for the night.

Three Auto Accidents Occurred Last Night And Cars Are Damaged

Three auto accidents occurred last night, two of them within a half block and within thirty minutes of each other.

At 6:35 o'clock a Boulevard street car, on Boulevard near Highland avenue, collided with an automobile in which three young ladies were riding.

The car, driven by a man whose name was not given, was knocked off and the front axle bent. None of the young women was hurt, it is stated. They gave their names as follows: Miss L. West, 115 Park street; Miss Alice Eaton and Miss Marion Lewis, of 109 Park.

At 7:15 o'clock a negro, driving a limousine, attempted to dodge a messenger by on a bicycle, and collided with another Boulevard car. This accident occurred on Boulevard just south of Highland avenue. The front axle of the limousine was broken. No one was hurt.

William Davis, whose office is at 28 1-2 Peachtree street, reported last night to Night Chief of Police E. L. Jett that automobile "No. 329 Ga. 1915," driven by a negro chauffeur and without passengers, had run into his machine at the corner of Washington and Mitchell streets. Mr. Davis asked that the police make a case against the negro driver, saying that he was going at a terrific rate of speed. A front wheel of the Davis machine was broken.

NEW MARKETS FOUND BY COTTON SEED MEN

Marked Improvement Noted by President Ives as Result of War.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—Addresses of welcome in behalf of the city, the chamber of commerce and the local crushers, with response delivered by J. J. Culbertson of Paris, Texas, vice president of the important work of the first hours of the nineteenth annual convention of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' association, which began here this morning for a four-day session.

President C. L. Ives, of Newbern, N. C., delivered his address after committee had been named. The attendance is large, practically every state in the union east of Colorado being represented, while many representatives of seed crushing machinery are here also. The crushers attended the ball game during the afternoon and a smoker was given tonight.

Improvement Noted.—Material improvement in all lines of business directly connected with the manufacture of cotton seed products as a result of the war in Europe was described by President Ives in his annual address.

"The beginning of the season," he said, "found us with the export demand for our products entirely cut off, because of war conditions, and our ability to buy seed, very limited, through stringency in the money market. The prospects were dark and gloomy. Through the united efforts of the publicity bureau and the general membership of the association, cotton seed products have been introduced into new markets, both at home and in foreign countries. Canada has used over 7,000 tons of cotton seed meal during the past season, while only a few years ago it was entirely unknown there."

"The warping nations have materially assisted us in disposing of our crop of cotton, and it is interesting to know that with every discharge of one of their great guns a bale of cotton or lint is consumed."

The value of cotton seed crushed during the past season, said President Ives, probably will reach more than $15,000,000, an increase of $20,000,000 over last year. The estimate for this year's crush, he added, would reach approximately 5,500,000 tons, or 700,000 tons more than last year.

Paid President Urged.—The speaker praised the work of the various committees of the organization and declared that much of the general improvement in the cotton seed industry was due directly to their active efforts.

"The employment of a president by the association, at a fixed yearly salary, was recommended by Mr. Ives in organizing the best results from the association. As the work increases, he said, it is necessary that the president should devote a large part of the whole of his time to the interests of the organization. It is impossible for one having other duties to push the work as it should be done."

Adoption of a uniform grade for cotton seed also was recommended. "During the past year," said the speaker, "several state organizations have adopted grading. It is my conviction that a uniform grade should be adopted by this association, and I hope that plans can be formulated during this convention that will result in uniform grading of seed before the beginning of another crushing season."

man answer to Washington will make it comprehensible to Mr. Wilson, in language as polite as it will be clear, that we must conduct the war as we are conducting it and can conduct it with a clear conscience."

The Tagliache Rundschau, commenting on reports that the Lusitania incident has caused a "growing insight" in America, says: "This insight probably will lead to the discovery that England really is the guilty party because it took ammunition on board a passenger steamer, in contravention of the American laws."

After quoting the statute, which it argues covers this point, the Tagliache Rundschau concludes: "According to the American laws the captain of the Lusitania ought to go to prison."

"We solemnly recommend to all fellow citizens, whatever their birth or ancestry, to examine this crucial period, when the unity of the country is put to a severe test, mutual distrust and nothing but mutual distrust nor dissension may find Americans a separated and disinherited people."

Prayers for the success of German arms in the European war were entered on the record.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It craves into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel hollow, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and makes no salivation.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It loosens your bowels, cramps you, and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

FORMER ATLANTA MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

J. F. Garner, Jr., Despondent Over Ill Health, Blows Out Brains at Buchanan.

Buchanan, Ga., May 17.—Holding a double barreled shotgun in his forehead and pressing the trigger, J. F. Garner, Jr., formerly of Atlanta, ended his life here this afternoon. The entire charge from the shotgun took effect in the top part of his head, tearing the crown completely away. Mr. Garner had been in ill health for some time, and his close friends state that he feared he had contracted tuberculosis, and that he had worried over his condition until his mind was temporarily affected. He left home at about 2 o'clock this afternoon with his shotgun, telling his wife that he was going to track it off, and that he would be back home in a few minutes. His wife became uneasy about him and sent some of the children in search of him, but he could not be found. Several gentlemen state that they saw him on the streets of Buchanan not over two hours before his death. Felix Davenport, a neighbor, on reaching home, was told of Garner's strange absence, so went in search of him, and upon entering a small barn only a few yards away found the body of Mr. Garner lying upon the barn floor with the head torn away. He was almost overcome by the discovery, and upon telling his gruesome find became so agitated that it was necessary to call in a physician. Garner formerly resided in Atlanta, being employed for some years in that city as a street car conductor. He was one of the county's best citizens, having some months ago and taking up his abode in this city, where he engaged in the auto transfer business. He leaves a wife and several children and many prominent connections.

Civil War Battles Were Not So Trying As Daughter's Acts

Rome, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—A suit now being held in chambers by Judge Moses Wright involves the possession of a large estate that of the late Mrs. H. M. Rich, of Summerville, Chatsworth county. Two of Captain Rich's children are endeavoring to have set aside deeds made by Mrs. Rich to Captain Rich on the ground of insanity. Miss Fannie Rich and Mrs. Mary Mallicoate were present at the hearing, and the bitter denials of their father's statements while he was testifying added a touch of interest. The suit of the children sets up that their father was of a domineering disposition and completely controlled his wife, who signed papers for him without reading them. Captain Rich stoutly denied this, and swore that his daughter Fannie tried to break up his home. His wife died in April, and the daughters swear that for some time their father had illicit relations with a woman named Jessie Walker, who had considerable influence over him. The case has attracted considerable attention in this section, as the parties are prominent. Captain Rich swore that he was a veteran of the Confederate army, and had been in twenty-seven battles, but that none was so trying as his daughter Fannie's. The hearing was continued until next Tuesday in order to secure additional witnesses.

"You Don't Look Right, Jones"

Errors of living, among which coffee-drinking is one of the most common, has stirred the New York Health Department to prepare a booklet of suggestions for indoor workers, and among other wise bits of advice this booklet says:

"Bracers are harmful. This applies to the use of tea, coffee and alcoholic beverages."

Sound advice! All over America, for years, coffee drinkers, indoor and out, prompted by their own feelings and enlightened by science, have gotten rid of coffee troubles by changing to

POSTUM—the pure food-drink.

Postum, made of choicest wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, tastes much like the finest Java, yet contains no caffeine (the harmful drug in coffee) nor any other harmful element.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—the soluble form—is prepared in the cup. A teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a delicious drink instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

HIS VISIT TO HOTEL COSTLY TO SPERRY; YOUNG WOMAN HELD

J. H. Sperry, arrested in company with a young woman named Mrs. Maddox Watson in the Folsom hotel, told Recorder Johnson Monday that he had observed women in the back rooms of the hotel while he was looking out window in a bowling alley and that he slipped into the hotel merely on an observation tour. He said that women in décolleté gowns and smoking cigarettes could be seen from the rear of the hotel through open windows. This attorney for the hotel denied. Recorder Johnson said that there was no evidence to show that Sperry had been disorderly, except in slipping into the hotel without registering. For this he was fined $5.75, and his companion's case carried forward a day.

An exhibit of the work of the Fitzgerald schools, together with a reception to the teachers with the mothers as hostesses, was a feature of Friday and Saturday. A play was held in the Carnegie library building. The work of the children of all grades filled the whole upper floor of all kinds was shown, that from the domestic science and manual training department being examined with unusual interest, as these departments are new to the schools here. The domestic science class, under the guidance of Miss Iris Davenport, winner of the gold medal in the competitive dressmaking contest at $45, the cost of the material being limited to $5. Each young lady of the graduating class made her own graduation gown, and the display was beautiful. The work done by the boys in the shops with hand tools will compare favorably with machine-made articles.

BITTERNESS IS SHOWN IN RIGGS BANK CASE

Motion to Dismiss Suit Against McAdoo and Williams Is Argued.

Washington, May 16.—Argument on motions by government counsel to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction the injunction suit brought by the Riggs National bank against treasury officials began today in the District of Columbia supreme court. An indication of the bitterness with which the litigation will be fought developed soon after the case was called. The opposing lawyers engaged in a heated wrangle over publicity methods employed in the proceedings, which Justice McCoy, presiding, said that this court is not going to be used as a laboratory to test bad blood.

Louis Brandeis, Samuel Undermyer and associate counsel for Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller of the Currency, William and Treasurer John Burke, charged with conspiring to wreck the Riggs bank, filed briefs in support of their motions to dismiss the proceedings. They maintained that "the suit involves the property of the United States, is a suit against the United States, and jurisdiction cannot be made a party to a suit without its consent. The officers in their dealings with the bank, it was declared, acted in their official capacity and within the law.

Frank J. Hogan, for the bank, charged in his argument that a political aspect had been injected into the case and that musty affidavits filed by Secretary McAdoo had nothing to do with the proceedings. He urged that the government may be made amenable to the court when they attempt to usurp authority and associated that McAdoo usurped authority by withholding $5,000 interest on bonds due the Riggs bank.

Referring to Comptroller Williams, Mr. Hogan said: "We hold to the bar an individual who has abandoned his office as a law administrator and become a law violator." The attorney dwelt at length on demands for immediate affidavits filed by Mr. Williams. He said the directors of the bank last summer asked the comptroller just affidavits desired the bank to do, but that no advice or suggestions were received. In demanding $5,000 interest on bonds from the bank for failure to submit a report of the loans of the institution for eighteen years, Mr. Hogan declared that Comptroller Williams made an erroneous calculation to stipulate that which was not correct. He said the bank, and notified the bank that it would be subject to a "further and continuing penalty."

Attempt to Rally Alleged.—"We thought he meant what he said," continued the attorney. "It now appears from Williams' affidavit that he tried to get the attention of officials of the bank. He now says he had no intention of exacting further money from the bank. He tried to calculate the amount that had been incurred."

Referring to the statement in Mr. McAdoo's affidavit that the secretary knew but two of the National City Bank of New York, Mr. Hogan had no dealings with that institution to arouse hostility, Mr. Hogan said the National City bank was in the case and did not own a dollar's worth of stock in the Riggs bank. It was believed tonight that the two men would be occupied by arguments on legal phases of the proceedings. If the court should permit to discontinue the case, defendant officials then would have to show cause why they should not be permitted to join in the proceedings. Alleged unlawful interference with the bank.

HARD-LUCK STORY TOLD BY LAWYER MOVES RECORDER

A pitiful tale was told the recorder Monday in his anteroom about the life of J. L. Vaughn, the young lawyer, arrested for stealing law books from the library at the capitol. It seems that Vaughn, who appears to be barely of age, has a wife and young baby living at 139 Spring street, that he was struggling against odds to keep a mother and child and provide food for them. Things got worse, and he thought out the scheme of getting a little money each day by selling one or two law books stolen from the library. Recorder Johnson said he was deeply moved by the circumstances, and that he wished it was in his power to put him on probation, but the best that he could do was to bind him over on $100 bond, and make a personal appeal to the higher court for him.

Dalton Has Holiday That Citizens May Go to Highway Meet

Dalton, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—The people of this section are preparing to "close up shop" and attend in a body the meeting of the Dixie highway commission in Chattanooga, May 20, to press their claims for a place on the highway. T. S. Shope, editor of the Dalton Citizen, and one of the most enthusiastic workers for the highway, is discussing the proposition today, said: "The interest in the Dixie highway, via Dalton, Calhoun and Adair counties, takes on more force as the time approaches for the Chattanooga meeting. The Dalton people are going to close up the town and go in a body. The mayor has issued a proclamation making next Thursday a holiday, and a special train will be run—possibly originating at Cartersville, and taking on passengers all the way up to Chattanooga. "Calhoun county is to begin surfacing of her roads today. There are about 4 or 5 miles to be surfaced in this county. This will complete the road from Chattanooga to the Whitfield-Gordon line, with the exception of 4 1/2 or 5 miles in the south end of Whitfield county. The convict gang begins work today on this highway. "The Gordon county commissioners have ordered road machinery, which was expected last week, and machinery has no doubt arrived by this time, and work will begin at the Whitfield county line and go on to Gordon county. Each county has available funds for the completion of the work, and there is nothing to delay an early completion of the route."

ALBANY WOODMEN SUPPORT ATLANTA

Cordele, Ga., May 17.—(Special.)—J. Gordon Jones, mayor of Atlanta, will be the principal speaker at the Woodmen of the World banquet at Albany, Ga., Tuesday evening. Mayor Jones will speak on the subject of Woodcraft with reference to the relation of the circle and the benefit given work of it. At the recent head camp convention jurisdiction of Georgia, held at Athens, Mayor Jones was elected as one of the delegates at large to the sovereign camp "W. O. W." which convenes at St. Paul, Minn. He said it is the purpose of the Georgia delegation to the sovereign camp to make a strong pull to bring the sovereign camp convention to the city of Atlanta.

AUSTRIANS ARE BARRED FROM UNITED STATES

WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS FORCE WAY TO WILSON

But Are Quickly Hunted Away by Secret Service Men. Wilson Smiled.

New York, May 17.—Two women, suffragists, eluded the heavy guard stationed in the hotel, reached the floor where President Wilson was at luncheon today and managed to see Secretary Tamm, and gave him a letter to be delivered to the president. Mr. Tamm told the women they were impolite, and would receive no answer to the letter. The letter was written on stationery of the national executive committee of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage and appealed to the president for his "powerful aid to remove the political disabilities of women." The women went to the lobby of the hotel and waited there. They told newspaper reporters it would be useless for the president to attempt to elude them. "If necessary, we'll hire a tug and go out to the Mayflower to see him," one of them said. Later they made their way back to an ante room adjoining the room where the luncheon was held, and when the president stepped out they confronted him, exclaiming: "Votes for women! Votes for women!" Mr. President, we have a message for you further in their appeal. Four secret service men seized them and quickly took them away. The president smiled.

SMALL BOY'S CAP FED TO ELEPHANT AND FINE RESULTS

Being drunk in Grant park is bad enough, thought Recorder Johnson Monday, but when one of a quartet arrested for that offense feeds a small boy's cap to the elephant, their conduct is most disorderly, and they were all consequently fined $5.75 apiece. E. B. McRaven, A. P. Robinson, Y. Price and R. D. Chaffin were strolling through the park, all more or less under the influence of whisky, it is charged. One of them, not satisfied with the entertainment offered by the antics of the monkey in the cage, took a small boy's cap, it is stated, and gave it to the elephant, who reached out with his trunk, and after tossing it around, threw it under him. The boy, crying, was appeased when one of the party paid him for his cap. But they couldn't pay the officers, who had them lodged in police headquarters.

Merriweather exonerated Terrence Williams and Harold C. Burr, who were arrested with him.

HOLD TO COTTON.

Every Chamber of Commerce every Board of Trade every civic organization interested in the progress and upbuilding of the south should at once send a telegram of protest to the United States postoffice department in Washington against its proposed substitution of jute sacks for cotton duck in the handling of freight mail.

I am advised by the fourth assistant postmaster general (division of supplies) that he contemplates the abandonment of the use of mail sacks for freight shipments and substituting therefor jute sacks.

It is well known that the ordinary mail sack is made of cotton duck yet here is a proposal coming direct from the postoffice department itself to abandon the use of the cotton duck sack for a large proportion of its business and to substitute the jute sack for it—a direct reversal of the policy which the newspapers the business men and the statesmen of the country have been preaching for the past year or more.

We cannot believe that this matter has come to the attention of Postmaster General Burleson it is difficult to conceive that he would have given such an order, and we shall continue to feel, until notified to the contrary, that when it is brought to his attention, he will countermand it.

It is not long since the national post office department took up the proposal to use cotton twine in place of jute and advertised widely for bids upon large supplies of it. No one spoke more emphatically in praise of that action than The Constitution, which had previously adopted cotton twine in its own business.

Knowing departmental views upon the subject, we can but feel that some mistake has been made in giving this order to substitute jute for cotton mail sacks. It is error, however, which it will not do to overlook, for when the new contract is made it would probably be difficult to set it aside.

BACK ON OUR FEET AGAIN.

Atlanta's bank clearings of $13,072,000 for the week ending Saturday, May 15, were three-tenths of one per cent greater than those for the same week of the preceding year.

the outbreak of the European war we have gone ahead of the same week of last year. Coincident with the southern cotton crisis and the general business depression following the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, Atlanta's bank clearings, along with those of every other city in the country, were seriously affected.

It is only a few weeks since restoration was announced in Atlanta's postoffice receipts, now her bank clearings have come back, and the combination tells its own story. We are back on the business ladder and are mounting it, along with most of the rest of the country. Better business has come to stay.

TRIPLING WITH ITALY.

If the most astute of Italian statesmen had started in to bungle Italian plans with regard to entering the European war he could not have succeeded half so well as some one has done—perhaps there were several involved in it—without intention.

Was it Prince von Buelow, who, up to this time, has outtalked and outstated mannaed Italy? It looks very much as if the shrewd German politician has been the cause of that delay, every day of which has meant greater difficulty for Italy when the final crisis comes.

Italy began to mobilize her armies and recruit them to their war strength almost simultaneously with the declaration of hostilities. It was known in the early days of the war that Italy had fallen away from the triple alliance.

We may take it that in the early days of the war Italy was merely preparing for eventualities. But for the last six months there hasn't been a day but it was apparent that Italy's ultimate participation was inevitable. It has not been a question of which side, that has never figured. The opportunity to get back her provinces, lost to Austria more than half a century ago was too good, the desire to participate in whatever reformation of the European map may follow peacemaking was an incentive almost equally great.

The people of Italy have been for war from the very start. Favoring participation almost at the outset this sentiment has grown until it has become a public demand for war, threatening revolution and the establishment of a republic as an alternative. Thus has pressure been brought to bear upon the throne until war is the only course left to it its very life is at stake.

While the Italian government has thus far permitted itself to be hoodwinked by German diplomacy while it has pretended to barter with Austria its semblance of a neutrality which the Italian people have never recognized or sanctioned, Austria and Germany have been preparing to meet the onslaught when it does come.

Italy's war plans may, doubtless, will meet with ultimate success, but she has lost valuable time. If she had followed the inevitable six months ago we might have seen the end of the war today, it would at least have been in sight.

We do not undertake to say at this distance whose is the responsibility, but some body has blundered. And every day's delay makes matters worse for Italy and helps Austria and Germany just that much.

What was formerly called a defeat in battle is now listed as "retirement for strategic reasons."

The world-wonder is how Italy can preserve her equilibrium on such an unstable fence.

Mr Perkins is quoted as saying that he is "an unshaken progressive." But wasn't he the Plum Tree of the original campaign?

Doubtless Supreme Court Justice Hughes thinks that well enough is better than the ever illusive "more in sight."

And still the world war is doing its brutal best to fulfill predictions of the end of the world.

It was a world-goodbye with a sigh in it when it came to John Bunny, laugh-maker and light maker.

A Missouri town is celebrating a "pay up week." People are believing more and more in the early end of the world.

Lays Blame on the Fish.

(From The New York World) Four young men were fishing yesterday afternoon on the banks of the creek. None seemed to know much about fishing or fish, and all were making wagers on who would make the first and largest catch.

"I win all bets," he cried laughing. "I just seen a fish in my net, caught the lucky fisherman by the coat lapel and cried 'You are under arrest!'"

"You are under arrest?" "For catching a fish out of season? What sort of fish is it?" asked Meljeher.

"It's a bass, and catching it at this time is a violation of the game laws. I thought it was a what? Well, he displayed his badge.

"So this is a bass," remarked Meljeher. "I don't know a bass from a catfish and wasn't fishing for this bass, anyhow. If he was out of season he broke the law by coming along here and biting at my hook."

75 CARS EXPECTED IN BIG AUTO TOUR TO SEE THE STATE

There will be at least seventy-five cars in the "Seeing Georgia" tour, which starts in Atlanta May 23 and ends in the city on May 27.

Quitman is preparing to entertain 20,000 visitors on May 25 and 26, when there will be held the Annual Industry convention.

The Georgia and Florida railroad has announced that it will run a special from Valdosta to Quitman during the convention.

The Gulf Refining company has agreed to furnish free of cost all the gasoline that may be needed for the tour on the four days.

This much was announced last night when the general committee of the tour met to hear reports on progress.

The committee on entries announced that many ladies would be on the tour and that provisions had been made for their entertainment.

Wylie Wgst, chairman of the committee on entertainment, stated that many cars might not have their full complement of passengers and that he desired all persons with cars to telephone him at Ivy 1134 if they had room for extra passengers.

It was stated that all the cities and towns along the route had made arrangements to entertain the visitors and that hotels would furnish ample accommodations.

Besides the passenger cars there will be on the tour, there will be two motorcycles and one truck. Cars have been entered from all the towns to be visited which will join the cars from Atlanta.

Among the large number who have signified their intention of taking the trip are about forty ladies.

Japan's Monroe Doctrine.

(From The Independent) Was between China and Japan is asserted Japan's ultimatum under the resolution of Alhambra.

Japan's first four groups of demands are: First, that Japan promises to return Kiao-chow to China while retaining commercial rights there.

Second, that Japan's rights in Manchuria and Mongolia be more specifically defined and in some instances extended.

Third, that nine special mining areas in China be opened to the Japanese.

Fourth, that China agree not to cede or lease to a third power any harbor bay or islands along the coast of China.

The demands in group five which are wanted by Japan include the employment of Japanese as political, financial and military advisers of China.

China's attitude toward these demands is discussed in detail in two important articles published elsewhere in this issue.

On the other hand Japan has no more right to impair China's sovereignty or exclusively exploit her commerce than we have that of Venezuela.

We believe that when the negotiations are finally concluded it will be found that Japan will be unable to do so.

The United States wants to see China free to determine her own government and to develop herself without let or hindrance from other nations.

What shall we ask of Germany and what shall we do if Germany refuses our demand? After temperately and calmly pointing out all the causes for complaint the following might be proposed.

1. Denial by the imperial German government of the proceedings which have resulted in the killing of American citizens and loss of an American ship, and full apology therefor.

2. Agreement to indemnify all citizens who have been injured and the families of those who have been killed and to pay for American property destroyed.

3. Agreement that the United States vessels traversing the war zone shall not be molested that display of the American flag shall be sufficient evidence of nationality and the right of search is not exercised, and that merchant vessels carrying American citizens under American flag shall not be sunk as was the "Lusitania."

4. In the event of the refusal of these demands we might suggest that Germany: 1. Sever diplomatic relations with Germany. 2. Prohibit intercourse of every sort with Germany.

MICHIGAN COMMISSIONERS PRESENT STATE'S CLAIMS FOR DIXIE HIGHWAY

South Bend, Ind., May 17.—(Special)—The Michigan commissioners of the Dixie Highway, who were recently appointed by Governor Woodbridge W. Ferris, now serving his second term as the democratic governor of a republican state, upon the invitation of Governor S. M. Halston, of Indiana, chairman of the governors' conference, met with the Indiana commissioners, Thomas Taggart and Carl G. Fisher, in this city last week and at a meeting attended by representatives of many cities, set forth the claims of Michigan for consideration by the Dixie Highway association.

"From the Gulf to the Straits was the slogan sounded by the visitors, it being pointed out that all the trans-continental highways are from ocean to ocean and not from one city to another and the further fact that this one great highway from the north to the south should go to the very border of the country and not stop short at some point in the interior. Michigan is the great summer resort county for thousands of southern people who would come by motor car were the route extended to include this state.

Both Mr Hamilton and Mr Conner told of the West Michigan pike which was begun four years ago and over which a good roadway is now assured the entire way a road from South Bend, to the state line six miles extending from St Joseph Lake Shore All the Way—in fact in sight of the water to the straits of Mackinaw passing through a most picturesque country. Mr Brown made a technical address on the use of various materials in highway construction.

In responding both Mr Taggart and Mr Fisher as well as Mr W & Giltbreath who accompanied them talked of the great national importance of the Dixie highway, dwelling on it from the broadest standpoint. They both expressed themselves as impressed with the desirability of continuing the highway on the northern Michigan with a terminus at Mackinaw both of them being personally familiar with the country.

Mr Fisher told in detail of the amount of road building being done in the south and the large sums being appropriated especially for the Dixie highway. A telegram after the program being read telling of elections and the progress of the work.

Truly the south is leading in this great work and should furnish an inspiration for a very northern state in highway construction he said.

Designs submitted by W J Hayward a local architect of the firm of Edwards & Hayward for two of the buildings of the Southeastern Fair association to be held at Lakewood park Atlanta were accepted Monday by the fair association directors who held a meeting at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Mr Hayward's designs were chosen from a number of designs submitted by architects from all over Georgia for the best design for buildings for the fair and as being the best for expediency appearance and cost.

The Georgia chapter American Institute of Architects, it will be remembered recently made a very liberal offer when the fair association was being organized to contribute their services free of charge and the directors felt that in accepting the plans presented they have the very best that could be secured.

Mr Hayward's designs were submitted to a committee of architects composed of A Ten Eyck Brown, architect and others, who selected his plans as the best.

Another important announcement of local interest to the laboring classes was made at Monday's meeting. The directors passed a resolution declaring that it would be the policy of the fair association in the erection of fair buildings and other work incident thereto to employ citizens of Fulton county in so far as practicable.

Grading of the fair grounds at Lakewood has already begun and it is expected that the actual construction of the buildings will be started within a few days.

It was taken at a reasonable rate as construction engineer of the fair buildings. The directors passed Mr Walker's offer up to the building committee which meets today.

PHILIP T COLEGROVE, OF HASTINGS, NEW

Philip T Colegrove, of Hastings, new arriving his sixth term as president of the Michigan Good Roads association and Frank Hamilton, vice president of the West Michigan Pike association. They were accompanied by Louis H Conger secretary of the West Michigan Pike association and Albah W Brown, of Grand Rapids chairman of the Kent County Highway commission.

All of these men have been active in the highway movement for many years.

Mr Colegrove told of the Michigan law and the detailed effects in various localities, and more especially dwelt on how the present laws were secured.

DESIGNS FOR TWO FAIR BUILDINGS ACCEPTED BY COMMISSION MONDAY

Designs submitted by W J Hayward a local architect of the firm of Edwards & Hayward for two of the buildings of the Southeastern Fair association to be held at Lakewood park Atlanta were accepted Monday by the fair association directors who held a meeting at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Mr Hayward's designs were chosen from a number of designs submitted by architects from all over Georgia for the best design for buildings for the fair and as being the best for expediency appearance and cost.

Grading of the fair grounds at Lakewood has already begun and it is expected that the actual construction of the buildings will be started within a few days.

It was taken at a reasonable rate as construction engineer of the fair buildings. The directors passed Mr Walker's offer up to the building committee which meets today.

According to the designs submitted by architect Hayward the main group of fair buildings will occupy the high ground containing the large lake. This group will consist of three principal buildings arranged about a court of honor opening to the northeast and offering an extended outlook over the big body of water at Lakewood.

The court will be treated with a sunken garden containing a large basin of water which it is contemplated is to lead out and fall gently through cascades to the main body of the lake.

The character of buildings will be of a Spanish mission type of architecture, finished with a tiled roof with red Spanish tile copings. Plantings will be called into use very largely to enhance the setting.

The buildings will be constructed in as nearly fireproof manner as seems expedient with the funds available and purpose of the fair. The construction will be of reinforced concrete frame as a skeleton construction with curtain walls of hollow tile stuccoed.

The buildings will be lighted both by side light and by a clerestory extending the whole length of the buildings.

INTERNATIONAL HEALTH COMMISSION MEETS IN ATLANTA THIS MORNING

A most important discussion of medical topics relating to conditions in the south will be held by the international health commission and representatives of state boards of health from eleven southern states at their meetings in the Annley hotel today and Wednesday.

Among the Georgians who will take part in the discussions of these distinguished health experts are Dr F D Rogers field inspector state board of health who has been so successful in hookworm work and community work.

Dr A C Ford director of field sanitation state board of health and Dr H P Harris, secretary state board of health under whose administration the health laboratory of Georgia has prepared for free distribution more vaccines anti-toxins and anti rabitic lymph than in any other state.

Among the members of the commission who will be present are Dr Wecliffe Rose former professor of pathology at Nashville, Tenn., Dr John A. Forrell a specialist in hookworm disease research, Dr Olin West, of the state board of health of Tennessee, Dr Ennon Williams, state board of health of Virginia, Dr Oscar Dowling, state board of health of Louisiana and Dr E. L. Flanagan state health officer of Virginia.

The international health commission has a foundation of a hundred million dollars given by John D Rockefeller and has already accomplished work of world-wide importance. It is largely an outgrowth of the idea that prompted Mr Rockefeller to give a million dollars to the eradication of the hookworm in the south and has taken over the surplus of that fund.

Dr Rose who has actively directed the work of the commission in the south has just returned from a study of conditions of destitution in Belgium.

Satisfaction About Diamonds

When you make a diamond purchase here you have the assurance of knowing that our diamonds are correctly graded, and that the weights are exactly as marked.

Our diamond expert has been with us 28 years his grading is in exact accordance with standard classifications. As his grading and weighing is carefully verified by our Mr. Maier, we guarantee both weights and grades of all diamonds sold by us.

For the same quality of diamonds we don't believe it possible for any house to lower our prices. We buy in large enough quantities to deal direct with the cutters. This advantage alone saves us from 10 to 15 per cent usually paid by small dealers, who must necessarily buy in small lots from jobbers.

Examine our grades and prices. Selections sent on approval by prepaid express to reliable people anywhere.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN ON WOODWARD'S VETO

Mayor Refuses to Allow Teachers Credit for Work Done Outside the City.

Mayor Woodward's veto of a resolution allowing the board of education to give service credit to teachers for work done outside of the city, was read by council Monday afternoon and ordered filed. No attempt was made to override the veto.

Notice was given that the committee on charter revision would meet on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock when all matters pertaining to charter amendments and charter revision would be taken up and acted upon.

A resolution was introduced by Alderman Thomson requesting the tax assessors to review the tax digest and revise the assessments on all properties belonging to churches and charitable organizations. The resolution also called for a review of the property belonging to churches and associations which are not now on the tax digest. The paper was referred to the tax commission.

Dan W. Green from the third ward and James L. Key from the fourth ward were unanimously elected as members of the board of education.

Dr. K. G. Matheson from the sixth ward and W. B. Disbrow from the seventh ward were unanimously elected as trustees of the Carnegie library.

The following appointments were announced by the mayor and confirmed by council:

As members of the board of lady visitors of the public schools Mrs. Perry Blackshear from the first ward, Mrs. A. K. Knight from the fifth ward, Mrs. C. R. Landorpe from the tenth ward.

NO WAR FOR HIM; HOLLANDER HERE LOOKING FOR JOB

Im neutral was the way Arthur von Nissen, of Maastricht, Holland, who called Monday upon Dr. P. E. May, French consul, explained his presence in Atlanta.

Von Nissen a Dutch youth of 22 years stated that he fled Rotterdam six weeks ago and arrived in Atlanta on Monday, via Rio de Janeiro, Havana, Key West and Jacksonville.

The earnest quest of Von Nissen just now is work.

Life was asked whether there was work in Holland.

Plenty of it, he said, "but they wanted me to fight. That sort of work is too hot for me."

Von Nissen was in Antwerp at the outbreak of the war, he said. It would seem that he made his initial stake by posing as a Belgian, whereupon he was notified that his services were in demand to face the guns of the Germans.

He remained however, he said, in Antwerp until after its occupation by the Germans and then made his way back to Holland but there was still so much insistence that he become other than mere onlooker that he deemed it wise to seek greater work.

Posing as a Swede he said he boarded a steamer at Rotterdam which landed him in Rio by a schooner he then came to Havana.

How is Antwerp? he said. Just like Atlanta, except it is German all the way through. The Germans have rebuilt the buildings they demolished and the German women are coming back and being put to work by the Germans. All preparations on the part of Germany in Antwerp look toward the day when it will be a city of the German empire.

Palm Beach Cloth Analyzed

The filling yarn used in the making of "Genuine Palm Beach" Cloth is of Mohair Fiber, made from the hair of the Angora Goat.

The actual construction is quite different from that of any known mohair texture.

The weaving process is like that employed in expensive worsteds, in which two-ply warp and filling are used to give a smooth, even balance and just enough luster.

The "Genuine Palm Beach" Cloth passes through twenty-three unique processes before being finished.

The "Genuine Palm Beach" is a distinctive fabric, which because of its crispness, coolness, washing and tailoring qualities, is perhaps the most practical discovery of modern times in the men's wear field.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. OLDKNOW TAKE PLACE TODAY

A host of friends in Atlanta and other sections of the country are extending sympathy to William Oldknow, in the death Sunday of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald Oldknow. She took a deep interest in the worthy poor of the city, was active in church work and endeared herself to many who are grieved over her death.

Mrs. Oldknow was born and reared in Manchester, England, but had resided in Atlanta many years. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Oscar Oldknow, by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Wheeler; two sisters, Mrs. John Topham and Mrs. H. G. Roffe, and one brother, Alexander Wheeler.

Her husband, who has for many years been prominently identified with the business interests of Atlanta, and who is prominent in moving picture circles, is southern representative of the Universal Film company.

Turned "Blind Tiger" In Order to Take Care Of Wife and Children

On a little farm in Dawson county lives the family of C. G. Bobo, his wife and three small children, who will wonder, until the arrival of the news, what has become of their husband and father Bobo is in a cell at police headquarters, arrested because of his efforts to provide for them.

Bobo was bound over Monday by Recorder Johnson for selling spirituous and malt liquors on a fine bond. He said that he had been asked for money, and that friends asked him why he didn't bring some of that "good corn liquor" they understood people had in his district. He stated he mortgaged his only Atlanta property.

A young boy, who accompanied Bobo from his home to Atlanta, was also arrested, but released on a plea from Bobo, who said he had nothing what ever to do with the whiskey. The boy drove Bobo's wagon home, and will bear the tidings to the little family.

ALLEGED THIEF TRAILED BY BLOODY FOOTPRINTS

Tracked by four officers for over a mile by his bloody footprints, Henry Payne, Jr., a 21-year-old negro boy, was bound over in Recorder Johnson's court Monday on $5,000 bond on a charge of highway robbery.

It was alleged that Payne held up with a knife at his throat F. H. Lubanks, of East Point, a young white man, and robbed him of $3.55, afterward splitting up his spoils with two negro women. He was chased by Lubanks and afterward shot by some unknown person in the ankle. Officers who arrived shortly afterward, tracked him for over a mile, from the corner of Madison avenue and Hunter, to Whitehall and Cooper, where he was seized by Eubanks, but denied that he held him up, saying Eubanks gave him the money.

TALKING IN CHURCH RESULTS IN TRIAL OF THREE YOUTHS

When Rev. John N. Green, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness church at 795 Marietta street, is unable to make boys stop talking during his endeavor to save souls, he has them arrested. Consequently, three youths were brought before Recorder Johnson Monday, charged with disorderly conduct.

It was alleged the boys talked loudly during services, and that one of them pretended to get religion, but flirted atrociously on the platform with one of the young ladies. Dr. Green said, saying souls was most difficult when police duties interfered, and said that when the good souls who "got religion" began shouting, the boys would cool their religious fever by very audible snickers and fan-making.

Recorder Johnson said he couldn't make criminals out of mischievous boys, and told the church people who appeared against them that they couldn't expect them to comport themselves like grown people.

The boys, who were Morgan McGraw, Paul Gentry and Will Collins, were released.

WHAT IS A TRADING STATEMENT?

It should be designed to show the Gross Profits on trading. That is, the excess of the amount charged for goods sold over their purchase price, together with any expenses attendant on their acquisition. A grocery firm, for instance, prepares a Trading Statement at the end of the year to show what it has made or lost by selling goods. In preparing such a statement the services of a Certified Public Accountant are valuable in locating leaks and tightening loose joints.
